The only departure we shall make from medical ethics in the conduct of Peruna affairs in the future, is the fact that we shall continue to advertise and sell our product TO THE PEOPLE.

If we would agree to sell to doctors only, to advertise for doctors only, then the medical fraternity would be obliged to recognize Peruna as being entirely within their approval.

BUT WE SHALL NOT DO THIS.

We shall continue to offer Peruna to the people. We shall continue to convey to the people our claims for Peruna as a household remedy. We shall continue to supply the people with free literature, teaching them how to use our medicine, teaching them how to avoid disease, teaching them many things of benefit to the home. We shall continue to do this, whether the medical profession like it or not.

We are proposing from this time on to take the public into our confidence. Notwithstanding that some imitators and substitutors will be attempting to put up something which they consider just as good as Peruna, we are going to draw aside the veil of secrecy and allow any one who chooses to know exactly OF WHAT PERUNA IS COMPOSED.

This ought to disarm all honest criticism. We expect, however, that criticism will continue. On some pretext or other those who are envious of the able household remedy. WE CLAIM PERUNA TO BE A CATARRH REMEDY. Buy a bottle and try it. If it helps you, be honest and acknowledge that it has helped you.

If you want us to we will publish your statement exactly as you furnish it to us. We will add no words, take away no words. If you wish us to we will publish your portrait in connection with it. We will not do this without your written request, without your entire consent.

Peruna has cured thousands of people of chronic catarrh, in many phases and locations. At least, that is what the people say to us, through unsolicited testimonials. Peruna will cure many thousand more, in spite of fabricated slanders to the contrary.

WE GUARANTEE EVERY BOTTLE OF PERUNA TO CONTAIN THE INGREDIENTS PRINTED ON THE LABEL.

We guarantee that every testimonial we use is absolutely true-in the exact language of the testifier.

We guarantee that every photograph published is the photograph of the person whose name it bears, that every word of every testimonial was authorized by the hand that signed it.

We are determined to beat our opponents by being fairer than they are, by dealing squarer than they dare to. We are determined to meet falsehood with truth, duplicity with candor, insincerity with sincerity.

We know that the users of Peruna will appreciate our stand. We believe that the dealers in Peruna will applaud our course. We expect even our opponents will be obliged to acknowledge finally that Peruna is not only an honest and useful remedy, but one of the GREATEST HOUSEHOLD MEDI-CINES ON THE CONTINENT.

to Their Revenues. The Russian government wen a unique reputation for enterprise when it made a small formus out of the Crimean war, says the Philadelphia Record. For months after the end of the war old iron, shot and shell were picked up round Sevastopol. For a time there was a regular trade, thousands of tons of metal being sold. It was too good a chance to be missed, and the Imperial government stepped in between buyers and sellers with a tax of 12 cents per hundredweight. When the last shot had been picked up and disposed of the treasury had reaped a little harvest of $75,000. Newspaper humorists have had a great deal to say about the taxation of bachelors. Such a tax would not be altogether novel. THE BAIRY

The venerable W. J. Rolfe is hard at work upon a volume of Shakspearlan proverbs-and also upon another work relative to Shakspeare about which he is slient at present. At 80 years of age Mr. Rolfe is a robust and vigorous personage. One of his comfortable morning walks is from Cambridge to Boston and back again,

Sir Gilbert Parker recommends a simple method of acquiring the books one would like to possess. "I have often said to myself," he remarked re-

In "The Prolongation of Human Life," a new yolume soon to be publish-Greece has found a way of raising ed. Prof. Metchnikoff expounds at greater length the main thesis of his former book, "The Nature of Man," that human life is not only unnaturally short, but unnaturally burdened with physical and mental disabilities. The legacies received by man from his animal ancestors, he argues, are the prime cause of many of the Ills of the human race and the pessimistic tread of so many systems of philosophy and religion. He believes that these traits, which were in harmony with the conditions of the remote past and are so discordant in the present environment, may be counteracted by rational hygiene. He argues that his hope for the prolongation of human life has substantial assurance based upon the certainties of science.

"Thinking, Feeling, Doing," one of the first books on mental science to be written in English for the general reader, has rather an unusual history. It had a sale of more than 20,000 copies when it was first brought out. A large part of it was reproduced without acknowledgment as an independent work by a school principal. A translation was made into Mandarin Chinese by Prof. Headland of Pekin university, but the plates and the manuscript were burned in the Boxer rebellion. A second edition was called for a few years after the first was published, but the author had become involved in extensive researches on the voice and could work only slowly on a revision. The work as it now appears has been largely rewritten. The author was a pupil veritable mountain of gold. It has of Wundt, and the book contains a summary of Wundt's new theory of the feelings.

There are some three hundred of the letters, and at the end Thackeray, Mark Twain, Oliver Wendell Holmes, R. H. Hutton, Lord Cockburn and Dean Stanley. Of Ruskin Dr. Brown says: "I am sure he has wings under his dannel jacket." Dickens he pronounces "a child of genius, but only a child." He disilkes Disraeli, thought Longfellow "a sort of male Mrs. Hemans," was never quite sure about Browning, and said that George Ellot made him "uncomfortable." Stevenson he finds "a new liquor, fresh and aromatic."
