The high mucks-mucks of the democratic party are endeavoring to plan a fall ticket for the fall election. This would be an easy matter if done according to law, but these same ring leaders are trying to bull matterseither to have County Clerk Ross disobey the law and place the names of the candidates, chosen by the dictator at Jackson, on the ticket, or to get them on any old way and then laugh November 5th. D. C. STINSON.

D C Stinson, republican nominee for county judge, was born in Wayne county, Ohio, July 22, 1850, was raised on a farm, going to school winters and Chas Ostemeyer, commissioner. working on the farm in summer, until | Carl Larson, assessor the age of 16, and attended the Daltor, Ohio, high school for two years. He then taught school and attended Literary and Medical college until 25 years of age. He then practiced medicine in Ohio until thirty years of candidates and afterwards elect them. age. Came to Dakota City, June 4, 1880 and has resided here ever since. As he came here an entire stranger, without money or friends, all he has at the present time has been accumulated by strict attention to his profession and other business interests.

He served eight years as treasurer of the Dakota city school board, being re-elected twice and resigned to go North Dakota in 1900.

He has served several terms as justice of the peace and therefore has to read a newspaper that can print the some practical knowledge of the office to which he aspires. He has gained the confilence of the people of the county by his long resi-dence here and will undoubtedly be elected by a large majority.

FEES OF BEAUTY SPECIALISTS.

What English Society Women Pay for Their Services.

The cult of beauty has become craze with women of to-day. They will suffer anything and pay anything for a good complexion and figure. Such, at any rate, was the opinion expressed to a Tit-Bits man recently by a west end, London, beauty specialist, among whose clientele are women who have not the slightest objection to paying from $50 to $100 for a make-up for one evening. Such a woman will place herself in the hands of the specialist at noon, or even earlier. She will be steamed and massaged, her hair brushed, perfumed and retouched if it is artistically colored. The hands, arms and neck are manipulated and whitened with preparations that partake of the nature of fine grease paints. The coiffure is then built up, puffs and braids and curis are skillfully added and the figure laced to the required slenderness before the gown is adjusted. MEMPHIS' OLD SLAVE MART.

Market for Negroes Once Run in Connection with Livery Stable. Grim, unsightly, paintless, seamed and crooked throughout its masonry there stands to-day an old brick building on Adams street, midway between Main and Second, about which clusters more of history and of change than can be compressed into song or story. It is situated just on the east of the alley midway between Main and Second. streets and is used as a shelter for the city prisoners who are worked on the rock pile.

If you will take the trouble to step to the westward side of this old building, where it faces the alley, and glance up along its second story you may still discern the inscription: "Negro mart and livery stable," or as much of it as time has not penciled out. The last letter of the word "mart" and the last letter of the word "stable" are gone. The others are dimmed with age and might pass unnoticed unless you look a second time.

Time was, nearly half a century ago, when this was a famous negro market. It was presided over in its time by no less a man than Gen. Forrest himself. Thousands of negroes were bought and sold within its walls and hundreds of thousands of dollars passed there from buyer to vender. One old, gray-headed negro told the writer a few days ago: "I'se seen many a bushel o' money piled up on the upstains flo'-gold money, sah, in de ole days. Yes, sah, I 'members Gin'l Forrest, an' he was debeatenes' man I evah seen. Dey done what he tole 'em, sah; an' he only tole 'em onct."-Memphis Commercial Ap-

Weeds that Are Valuable.

It is not a matter of common knowledge that some of the weeds "infesting" the land will produce the crude drugs which to-day in large part are obtained by importation from abroad. Alice Henkel, an assistant of the government's plant industry bureau, says that the roots, leaves and flowers of several of the weed species regarded as plagues in the United States are gathered, prepared and cured in Europe, and not only for useful commodities there but supply to a considerable extent the demands of foreign lands.

There are weeds in this country against which extermination laws have been passed which hold in their leaves, stems or roots medicinal properties. which have a value in the work of preserving the health of the nation.

It is possible in ridding land of weeds in order that crops may be grown to make of the uprooted "pests" a source of income, Moreover, it is possible to maintain upon land given over as worthless for erop-growing purposes a weed plantation, which after the harvest will prove itself to be not less profitable than some of the tilled fields,

A Proper Punishment. "You're not going to bar me out, are you?" the newly arrived spirit

Keep Your Nerve

It is nerve energy that runs the organs of your body. The storage battery is the nerve cells in the brain and spinal cord, and from this battery nerve force is sent out through the system of nerves. To keep the body healthy you must have plenty of nerve force; if you have not, the organs work imperfectly, the circulation is sluggish, digestion bad, appetite poor, kidneys inactive, and aches, pains and misery are the penalty. You can keep the system strong with Dr. Miles' Nervine. It assists in generating nerve energy; it strengthens the nerves and makes the whole system strong and vigorous. system strong and vigorous.

"I take pleasure in recommending for Miles' Nervine to those suffering from nervous prostration, insomnia and melancholy. After several months suffering from above diseases I tried this medicine and found immediate relief. It soothes and strengthens the nerves, chases away the gloomy and depressing thoughts and gives the sufferer renewed strength and hope. It is a superb nerve restorer."
