

Colds on the Chest

Ask your doctor the medical name for a cold on the chest. He will say, "Bronchitis." Ask him if it is ever serious. Lastly, ask him if he prescribes Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for this disease. Keep in close touch with your family physician.

When you tell your doctor about the bad taste in your mouth, loss of appetite for breakfast, and frequent headaches, and when he sees your coated tongue, he will say, "You are bilious." Ayer's Pills will cure you in such cases.

Sioux City Journal: 1st: Equipped to handle 300 bushels of grain a day, the Crystal Lake distillery will commence operations today. Twenty men will be employed. Col D A Emmett, of Mayville, Ky, is on the ground, and will have active charge of the management of the distillery, which will be put into capacity operation in the manufacture of spirits for the first time. The plant is the reconstructed beet sugar factory. The old beet sugar plant was purchased, remodeled and made into a distillery by the Crystal Lake Distilling company. At that time local capitalists were in charge. Last fall the H W Voss company, of Cincinnati, purchased the distillery. Extensive cattle feeding operations will be carried on in connection with the distillery. The plans are to make the first mash today. It will be three days before the by-product will be ready to feed to the cattle. In addition the cattle will be given rough feed, hay and cottonseed hulls to be used for this purpose. About 300 head of cattle can be cared for at the distillery when run at its full capacity. One bushel of grain will make enough mash to feed one animal a day. The spirituous output will be sold entirely to wholesalers, and will be handled through H W Voss & Co's Cincinnati office. A new 1,500 bushel elevator has been installed at the plant and is now filled with grain. Corn and rye are the grains needed by the distillery. The malted grain is purchased from the east. Charles J Ray, of Cincinnati, is at the plant, and will be cashier. Judge J J Eimers, of South Sioux City, has been appointed stamp deputy for the internal revenue service in connection with the distillery, and C F Williams, of Omaha, will be storekeeper.

MARTIN S. MANFIELD, Pioneer Resident of this County, Passes Away.

After an illness lasting for several months, Martin S Mansfield, a pioneer resident of this county, passed peacefully away at his home in Homer last Friday morning, January 29, 1909. His death resulted from a general break down of health, the last few weeks being spent in a hospital.

Deceased was born in 1840, in Marion, Grant county, Ind. Removed from there to Champaign county, Ill, where he spent his boyhood days on a farm and working at the carpenter trade. June 1, 1861, he answered his country's call and enlisted in Company C, 25th Illinois infantry. Afterwards served in Missouri under Gen. Sigel. He fought in many of the important engagements in the south; was captured near Nashville, Tenn, in 1862, but escaped and returned to his command. He received his discharge at Atlanta, Ga, August 3, 1864, and was returned to Springfield, Ill.

He came west in 1865, and located at Decatur, Neb, where he worked at his trade there and at Wisnebago Agency, when the first government buildings were erected at the latter place.

He made his first trip to this county March 7, 1867, and afterwards helped build the Combs mill south of Homer. It was he who built the first building in Homer. This was in October 1871, when John and Joseph Smith embarked in the mercantile business. The lumber for the building and the first stock of goods were hauled there in the morning and by night the little shed roof building was completed and was stocked with goods. This building was made to answer the purpose until the more commodious building, which still stands facing the bridge, was erected under his supervision.

He was married October 20, 1871, to Sarah C DeBorde, daughter of one of the pioneer families of this county. The widow and six grown children—four sons and two daughters—survive him.

His life has been a busy one, and he has filled many position of trust in the community where he lived. He took an active part in founding the town of Homer, the present name of the town being his selection. He served as postmaster during President Cleveland's first administration, and was always an active worker for the interests of the town.

The funeral services were held Sunday from the M E church, and were conducted by Rev Morgan of Winndom, Minn, a former pastor of the Assembly of God church in Homer. The Masonic order, of which he had been a faithful member, attended in a body and accompanied the remains to their last resting place in the Omaha Valley cemetery, where the ritual service of the order was given.

The casket was covered with beautiful floral emblems, tokens of remembrance and esteem from those who knew him best.

The following resolutions were adopted by Omadi Lodge No 5, A F & A M:

Whereas, The Supreme Architect of the Universe has again seen fit to enter our ranks and translate from this imperfect to that all perfect, glorious and celestial lodge above, Brother Martin S Mansfield, who for years has been a true and faithful member of the Masonic fraternity, therefore be it

Resolved, That Omadi lodge extend to the grief stricken relatives its deepest and most affectionate sympathy in their hour of sorrow; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family; a copy spread upon the records of the lodge, and that the lodge be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days in memory of the deceased.

AFTER ALL IS SAID AND DONE

It is the "Man Behind" that counts most. The largest gun in the Navy would be of little value were not the man behind it a skilled marksman, and thus—through life. In no place is a good man needed more than behind the bank counter, for he must manage and keep safe the savings of the people. The best and largest bank in the world would be worse than useless were the "Man Behind" incompetent, reckless or dishonest. Always keep your eye on the "Man Behind."
