Saturday evening, July 2, the T. M. T. H. club and visiting friends met at an evening public dinner. It was for the purpose of bidding farewell to a number of our members who are leaving the city, and to entertain visitors. We all spent a very delightful evening.

Tuesday afternoon, the baseball team from the South Side Cultural Center met the girls of the Athletic Gems club, at 5 o'clock, on the Kellom school grounds. True to the promise made by the "Y" girls, a severe thrashing was administered to the South Side girls.

The First Annual Membership Picnic of the North Side Branch of the Young Women's Christian Association was held Thursday afternoon, July 7, 1927, from 3 to 8 o'clock, at Elmwood Park. The little girls from Healthland turned out in full force also at Elmwood Park. The members and friends of the Association, by coming out in large numbers, and sharing their basket lunches, showed their appreciation to the community. Games and other recreational features filled the evening. All who were able to attend were very much pleased with the outing.

Adams' New Novelty orchestra, which has been filling engagements in Kansas and Nebraska, will return to Omaha next Thursday.

Cuny Wilson and Henry Smith, Mrs. Ada Croghan Franklin of Kansas City, Mo., being the distinguished out-of-town guest. The hostess spared no pains to delight her guests, and the opinion was unanimous that Mrs. Greenfield was an ideal hostess.

Mr. Hudson started in the undertaking business here, but subsequently removed to Oakland, where he has built up a substantial business.

ACTIVITIES AT THE CULTURAL CENTER

An interesting story of activity comes from the Negro Cultural Center, the R street branch of the social settlement. Mrs. M. L. Rhone, director, reports the two new playgrounds both in action, and an attendance for June of 2,637, double that of May.

The back yard at 2915 R street, newly equipped with swings and teeters and a high wire fence to make ball playing possible, serves the smaller children of the neighborhood.

For the older boys and girls a vacant lot at Twenty-seventh and S streets has been loaned by the stock yards, and provides space for tennis, indoor ball and other sports. Street Commissioner Noyes has levelled off the rough places and cut the weeds, and the boys who use it have made the tennis court.

Martin Thomas is in charge. Thomas was a Central High school star athlete previous to his graduation last June. Under his direction girls use this playground on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays; boys on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Boy Scouts at the center are also under Mr. Thomas' charge and during the summer are to be seen holding their meetings every Monday evening on the playground.

Vacation school at the center opened July 5th, with 60 in attendance, and by July 10th the figures had climbed to 114 and a waiting list had to be started. In the total attendance of the week there were only two absences and these two had to be sent home.

This unusually large enrollment is requiring a change in the schedule. The pre-school children are to be cared for from 5:30 to 7:00 in the late afternoons, leaving the morning classes for the older children.

Mrs. Leonard Owens honored Mrs. Alice Howard of Seattle, Wash., with a motor trip to Fremont, Neb., on the Fourth of July. Other guests in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Greenfield of Atchison, Kansas; Mr. H. J. Kinney and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Biddix.

Moscow.—Henry Ford has inconspicuously made his way into the Russian language. "To Fordize" has become a recognized new word, meaning to organize efficiently.

As many factories as possible are being "Fordized" with all speed by re-arranging the machinery to speed production and reduce manual labor.

"Will power of the individual is the taproot of all his growth in character and efficiency."

National Emblem of

Wales Is Red Dragon

While the harp is a Welsh national instrument, it is not recognized as the national emblem. The national emblem for Wales is the red dragon of Cadwallader, the last of the Welsh kings. This emblem had a place in the royal arms of Great Britain as a supporter in the reign of King Henry VII, but that king, toward the end of his reign, changed the supporters, which were the two white lions of March, to the Welsh dragon on the dexter side, with the white greyhound on the sinister. The latter emblem was representative of either the De Beauforts, his own ancestors, or the Nevilles, the ancestors of his wife, both of these families using the white greyhound as a family badge. In 1528 his son, Henry VIII, used for supporters to the royal arms the golden lion on the dexter, while the red dragon of Wales, which his father had used on the dexter, he relegated to the sinister side. These supporters continued in use until the accession (in 1603) of James VI of Scotland as James I of England. James kept the golden lion on the dexter, but changed the red dragon of Wales on the sinister to the unicorn, as in the royal arms of Scotland—an emblem of purity.

Cat and Nine Lives

The origin of the saying that "a cat has nine lives" is obscure, but it is generally supposed to have originated in ancient Egypt where cats were objects of worship. Pasht was the cat headed goddess of the Egyptians. According to one writer on mythology this goddess was supposed to have nine lives and probably gave rise to the common expression about cats having nine lives.
