MISS IONE WILLIAMS WEDS OMAHA, NEBRASKA, MAN

One of the most gorgeous weddings of the season was that of Ione, the beautiful daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Williams, 4038 West Belle Place, and Mr. Saybert C. Hanger of Omaha, Neb., which was solemnized at All Saints Episcopal church on Wednesday, June 29, Rev. Father Clarke officiating. Mrs. Hazel Giles filled the huge auditorium with the sweet melody of "O Perfect Love."

The bride was gowned in white satin, covered with lace de esprit. The exquisite veil which also formed the long train was imported Brussels lace held to her head with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. To the thrilling strains of Lohengrin's Wedding march, the bridal procession wended its way gracefully to the altar, preceded by Messrs. Floyd Neal and Dr. Leon Clark, the ushers. Next came with solemn precision the dainty little ring bearer, Margaret Thornton, who proudly bore the white satin cushion, garlanded with forget-me-nots and rhinestones, on which rested the wedding ring. She wore pale blue, with wreath of white rosebuds and forget-me-nots. Mrs. Merrill Williams, jr., as matron of honor, was beautiful in a dress of crepe de chine. She wore a large white hat of hair braid, with scarlet velvet band and large scarlet satin rose, silver slippers and bouquet of red carnations. Miss E. Corrine Allen was enchantingly sweet in a creation of cream and gold lace and gold slippers. She wore a large pink hat with black velvet streamers and carried white carnations. The maid of honor was Miss Vera Lockridge, who was superb in pink georgette, silver slippers, pink hose and large pink hat, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The bride was led to the altar by her uncle, William L. Hartgraves, and was given away by her mother. After the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the palatial home of the bride's mother, where a reception was held.

Mr. Hanger is a young man of university training, whose parents are honored citizens of Omaha, where he has a government position. Miss Ione Williams was a social favorite and a teacher at Jefferson school.

Many valuable and beautiful presents were received, including a heavy brass and marble lamp from the teachers of Jefferson school, a mass of silk lingerie, silver, cut glass, and gold coin.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanger departed on a honeymoon trip to the lakes.—From The St. Louis Argus.

The price for a hair cut will be 50 cents instead of 35 and for a shave 25 cents instead of 15. Shampooing, massaging and other features of the tonorial art will be correspondingly advanced.
