Congress-man Hinshaw, member of the Indian affairs committee of the house, offered Judge Boyd's amendment, against which a point of order was made by Chairman Sherman of the committee. Mr Sherman reserved the point of or-der that Judge Boyd might explain the conditions which prompted the amendment. And this the representative of the Third district did in a manner that won him friends. While his speech was short, it was entirely hensive to the extant that it satisfied the chairman of the committee and he withdrew the objection which he had made against the amendment, even though it was new legislation. It was Judge Boyd's maiden effort, and what is more to the point he won his contention."
