

CURRENT HAPPENINGS

FAITHFUL CHRONICLE OF ALL IMPORTANT ITEMS.

DOCTOR FOUND DEAD

THEORY OF MURDER WARRANT ED BY CIRCUMSTANCES.

John T. Binkley, Sr., Was a Retired Physician, and with Members of Family Was Stopping at Wellington Hotel on a Visit to Chicago.

Evidence supporting the theory that Dr. John T. Binkley, Sr., of Evansville, Ind., met his death at the Wellington hotel in Chicago Wednesday at the hands of a robber was adduced at the coroner's inquest Thursday. The evidence presented did not disprove the hypothesis of suicide, but it materially weakened it. Briefly stated, the testimony showed that Dr. Binkley was 82 years old, a lover of his family and of the church to whose creed he subscribed—the Presbyterian. Save for a left hand crippled by rheumatism his health was good, his spirits were high at the prospect of a family reunion, and suicide seemed the furthest thought from his mind. With other members of his family he came to Chicago Thursday and remained in his room while the others went on a shopping tour.

When his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Upchurch, returned about 5 p. m. with her daughter, Ellnor, they found the shades drawn and the old physician apparently asleep in an easy chair. A flood of light let in by the raising of the curtains disclosed his blood-stained face. He sat with his right hand nearest to the bed, which was about a foot away. The pistol lay on the bed with one chamber empty. The bullet, however, had entered his left cheek and lodged in his brain, inflicting a wound from which it is said death must have been instantaneous. His coat and vest were found open and the wallet which he habitually carried in an inside vest pocket was missing, as was his watch. A small sum, $2.51, was found on the dresser in the room. His valise, in which he carried a few medicines and toilet articles, which had been on his knees when his daughter left him to go shopping, was found in a public toilet room twenty yards from the room, and of the existence of which the deceased is said to have been in ignorance, his own room being provided with similar facilities. The door of the room was not locked.

LYNCHING IN FRANKFORT.

Negro Who Shot Circus Man is Strung Up to Bridge.

John Maxey, a negro, who shot B. C. Bowers, a circus man, Wednesday night, was taken from jail at Frankfort, Ky., early Thursday and lynched. The jailer thrust the mob, but the door was broken down, the negro taken out and hanged to the St. Clair street bridge.

The action of the mob created intense excitement among the law-abiding citizens of the city, who were appalled of the hanging.

Bowers, the wounded man, is still in a critical condition at the Kings Daughters hospital.

Maxey narrowly escaped being lynched at the time of the shooting and a panic among the crowd at the big tent was narrowly averted. The shooting was the result of the negro's effort to get in the tent under the flap without a ticket. Bowers' home is in Valdosta, Ga.

Aided Slaves in Flight.

Henry F. Montague, one of the three dozen men who organized an abolition party at Michigan in 1836 at Ann Arbor, is dead at his home at Kalamazoo, Mich., at the age of 76 years. Mr. Montague was one of the leading agents of the "underground railway" by which many fugitive slaves were assisted in their flight to Canada.

To Remove Penn's Remains.

To bring the coffin containing the body of William Penn, which now reposes in a Presbyterian abandoned cemetery in Buckinghamshire, Eng., to this country and have it interred on the banks of the Delaware river is the object of a movement just launched in congress.

Date of Trial Set.

The trials of a dock superintendent and six checkers charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the weighing of sugar at the docks of the American Sugar Refining company in New York City, have been set for June 17.

Sioux City Live Stock Market.

Thursday's quotations on the Sioux City live stock market follow: Beeves, $5.50 @ 6.20. Top hogs, $7.40.

An Airship Destroyer.

That secret trials of airships and aeroplanes in northern Japan have demonstrated that heavy guns and heavy loads can be carried was, the story brought Thursday by the steamer Montague. It was said that the Japanese have invented an airship destroyer fitted with shells that explode on contact with another airship.

TRAIN ROBBERS BOUND OVER.

Judge Manger Holds Each Under $25,000 Bail.

D. W. Woods, Fred Torgensen and James Gordon Wednesday were bound over to the next grand jury and held under $25,000 bond each to answer to the charge of holding up and robbing the Overland Limited mail car on the Union Pacific railroad on the night of May 23 by Judge W. H. Manger in the United States district court at Omaha, Neb.

Twenty-two witnesses were called to identify the prisoners, and all were more or less sure that the men were identical to those who committed the robbery. Six small boys, ranging from 8 to 11 years, were interesting witnesses, and each told of seeing one or of the men in the vicinity of the Brown Park school before and after the robbery occurred. They found the receivers and other paraphernalia which led to the arrests of the three men charged with the robbery.

