"DIMPLED DARLINGS"

Sixteen "Dimpled Darlings" will cavort upon the stage at the Gayety theatre in the show by that name which opens an engagement on Sunday. Ed Sullivan, producer, is featuring the chorus of his production.

He has selected and trained the girls with utmost care, he announces, and boasts that he has the prettiest and most vivacious group of its character on the Mutual circuit.

The principals of the "Dimpled Darlings" are no less attractive nor talented, however. Viola Spaeth, ingenue; Peggy Gilligan, soubrette, and Pearl LaFere, ingenue soubrette, all are good looking girls and all have plenty of pep usually associated with their types, it is said.

This show has three comedians, which seems to promise plenty of fun. George Leon does eccentric character work, Ed Lorayee is a Dutch type and Joe West does varied character bits. Jimmy Walters, a juvenile, completes the cast.

Scenic and costuming effects in Mr. Sullivan's show are said to be above the average, and it is filled with novelties and specialties which make for good entertainment.

The weekly "Black Bottom" contests will be held Sunday, for boys in the afternoon and for girls in the evening, and other feature nights will be held during the week as follows: Monday, Auction night; Tuesday, Opportunity night; Wednesday, Sweet-heart night; Thursday, Garter night; Friday, the Generous Model, and Saturday, Surprise night.
