AN IMPORTANT WORD TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The postal regulations require that for newspapers to be sent through the mails subscriptions must be paid in advance. A reasonable time, thirty days, is allowed for renewals. At the expiration of this period, where subscriptions are not renewed, the paper must be stopped. If this is not done, postal privileges are denied the publication. Those, therefore, who desire to continue receiving The Monitor must see to it that their subscriptions are paid, as the law requires, in advance. Statements are being sent to all those who owe, or our collector will call—and unless your subscription is paid we will be compelled to cut off your paper which, of course, we do not want to do.

We, as publishers, MUST comply with the law or pay the penalty.

SOMETHING ROTTEN

Another homicide has been committed among Negroes here and no one has been held for the crime. The coroner's jury recommended that one man be held, but the county attorney's office claimed there was not enough evidence to convict and ordered him released. There is something rotten in the state of Denmark when Negroes who commit crimes against Negroes can get off so easily.

RELEASE GARVEY

The Monitor desires to repeat its request to President Coolidge that Marcus Garvey be released from Atlanta penitentiary. We are pleased to see that the press is raising a united voice for this act of clemency or justice. Garvey, more the victim of circumstances, than of deliberate design, as we have always believed, was sentenced to Atlanta prison for a term of five years for using the mails to defraud. He has served nearly one-half of the allotted time. Others have been released and Garvey should be released also. Release Marcus Garvey!

THINK THIS OVER

Max Rosenbaum has just opened a lunch stand on the southwest corner of Twenty-fourth and Charles street. It is in one of those square artificial stone buildings which are much used for this kind of business. Mr. Rosenbaum is the man who two or three years ago conducted a restaurant on Cuming street near Twenty-third, where it is alleged he refused to serve colored patrons unless they would eat in the kitchen. It is also alleged that for a time he displayed a sign reading, "Colored trade not solicited." Mr. Rosenbaum went out of business on Cuming street. It has been said "he went broke." He has opened his lunch counter now in a Negro neighborhood within the same block in which are two neat well-kept restaurants owned by Negro proprietors. Of course, he now expects and desires "colored patronage." Do you think he ought to get it?

FILE BROOMFIELD WILL

The will of John H. Broomfield, filed in county court Monday, involving an estate at more than 50 thousand dollars, leaves more than half of his property to his adopted son, Leroy C. Broomfield of Omaha. Mr. Broomfield died suddenly of heart trouble September 7.

To his brothers, George, of St. Louis, Nathan, of Chicago, and Levi of Omaha; a niece, Mrs. Coresia Shockley of Omaha and a nephew, LeRoy of Chicago, the will bequeaths five thousand dollars each. Eddie Robinson and Leon Wallace of Omaha, friends, are left one thousand dollars each. The rest goes to the adopted son. The will was drawn December 26, 1925.

Property includes 113 lots in Gary, Ind., a store building at Twenty-fourth and Erskine streets, the Broomfield apartments at Lake and

EMANCIPATION DAY CELEBRATION

Monday, September 12, St. John's A. M. E. church held its annual Emancipation Day celebration at Krug Park. A number of automobiles, among them several beautifully decorated ones, formed in procession at St. John's church, and preceded by mounted police in command of Lieutenant Harry Buford and headed by a band, paraded through the principal streets to the park. At the park, various amusements were enjoyed and the principal address of the day "Slave or Freeman," was delivered by the Rt. Rev. Archibald James Carey of Chicago. The speaker traced the steps leading up to emancipation and stressed the responsibility of freedom and the duties involved in citizenship. The Rev. John Adams also spoke. In the evening a large number enjoyed dancing under the auspices of Roosevelt Post. Prizes in various contests were awarded. The prize for the most beautifully decorated car was awarded to Mrs. Alice Sherwood. Mrs. Matthews was crowned queen of the carnival and was awarded a diamond ring. Mrs. Willie Ray won first prize in ticket selling, followed by Mrs. Hallie Johnson, who won second prize.

MME. WALKER'S HEIR WEDS PITTSBURGH ATTORNEY

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Society was astounded by the recent announcement that Mrs. Mae Walker, heiress to the Walker millions, had been married to Marion Perry, one of Pittsburgh's most prominent and promising attorneys. Mrs. Mae Walker Jackson was the former wife of Dr. Gordon Jackson. The quiet wedding which joined the couple has been contrasted with the famous, and some are bold enough to declare "ill-fated," million dollar wedding held when Miss Walker was joined in wedlock with Dr. Gordon Jackson, a few years ago.

PULLMAN PORTERS FILE PETITION WITH COMMERCE COMMISSION

The Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters on the 7th day of September, 1927, filed a petition with the Interstate Commerce commission requesting an investigation of the rates of the Pullman company. It is the contention of the brotherhood that the company be required to pay the proper wages to the Pullman porters and relieve them of the present undemocratic and unsystematic requirement of performing the management's duty of collecting part of their wages. The company admits that porters solicited tips or collected wages from 22,477,051 sleeping car passengers to the tune of twenty-five cents each and ten cents from 13,155,052 seat passengers the sum of $7,000,000 annually.

The porters' petition alleges that the tips are uncertain and indefinite and that there is an additional charge on the tickets that the passenger pays for his accommodations and constitutes a violation of the Interstate Commerce Act, since it fosters the practice of discrimination as the old rebate system.

A group of prominent citizens throughout the country will join in the petition, according to the general organizer.
