

THE AK-SAR-BEN RACES
BIG JUNE ATTRACTION

Out at Ak-Sar-Ben Field, backed by Omaha's Big Boosters' Institution, there are signs of activity, which presages the return of thorough-breds June 3rd to the 27th.

Ak-Sar-Ben is planning another big running race program that will be second to none in the west. More than $105,000 in purses will be hung up for the horsemen at this coming meeting and advance reservations indicate that horses from every state in the Union and from Mexico and Canada will take part in this monster program.

The sport of horse racing is becoming more and more popular with the public. The wonderful mile track at Ak-Sar-Ben Field and the arrangement of the grand stand with a seating capacity of 10,000, are such that every movement of the horses on the track can be seen. Some of the finest stables in the country will contest for the handicap purses. In fact, now quartered at Ak-Sar-Ben Field, in a big box stall, is Phusla, the $100,000 French speed marvel.

The following are the big events and the days on which they will be run:

The Speed Inaugural (Handicap) Wednesday, June 3rd; the Ak-Sar-Ben Queen's Plate Wednesday, June 10th; the Omaha Chamber of Commerce Stake (Handicap) Wednesday, June 17th; the Ak-Sar-Ben King's Cup (Handicap) Saturday, June 20th; the Nebraska (Handicap) Wednesday, June 24th; the Stock Yards Derby (Handicap) Saturday, June 27th.

There will be twenty-two days of wonderful racing with six or more races each day.

PREJUDICES NOT INHERITED

Washington, D. C., May 29—Tendencies toward thinking and acting in certain ways, which are called habits, are the outgrowth of training and experience. They are not inherited, says Dr. W. A. Thom, of Boston, who has written an interesting article on the subject of "Child Management" for the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. According to Dr. Thom, we begin to form habits at birth and go on through life, forming them quickly and easily in youth and more slowly and with difficulty as the years advance. "The morals of most of us are to a large extent," he continues, "the result of habits of thinking formed in early life. Most of our prejudices are the outcome of habits of thinking formed in childhood. Many persons as children develop a feeling about racial and religious differences which may lead in later life to intolerance and hatred toward their fellowmen. This same attitude of mind is seen in children toward their playmates who have the misfortune of being orphans, or the child whose mother is a scrubwoman or whose father is a garbage collector. Care should be taken to see that children are early taught kindness and consideration for those less fortunate, for unconsciously they will form their attitudes from the home atmosphere." Dr. Thom insists that our manners are a collection of habits and that we do a rude or a courteous thing almost without stopping to think.
