ARTICLE XIV, CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

Citizenship Rights Not to Be Abridged

1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

"ALWAYS A GENTLEMAN"

The death of Ledrue Galloway, former stellar athlete of Central High school, Omaha, and of the University of Iowa, at the early age of 22 years, has filled the hearts of hundreds of friends and admirers with genuine sorrow. It is safe to say that Central High School never had a more popular or beloved student than Ledrue Galloway. He made a record in scholarship and athletics. In athletics he was the outstanding man during his entire school career—in basketball, baseball, track and football. The esteem in which he was held as a clean upstanding athlete was well expressed in the O-Book of 1923, the year of his graduation, which said of him: "One of the cleanest fellows who ever hit the line," and by the sport writer of the World-Herald when he was unanimously chosen by coaches and critics as All-State Half-Back, in this brief tribute, "Galloway, always a gentleman on the field and off."

Entering the University of Iowa he won a place on the varsity squad, where he again distinguished himself. Like a bolt out of a clear sky came the discovery in his second year that he, with his splendid physique, had developed tuberculosis and he must give up his college career and go to Arizona. Unfortunately the "white plague," as it is called, had too firmly grasped him to be shaken off, and Wednesday he succumbed. It is always sad when the young and promising are called away and difficult for us to understand, but Infinite Wisdom and Love knows what is best for us all, and so we should never sorrow as those without hope.

Those who knew him, loved him and mourn his going, will cherish the memory of "Lee" and "Gangway," as his colleagues called him, as one who was "always a gentleman on the field and off."

DEPENDABLE LABOR

That's an interesting story which comes from Phoenix, Arizona, telling of the protest of labor unions against the importation of Porto Ricans to harvest the cotton crop. The objection is based upon the ground that this will lower American wages and standards. It is gratifying to note in this connection that moneyed interests realize the value of dependable black labor and see in it the solution to the labor shortage. Slowly, but surely, it will be eventually realized that in the sturdy arms and frames of her black citizens America has a loyal and dependable labor supply.

WHY NOT?

The election commissioner employs a large force of extra clerks in his office prior to and immediately succeeding elections. Why should he not give employment to some competent Negro men and women? Why not?

OMAHA SCHOOLS

Omaha schools have opened with an enlarged enrollment of pupils and a curtailment of 107 teachers from its corps of instructors. This means a mere nominal addition to the number of pupils to be taught by each teacher. There has been a large increase in the enrollment of colored children, which leads us to call attention to the fact that "mixed schools" are not really "mixed" until the teaching force is mixed. Let us keep up the demand for some qualified teachers from our group in Omaha public schools. We are taxed for their support and are entitled to representation. Let us not go to sleep on this issue.

LINCOLN ITEMS

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Wright, who died in a local hospital last Monday night, was held at the A. M. E. Church Thursday afternoon, Rev. M. C. Knight officiating. Several ministers assisted. The deceased is survived by a daughter, Florence; two sisters, Mrs. A. G. Smith of Lincoln, four brothers, one in Omaha, who was present at the funeral, and one in New Jersey. The remaining two are in the South. One sister, Mrs. McCaw at the old homestead in the South, and a number of other kin also survive her. The several lodges of which the deceased was a member turned out. Many members and friends were also in attendance.

Mr. Alex Morris is able to be up and around since his operation.

Mrs. Mary Morris is reported sick the past week.

Mrs. E. J. Griffin left Sunday for Fort Worth, Texas, to attend the Women's department of the National Baptist convention.

Miss Nellie Maston is reported somewhat better at this time.

A banquet was given in the dining room of Quinn chapel Monday night in honor of Bishop Carey, when absence of the honored guest was learned, the crowd was very much disappointed.

Bishop A. J. Carey, of Chicago, on his way to Salt Lake City, was the guest of Rev. M. C. Knight Sunday for a few hours. He preached at the opening of the new Quinn chapel, the services being enjoyed greatly by members and friends. An elaborate basket dinner was held at noon. Bishop Carey left Sunday night for Salt Lake City to meet with the annual conference of that district.

The annual conference will convene in Quinn chapel A. M. E. church here Tuesday, September 14. Quite a number of representatives and friends are expected.

Rev. H. W. Botts and Mr. N. B. Ashford left Monday for Fort Worth, Texas, to attend the National Baptist convention.

Mrs. Jennie Riley and her sister, Mrs. Telitha Street has returned to the city.

Mrs. Marie Copeland has returned home after a vacation with kinfolk in Kansas.
