MADAM LILLIAN EVANTI, FAMOUS OPERA SINGER WILL GIVE RECITAL

Omaha Music Lovers to Be Given Opportunity of Hearing Colored Girl Who Has Captivated Europeans.

Madam Lillian Evanti, the first colored woman to star in grand opera in Europe, and who has captivated European musical circles with her marvellous voice, will appear in a recital at the Technical High school auditorium, Wednesday night, October 27, under the auspices of the Episcopal Church of St. Philip the Deacon.

Madam Evanti, who is a native of Washington, D. C., before returning to Europe in November to fill engagements in grand opera is making a brief American tour and although she is well-known in the east where she has sung before capacity audiences, and is in great demand is making her first western trip and has been induced to include Omaha in her itinerary.

As an example of what foreign and American critics say of Madam Evanti it may be sufficient to quote from Le Courier Musicale of Paris, which says, "Madam Lillian Evanti sang with rare purity the grand air from 'La Traviata' and created a sensation, revealing the qualities which make great singers and displaying gifts of coloratura soprano which resounded like a pure crystal. Greatly applauded and recalled four times, she sang four American melodies with an innate grace and infinite charm."

The Washington Star says, "Lillian Evanti, a native Washingtonian, sang before an audience which not only packed the house, but listened attentively to a complete professional program of classical caliber. Madam Evanti has a well-trained voice of lyric quality. She sang the old airs of Handel and Scarlatti with admirable lagato phrasing."

This is a rare opportunity to hear one of the race's gifted singers which none ought to miss. In order to insure a large audience the admission has been placed at popular prices.

Wm. H. Smith of Seward, Nebraska For STATE AUDITOR

Candidate for election to the position of State Auditor of Nebraska, as the nominee on the democratic ticket.

He filled this position from 1915 to 1919, and in 1923-4 served as State Tax Commissioner. In 1913 he was a member of the State Senate, and in 1909 and 1911 was Secretary of the Senate. For almost thirty years his home has been at Seward, where he publishes the Seward Independent-Democrat.

The duties of the State Auditor, in part, are similar to those of the County Board and the County Clerk combined in the various counties, in that the Auditor passes on all claims against the state and issues the warrants in payment thereof. During his former term the total amount of claims paid annually was about $6,000,000, or $500,000 per month, while at the present time the claims total about $15,000,000 annually.

If his administration of public affairs has been satisfactory to you in the past and if you think he can be of service to the state as Auditor during the next two years, he will show his appreciation by giving faithful service in exchange for your support.
