

OPERATION MAKES "TOMBOY" NORMAL

Disorder of Ductless Glands Found to Be Cause.

Washington.—How a beautiful girl took on masculine characteristics as a result of a disorder of her ductless glands and then had her feminine traits restored by surgery was described here by Dr. John J. Abel, professor at Johns Hopkins university at Baltimore.

Until the girl was twenty-four her family and the most eminent physicians of England were mystified by her strange masculine traits.

It was then discovered that she was suffering from a tumor on one of her adrenal glands.

When the tumor was removed by a delicate operation, the girl's feminine traits began to reappear within thirty-six days. In three years she had changed back again to a normal woman.

The adrenal glands, it was explained, are a pair of small ductless bodies of unknown function.

In a paper called "Some Recent Advances in Our Knowledge of the Ductless Glands," Doctor Abel discussed why a stimulus of the adrenal glands will shoot substance into the blood that will make one's hair stand on end.

Some scientific investigators, he said, contend that this substance mobilizes the sugar in the human system to furnish extra energy in time of danger for fight or flight.

Excessive secretions in the pituitary gland, a two-lobed, ductless gland forming an integral part of the brain, may result in a complete change in one's appearance within a dozen years by producing large hands or feet or large features, the doctor said.

A shortage of the same secretions, he said, makes men fat.

Centennial Clock Will Tell Time to Iowans

Albany.—The tower clock which was awarded first prize at the Centennial exposition at Philadelphia in 1876 has found a permanent home in the new campanile being erected on the campus of the State Teachers' college at Cedar Falls, Iowa.

The clock, built by the late Charles Fasoold of this city, has been in the possession of the Fasoold family until the present time.

When everything will be complete when everyone can lie down to sleep, to dream or wonder, we shall say: This is the work of Dr. Day.

When the old church bell, high in its tower, Begins to chime to us the hour, We will begin to make a haste To do our part and fill the space.

Wait just one minute, I'm not quite through, There's so much yet we have to do Through our clubs and groups we're gay In building up the King's highway.

Twinkle, twinkle, Mt. Moriah, How they will wonder what you are Up above the walks so high, Just like a diamond in the sky.

When the glorious choir will sing, When prayer and sermon will ring, Then you will be showing your glorious lights, So twinkle, all the nights.

On Ohio at Twenty-fourth they'll keep The children from the dangerous street, For never will you close your door Until the pews can hold no more.

For bright and powerful is your spark To guide the pedestrians in the dark, For shine it must as a beacon light, Along the narrow path of truth and right.

As a final remark, we can but say: "Oh Lord! Thy blessings heap on Dr. Day, That he may lead us from all wrong With Mt. Moriah in pray'r and song." (Adv.) —By Lonsetta Biddeux.

Cash Diverted From Bier to Give Homes to Poor

Stockholm.—Happy homes for the living instead of flowers for the dead is the aim of the Swedish "Flower Fund" drive that has just scored its first signal triumph in the laying of the cornerstone of a large building designed exclusively for the aged and infirm, who otherwise might have to end their days in the poorhouse.

The idea of such a fund was launched about four years ago by Miss Alma Hedin, sister of Sven Hedin, the explorer, and now, thanks to many small contributions in lieu of floral tributes at funerals, enough money has been procured to guarantee the financing of the first building. Others will be started later.

Rays Emanated from Eyes Show Electric Power

London.—There is a definite natural force emanating from the human eye with which it is possible to set a minute electrical engine in motion, according to the startling discovery of the English scientist, Doctor Rusa.

Doctor Rusa, after ten years of experimenting in this field, has just discovered amazing proof that the human eye gives off a magnetic ray powerful enough to affect a tiny instrument and keep it running by merely staring at it.

Death Ends Dog's Long Vigil at Master's Tomb

Lancaster, Ohio.—Death has ended the long vigil of Nero, a dog who died on his master's grave in a lonely cemetery here.

His owner, Charles Farmer, was shot to death last July in a gun fight with prohibition officers. Nero followed the funeral procession to the cemetery, where he kept watch daily, leaving the grave at short intervals for food. All efforts to coax the dog away failed.

A boulder now marks the grave of Nero. Ministers in their sermons referred, just as they have in the past six months, to the love and devotion of Nero for his master.

THE PASTOR AND THE LITTLE CHURCH

Dedicated to Dr. G. W. Day.

Hurrah! Hurrah! for Dr. Day, Who by chance came this way To take this charge into his hands And who with love has made these plans:

To build a new and better place,

AMONG THE WAITERS AND RAILROAD MEN

The Waiters' Association held their regular meeting Monday night at their club rooms, 2427 Lake street, with President Devereaux in the chair. Business of great importance to the organization was transacted.

Duke Anderson, Raymond Davis, R. B. Hill of the Fontenelle Hotel are staunch members of the Waiters' Association.

At the last meeting of the Waiters' Association of Omaha the following resolution was adopted: "In the death of Mr. Luther Kountze, a distinguished citizen who has gone to his reward, we realize that we have lost a staunch friend and well wisher. We, the members of the Waiters' Association of Omaha, shall miss his smiling countenance, good cheer and words of encouragement that came from his long experience and study of human nature. We shall no longer be privileged to enjoy the benefits of his counsel and untiring energy on all questions that have for their purpose the betterment of our association."

William Johnson of Minneapolis is a member of the Waiters' Association and is very much impressed with Omaha.

J. D. Johnson of the Brandeis Restaurant left last week on an extended business trip to Des Moines, Ia. He will also visit through Missouri and other southern cities. Mr. Johnson will return in about ten days to the Omaha Country club where he has spent many seasons.
