"NEGRO PSYCHOLOGY"

A warm friend said to us the other day, "You don't understand Negro psychology." We've been told the same thing before. This remark has started us thinking. Are the general laws of mind different in our racial group to that of others? We have always believed that the laws of mind were the same, modified indeed by one's national environment but operating in the same general grooves. We can understand how an oriental looks at one thing one way and an occidental another. We can understand that there can be an "American mind," and a "British mind" and a "German mind." We have been lead to believe that a man of African descent, or Negro, if you please, born and reared in the United States, or Great Britain or Germany would have a mind, or psychology moulded along the line of his environment and association, but that it should be different from that of another race variety under the same conditions we have questioned. Is there indeed such a thing as "Negro psychology?"

IN JEST OR EARNEST?

In the balloting for a school manager, some member of the Board of Education submitted the name of Tom Dennison, the alleged political boss of Omaha, painted by some as a veritable devil and by others as a saint. Some consider the submission of this name a joke, others as an outrage; but The Monitor opines that Tom Dennison, who has shown his ability as an organizer in other directions, were he chosen would be able to save the taxpayers money. He would be manager, and boss of the job, if all that is said of him is true. The name may have been submitted in jest or in earnest by some member of the Board of Education who from intimate knowledge may have respect for the business ability of the "political boss."

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Commends Editorial.

Omaha, Aug. 2.—To the Editor of The Monitor: Your excellent editorial in your issue of July 30 has been read with pleasure and profit. I endorse every word and I wish to commend you most heartily for your wise, sane and unbiased expression concerning the political situation and the candidates whom you urge our people to get unitedly behind and support, without dodging behind this flimsy excuse and that because there may be some little thing about them which they do not like. The Bible always gives us both sides of a man's character, take for example Abraham and David, pointing out their faults as well as their virtues, and showing by contrast that their virtues far outweigh their vices or faults, and I think if this plan were more generally carried out today we would be a great deal better off. Your editorials are doing good in making us think and see things in their true light and because of this I am constrained to send you this word of hearty commendation.

M. H. WILKINSON,
Pastor Spring Hill Baptist Church.

Asks Support for Endres.

Omaha, July 28.—To the Editor of The Monitor: Allow me a little space in your valuable paper in order that I may speak to my friends of the race who are registered Democratic why they should at this time support M. L. Endres, our present sheriff at the primary, August 10th, and make his nomination sure.

July 23rd, while on duty on 53rd and Center streets, regulating traffic to protect the citizens from speeders and other disorderly elements, I was run over by one of them in an automobile and for four months struggled between life—and death in Lord Lister hospital. When I finally came out of the hospital a cripple, and broken in my health, the county commissioners for some reason unknown to me, served notice upon Mr. Endres, sheriff, demanding my discharge. Mr. Endres refused to discharge me, told the county commissioners that I was hurt while performing my duty and the county should stand by me; whereupon they stopped my salary and for six months I worked without pay.

I had to appeal to the courts to help me; Mr. Endres stood by me and helped me in my fight to get justice. They dragged me from one court into another, expending the taxpayers' money, and finally the Supreme Court in a mandamus issued to the commissioners, forced them to pay the hospital, doctors, and pay me my salary.

I need not recite to you the details of my painful experiences; that I am still alive is a miracle. I now plead that you support and vote for Mr. Endres for sheriff on August 10th, the man who stood by me in my bitter struggle and who still employs me, and who always upholds the principles of justice for everyone. I assure you of my appreciation in helping to elect M. L. Endres on August 10th.

ISAAC KONECKY,
Deputy Sheriff.

JOSEPH KOUTSKY for Sheriff

For the voters' information, Mr. Koutsky started life in a sod house in Saunders county, Nebraska, in 1875, his parents being among the first homesteaders in the state, and he has lived in eastern Nebraska all of his life.

JOSEPH KOUTSKY, candidate for Sheriff on the Republican ticket, is now completing his second term as City Commissioner in charge of the Department of Public Improvements in the City of Omaha. During Mr. Koutsky's administration there has been laid over one-half the paved streets within the city and this was accomplished at from 25 to 40 per cent less than in any other city similarly situated in this country.

If Mr. Koutsky is elected sheriff, he wants the voters of Omaha and Douglas county to know that he will be the real sheriff, and will take full charge of the office entrusted to him. No individual or organization will dictate the policies of the sheriff's office.

Mr. Koutsky will conduct his campaign on the following principles:

First—Everyone connected with the sheriff's office must be honorable in his performance of duty.

Second—No inhuman treatment of prisoners will be tolerated.

Third—No home will ever be entered for the purpose of making a search without a warrant properly issued and based on reliable information.

Fourth—Mr. Koutsky guarantees to protect the rights of citizenship as provided in the constitution of the United States to all American citizens regardless of race, color or creed.

Fifth—A square deal for everybody" will be given under the personal supervision of Joseph Koutsky.

screen and her acting in this picture indicates that the honor is not undeserved. Certain it is that she possesses unusual talent and in this production she has a story admirably adapted to her personality.

The plot of "Yellow Fingers" concerns a beautiful half-caste girl who learns to love the man who has reared her from infancy as his own daughter. He does not suspect the nature of her affection for him and when he falls in love with another, a beautiful American girl, all the fiery jealousy of a woman scorned comes to the surface. Many of the scenes require emotional acting of the highest type and be it said for Miss Borden that she meets every requirement of a difficult role.

The supporting cast includes Ralph Ince, Claire Adams, Edward Piel, Otto Matieson, Nigel de Brulier and many other screen favorites. Emmett Flynn directed the picture from a scenario prepared by Eve Unsell.
