The shows are constructed strictly along the lines dedicated to the "burlesque" field; with the result that the performances go with a snap and a bang that is said to be positively refreshing. "The Tempters" attraction which is 100 per cent Mutual every element that the circuit strived for is embedded in this big offering. Ed Jordan, and Elsie Raynor are the two featured performers who head an attractive coterie of funmakers, including Babe Bradley, Phillis DeRite,

Bill Stork

One of the greatest assets in business today is the ability to extend smiling, courteous service to everyone. All who have had occasion to shop at Hartman's beautiful furniture store and have been waited on by smiling "Billy" Stork have been fortunate indeed in getting a man who not only knows furniture from A to Z, but who is a great believer in "Service."

"Billy" is a typical Hartman salesman, always ready to help in selection, to give what advice the customer needs and in general to make the selection of an article or a suite or a complete home outfit an easier matter.

He has built up quite a following and wants to say here that he appreciates the patronage he has been given and that he's going to keep on giving the best Hartman service to all his friends. When it comes to low prices and easy terms, he says: "Hartman's can't be beat."

Beth Henderson, Art Mayfield, Leonard Kramer, Joe Matthews and Griff Williams. Fifteen scenes are promised, as well as twelve episodes and seven diversions, entitled "The Bare Facts and Temptations of the Day". The chorus of sixteen dancing girls is said to be extremely well chosen and the production, scenery, music, sketches and dances are said to be in strict accord with the high standard of excellence manifested by the management. In addition to the full and complete show there will be several added feature every night and at the Sunday matinee. On Sunday matinee there will be "Black Bottom" contest for the boys and on Sunday night the contest will be for the ladies. There will be three prizes awarded at each contest. The audience will be the judge. Monday night will be "Auction Night"; Tuesday night "Opportunity Night"; Wednesday will be "Sweetheart night"; Thursday night "Garter Night"; and Friday, the Generous Model makes her bow and on Saturday night there is to be a big surprise. Each extra feature is an innovation and Manager Reider promises hilarious fun in every one. The same prices prevail, and the complete show will be given at every performance with the features added.