Members of the train crew and a number of postal clerks were among the witnesses examined, and all were able to identify two or more of the men under arrest. Chief Clerk Whitmore, of the mail car, gave a graphic description of the robbery and told of being prodded in the ribs with a huge revolver by one of the robbers because he did not move fast enough.

The defense did not introduce any witnesses. Attorney McFarland, who represents the prisoners, satisfying himself with a rigid cross examination of the government's witnesses.

The police have located the room where Gordon and a man believed to be a fourth member of the gang lived together at 218 South Sixteenth street. It was learned that Gordon's roommate recently left the place and the authorities believe it was he who was arrested in Denver Wednesday.

MAY BE BIG SENSATION.

Dr. Clemenson Tells Starting Tale to Police.

Police Captain Kane, of Chicago, Wednesday afternoon declared Dr. Clemenson, held for the murder of his wife had made sensational disclosures to him. "If what the doctor told me proves to be true several others besides the prisoner are implicated in the death of Mrs. Clemenson," said Capt. Kane.

"According to Clemenson's story," the police official continued, "the crime which brought this young woman to her grave is one of the worst in the history of Chicago."

The mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. Nora Jane Clemenson was brought nearer to a solution when captain of Police Thomas Kane announced that he would examine a woman and a man who he believed would be able to give some information concerning the domestic relations of Dr. Clemenson and his wife. According to Capt. Kane, Dr. Clemenson told him that Mrs. Clemenson had tried to commit suicide two weeks ago by taking chloroform. The physician declared that he had found an empty chloroform bottle and had asked her about it. She denied having used any of the poison, and the physician said he believed her. When he found her dead on last Sunday morning he declared that he decided to tell a burglarly story, because he did not think any postmortem would be held and that his story would be believed.

SWINDLERS TO GO TO PRISON.

"Two Queens" Promoters Sentenced at Kansas City.

Frank B. Horn, S. H. Snyder and Raymond P. May were sentenced to serve a year and a day in the United States prison at Leavenworth and a fine of $500 each and John E. Horn was fined $500 in the federal court at Kansas City, Mo., Wednesday for fraud in promoting the "Two Queens" mine in Arizona.

E. S. Horn, the other defendant, who collapsed when the verdict was returned on May 18, was still too ill to appear for sentence. He will be sentenced later.

United States District Attorney Van Valkenburg then made a plea to the court for leniency on behalf of John E. Horn, who is only 22 years old, saying his youth should be considered as an extenuating circumstance. The judge accepted this suggestion and said the young man's punishment should be only a fine and costs, providing the fine was paid at once.

Fire in Philadelphia.

Fire Wednesday destroyed the five-story building of Schmoeller & Co., milliners, at 1294 Chestnut street, and spread to the Beneficial building next door, owned and occupied in part by the Beneficial Savings fund, Loss, $200,000.

Banker is Released.

John H. Wood, former president of the Matthews National bank, of Matthews, Ind., was released from the federal prison Wednesday at Leavenworth after serving six years for making loans in excess of the amount allowed by law.

Three Trainmen Killed.

Three trainmen were killed Wednesday when an engine, running light, crashed into a freight train at Mars, Pa., near Pittsburgh, on the Pittsburgh and Western branch of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Cases of Americans Postponed.

A dispatch from Leopoldville, in the Congo, says the trial of Rev. William Morrison and Rev. W. H. Sheppard, American missionaries, for alleged libel, has been postponed to July 30.

JUNKIN HELD GUILTY.

Death Verdict Returned by Centerville Jury.

Rousing cheers from the throats of 500 men rent the air as the verdict of death against Junkin returned by the jury was read by Chief George Elliott at Centerville, Ia., at 7:20 o'clock Tuesday after the jury had been out since 4 o'clock. Junkin heard the verdict without a quiver and stood up firmly when sentenced to be hanged on the last Friday in July, 1910. He said to the court he had no speech to make. His attorneys asked for a transcript of the verdict, which the court granted, indicating an appeal will be taken. Foreman Morgan Edwards signed the death penalty and every juror responded promptly that it was his verdict.

The court in passing sentence told Junkin he hoped he would make peace with his God before execution day.

Adjt. Gen. Logan was in the room as the verdict was read and was prepared to call out the state militia had the jury reached other than a death verdict.

Three ballots were taken by the jury. The first resulted 9 to 3, and the second 10 to 2.

Under the state laws of Iowa the day of hanging must be removed from the date of sentence at least one year. This is for the purpose of granting the defense sufficient time to perfect an appeal to the supreme court.

A large mob gathered at the court house when the verdict was announced. Guards formed about the prisoner and made a dash for a street car, fighting their way aboard. The street car was run to the Burlington tracks, where a special train was waiting and Junkin was hurried to the Fort Madison penitentiary.

The defense made a last effort in the morning to save Junkin's life. John R. Rice pleaded with the jurors not to burden their consciences with the memory of taking blood.

