WOMEN LEAD FIERCE ATTACK ON NON-UNION MEN.

Strike Breakers Flee in Panic After Sudden Midnight Attack at Loraine. O.-Nearly Every Man Remaining on Board Train is Injured.

A special train of an engine and one coach which had been engaged to carry forty non-union men going from Lima, O., to Loraine, O., where the yards of the American Shipbuilding company are tied up by the shipbuilders' strike, reached Cleveland late Wednesday night on the Nickel Plate

Every window in the car had been broken and its sides were splintered and battered. Of the forty men who were aboard when it left Lima only fifteen were left. Hardly one was not bruised and bleeding. Oneman was so badly hurt that he had to be sent to a hospital.

The car was stoned by a mob just as it was pulling into the company's yards at Loraine Wednesday night. From behind fences and freight cars men poured out and bombarded the car. Before the engineer could open the throttle and steam out of range half the men in the car had been struck. All on board were panicstricken and twenty-five men jumped from the train and fled.

HOLDS SOLDIERS GUIL/TLESS.

Maj. Penrose Heard in the Brownsville Inquiry.

Testimony of unusual interest was given Wednesday in the Brownsville investigation before the senate comnittee on military affairs, the chief witneses being Maj. Charles W. Penrose, who commanded the former soldiers who are charged with having "shot up" the Texas city, and Lieut. H. G. Leckie, who was sent to Brownsville by Gen. McCaskey, commander of the department of Texas, to investigate facts connected with the shooting.

Lieut, Leckie traced the course taken by bullets that penetrated houses in Brownsville and came to the conclusion that the bullets could not have been fired by soldiers in the barracks.

Maj. Penrose has been acquitted by courtmartial on charges of neglect of duty, while the same courtmartial found that the men of the Twentyfifth infantry were gullty. Notwithstanding this, Maj. Penrose asserted his confidence now in the innocence of the men, although at first he thought

Maj. Penrose sald he was awake when the firing began on the night of Aug. 13. He heard two pistol shots from the road, he thought in the vicinity of the guard house. He testified to sending Capt. Lyon with Company D to patrol the town; of his return, accompanied by Mayor Combe and his brother, Joe Combe, and of their statement that soldiers had done the shooting. The witness said that Mayor Combe told him that none of the men of the Twenty-fifth should be permitted to enter the town, as he could not be responsible for the actions of the citizens toward them. This applied to officers as well as enlisted men, as Mayor Combe said that the sight of a uniform might inflame the people. Maj. Penrose said he replied that he would allow none of his men to enter the town, and neither would he allow a citizen to enter the

OMAHA MAN TAKES HIS LIFE,

A. B. Jaquith, Well Known Grain Dealer, a Suicide. Arthur B. Jaquith, president of the Exchange Grain company, vice presi-dent of the Nebraska Underwriters' Insurance company and one of the best known grain men of the west, committed suicide Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock by shooting himself in Kountze park, three blocks from his home in Omaha. Jaquith's motive for taking his life probably was the result of ill health caused by a combination of circumstances. Two years ago he tried to run a corner in May corn, which all but broke up his mind. Never after that was he able to give undivided attentiin to business, and George S Barnes, his partner, had transacted the greater part of the work for the past two years. Many of his friends believe his mind was badly affected by the deal in May corn, and that he never has been the same since.

Jaquith for twenty years represented the Peavey Elevator company of Minneapolis, during which time he divided his residence between Minneapolls, Sloux City and Omaha. After the formation of the Omaha grain exchange, Jaquith became one of the largest local dealers Jaquith's sister, Mrs. George Lowe, and her husband arrived Monday from Cedar Rapids for a visit. The entire family, except Jaquith retired at 10 o'clock. Two hours later he was heard to leave the house and was not again seen unt'l his dead body was found in the park. Jaquith left two notes on a table addressed to Lowe. One requested him to remain at home until the writer returned. The other

"Dear George: Owing to ill health I cannot bear to remain longer. Take care of my wife and children."

Jaquith had a beautiful home and was attached to his family, which consisted of a wife, two girls and a boy. He left life insurance aggregating $60,000.

The senate by two votes Wednesday morning refused to comply with the request of the house made a day or two ago for a conference committee to fix a day for final adjournment. It also voted down a motion to indefinitely postpone all senate files now on general file. Senators who opposed these motions declared the house is up to tricks intended to kill some important senate bills now in its posession. For several days the house it is clamed, has been passing by sencounty attorney, and County Clerk ate bills and acting only on house measures. Some of the senators have given it out that they will stay in Lincoln all summer if necessary in order to force the house to act on some of the senate bills. To appoint a committee on adjournment, they say, would be voting away an advantage the seante now holds. The senate is two days behind the house in the number of days it has been in session and will draw pay that much longer. For this reason the senators are not as anxious to get away as the house
