Hon. George L. Sheldon, Republican Nominee for Governor.

John W Hazlegrove, candidate for representative from this district, is one of our most substantial and up-to-date farmers, and is the kind of a man the farmers want in the legislature. His interests are with the farmer, who will support him to a man if they want a representative from their own class.

No subject touches every home in Nebraska more closely than the public school system of the state. How has this great trust been discharged by the republican party? By the careful investment of school funds by the republican state treasurer and the wise and efficient handling of the state school street, was struck in the head with a lands by the republican commissioner of public lands, these two assets of the public schools in Nebraska are now 20 per cent of the entire cost of the ny with Mrs Gill, and that she returnpublic schools of the state relieving the taxpayers of that proportion of the (os) of the schools. Republican ad-ministration always shows a profit both in good government and money for the people.

Governor George L Sheldon, republican candidate for re-election to the office he has so ably filled for the past two years, is this week on a campaign tour addressing the people of various localities on the issues presented by the republican party. The strength of Governor Sheldon and his party in Nebraska lies in the performance in the past of every promise made the people of the state and the confidence of the poople that every promise made this year will be redeemed by its performance. To clinch and make permanent the progressive legislation of the past two years the people need George L. two years, is this week on a campaign Sheldon in the Governor's chair and the republican party on guard in the legislature and in every state office.
There is little doubt that the people will see that this is accomplished at the November election.

It may be undignified to seemse Can-didate Bryan of "talking through his hat" but no other current phrase quite wife on August 24th. so aptly describes the cris-cross attitude of the peerless when his talk is compared to his platform. At the state fair, Lincoln, on September 4, the three-times candidate said: "My friends, we are more stingy in making appropriations for the farmer than for any other large class of our people." That is true of Candidate Bryan's party but not of the republican party which has appropriated 35 millions per year for the farmers rural mail delivery and 15 millions per year for the farmers' agricultural department, the two departments employing 49,000 Carl Anderson's people in the service of the farmer. Candidate Bryan's platform denounces the "ipcrease of officeholders" and threatens to largely reduce the number. The increase is made up of these men working for the farmer. Bryan wants them discharged (in his platform) and says we are "stingy" with the farmer in his talk. Which does he mean? Or is he talking through his
