"GYM AND JERRY", AN AMUSING HEALTH SKIT PLEASES AND INSTRUCTS

Health Movies and an Amusing Play Enjoyed by an Appreciative Audience at the North Side "Y".

Monday night the assembly room of the North Side Branch of the Y. W. C. A. was filled by an appreciative audience which enjoyed a most delightful, amusing and instructive program. This was one of the features of "Health Education Week."

The program opened with the showing of health movies, showing the importance of the care of the feet, by the wearing of sensible shoes, and the correction of feet troubles; the necessity of recreation and care of the body.

Following the movies was the presentation of an amusing and clever health skit, entitled "Gym and Jerry", which was admirably done, each participant throwing herself into the spirit of her impersonation. The plot centers around "Jerry" who "hates health", is indifferent as to her posture and becomes stoop-shouldered, abuses her feet by wearing "stylish" narrow pointed shoes; injures her stomach by an indifferent and careless diet; becomes overweight by laziness and lack of exercise and recreation. For these "crimes" she is brought before the judge and the abused members of her body testify against her. She is condemned but paroled on promise of amendment.

Mrs. Fred Divers took a dual character, owing to the illness of one of the members, impersonating "Ruth", Jerry's roommate and the judge. Her interpretation of these roles was excellent. Mrs. Herbert Wiggins as "Jerry" could not have been improved upon. "Dot" was well done by Mrs. Freddie Porter. Mrs. Elsie Turner as "Posture", Mrs. Pharr as "Weight", Miss Pharr as "Feet" and Miss Hazel Roulette as "Stomach" were well chosen and acted their parts well. Mrs. B. B. Cowan as "Something Else" was good, as were also the Recreation Spirits which were represented by the Misses Hortense Fisher, Grace Adams, Melva McCaw and Ernestine Singleton.

A SONG OF SPRING (By Selma Gordon)

We are thankful, Holy Savior, For every day we live, And for the many blessings That Thou seest fit to give.

We praise the different seasons That come in Thine own time, Bringing with them every probate Of Thy power—all sublime.

Spring with its joyful waking Has hastened winter's chill, Has opened the door of Nature And entered with joys to fill.

The blossoms on the fruit trees, The mildness of the air, The merry songs of warblers Are enjoyed, yes, everywhere.

The rivers, hills and woodlands Re-echo Thy great strength, The clear blue sky above us Has an all infinite length.

The beauty of the sun light Displays Thy glorious good, The meadows fields and valleys, Doth produce for us a food.

We thank Thee for all nature, May our lives be spared to see The other different seasons With their grandeur all from Thee.
