

THE WAITERS' ASSOCIATION

The Waiters' Association held their regular meeting last Monday night, about fifty members being present.

Mr. S. L. Vaughn of St. Louis, now on the U. P., was a visitor and gave us a short address on a very timely subject, "Asset to an Individual is Qualification".

Mr. W. H. Kirby, the classy manager of the Waiters' association, who has been confined at home for ten days with illness is now quite recuperated and on the job as he has the association at heart.

Mr. Cal Spriggs addressed the waiters at the Brandeis Tea room Monday night on a up-to-the-minute topic.

Mr. James Pace is back on his job in charge of the grill room at the Field club where he has been for a number of years.

Through the instrumentality of the Waiters' association upward of two hundred men were put to work last week. This is an evidence of what co-operation means.

Some entertain the idea that a waiter's position is degrading or inferior to a man, but we claim that any position is honorable where an honest living is obtained. It takes an intelligent man to be first-class waiter as much as it does an educated man to be a bank clerk, therefore learn to honor your position.

Mr. L. W. King of the U. P. was a visitor at the Waiters' association rooms this week. Mr. King will leave in a few days for Lake Geneva, Wis., where he is manager of one of the largest and most up-to-date hotels on the lakes in this country.

We regret to note that Mr. A. C. Brown, one of the founders and prime members of this association, left Tuesday night for St. Paul with his orchestra for an indefinite stay. We wish him success in this field of labor.

Mr. H. W. Scott of the Athletic Club gave a good talk before the Waiters' association last Monday night on the subject "Be Men, Be Loyal to Your Obligations and True to Your Word", which was well defined.

Mr. W. E. Jones, the agreeable steward at the Waiters' association, is serving everything in season. His speciality is home cooking.

W. W. Taylor will go to Lincoln Inn, Lake Geneva, Wis., this Summer, as second cook.

Ervin Cooper reviewed the life of Col. Young, giving full details of his life from the time of his birth to the time of his death; stressing particularly the hardships he endured at West Point—telling of the good he had done for Wilberforce—telling of the clean wholesome life he lived as a soldier, distinguished by advancement—telling of the discrimination of the war department, preventing him from leading Negro troops across the fields of France during the world war and concluded his speech by telling of his services rendered in Africa where his life was terminated while on official duty.

SPECIAL TRAINING FOR RECREATION WORKERS.

(By Eustace Gay)

Philadelphia, Pa., April 9.—(By The Associated Negro Press)—Announcement has just been made by E. T. Atwell, director of the recreational work among colored people, to the effect that again this year, as has been true for several seasons in the past, the nationally known agency of Community Service, maintained by the Playground and Recreation Association of America, is to hold a training school for colored workers who are rendering service locally in connection with community centers and community programs and playgrounds for colored people. This training school will be held in Chicago June 29th to July 18th. These schools have been found to be valuable not only to the individuals who attend, but indirectly help in the development of the work in various communities where such workers are employed.

The course includes not only training for leadership in social recreation, play and games, community music, dramatics and pageantry, but also instruction in organization, administration and financing of community recreational programs, playground and community centers.