Judge J. C. Mitchell argued against capital punishment as failing to determine the criminal. He held that Ottumwa's tolerance of Smoky Row was the real murderer. Prosecuting Attorney Cornell began the closing argument before dinner and the case went to the jury at 4 o'clock.

Junkin's crime was one of the most atrocious in Iowa. He confessed to killing Clara Rosen on the night of February 5 last while she was returning from the home of her sister. Later he dragged the girl into an excavation and assaulted her. Her dead body was found by a searching party next morning.

SLAYER TO BE ELECTROCUTED

Convicted Murder of Artist Schultz Sentenced.

Calvin Johnson, who was found guilty by the jury of the murder of Walter F. Schultz, the Chicago artist, at Alexandria, Va., March 5, was sentenced Tuesday to death in the electric chair.

A motion for a new trial was filed on the ground that new evidence was submitted to the jury to induce it to return a verdict after it had reported a disagreement.

The trial of the second member of the negro quartette connected with the murder began Wednesday.

The crime for which Johnson was convicted was one of the most heinous ever committed in this section. Schultz, who had come to Washington to witness the inauguration, according to the evidence, was taken in on March 5 by Johnson and three other negroes, and lured to this city on an electric car. He was gagged and taken to a field outside the city, where his throat was cut from ear to ear. A pawn ticket for a watch stolen from Schultz led to the arrest of Henry Smith, and the latter turned state's evidence, implicating himself, Johnson and two others.

Capitol Damaged by Storm.

During the storm at Baton Rouge, La., Monday the state capitol suffered considerable damage. Part of the dome was blown off with a portion of the roof. Water leaked through, drenching the second, third and fourth floors and the hall of the house of representatives.

Pupils March Out of Burning School.

All the pupils of St. Casimir's parochial school in Detroit, Mich., escaped in safety Tuesday when fire broke out on the second floor of the school. There were nearly 900 pupils in the school when the fire was discovered. Fire drills had been frequent and there was no disorder in marshaling the children out of the building.

Grain Docks Burn.

Two thousand feet of the Nevada grain docks at Port Costa, on the bay near San Francisco, Cal., in which all the grain from California for foreign ports is loaded, was burned Monday night. The loss is estimated at more than $1,000,000. Nine hundred tons of grain and 100 tons of hops were destroyed.

Merry-makers Held Up.

Four masked highwaymen at The Tavern, a resort at Petersburg, about ten miles from Denver, Colo., Monday night, and escaped with more than $5,000 worth of diamonds and $200 in cash.

Gotch to Be a Benedict.

Frank Gotch, world's wrestling champion, will be married to Miss Minnie L. Warner, according to an announcement made Tuesday by friends of Miss Warner.

NEBRASKA STATE NEWS

BOY BANDITS AT NORFOLK.

Two Confess to Robberies of Many Months' Standing.

The Norfolk police Tuesday unearthed a gang of bandits, who, according to confessions of two of them, have systematically robbed stores, beer vaults and merchandise cars for some months. They have led a crime novel career, holding headquarters in barns and log houses. The older members of the gang threatened to kill the younger boys in the gang who should reveal the gang's deeds. Horace and Gilbert Case, aged 12 and 14, were taken in by the Norfolk police. Ronney, aged 19, because they said Ronney had threatened to kill them for telling. Five youths wanted in this connection are said to have fled from Norfolk.

For many months petty robberies have occurred. A candy factory was only recently broken into and robbed. This was done, the Case-boys say, by the gang.

Donny, one of the leaders, is one-legged. His mother is Mrs. Ella Baney, a widow, who drew a Tripp county warrant, but failed to file. She has hired lawyers to defend her son. County Attorney Nichols will make an effort to send the older boys to the penitentiary and the younger ones to the reform school.

GRAY GETS A VERDICT.

Sioux City Man Awarded $5,364 Against Omaha Road.

The jury in the case of J. W. Gray, of Sioux City, vs. the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railway company, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $5,364 at Dakota City Tuesday. This was practically the full amount sued for and was for damages sustained to growing crops on Mr. Gray's farm in Dakota county in the years 1907 and 1908. The case was a hard fought one and lasted for fourteen days. It is not only of much importance to Mr. Gray, but also to land owners in the vicinity of the Gray premises.

It was claimed by Mr. Gray that the railroad company was negligent in constructing and maintaining its railroad across what was known as "the water hole" in Dakota county, by reason of which negligence the waters of Elk creek were obstructed and his land was flooded.

MOVE ON CLUBS CHECKED.

Lincoln Excise Board Enjoined from Enforcing Dry Law.

District Judge Cornish Tuesday issued a temporary restraining order forbidding the city of Lincoln, through its excise board or police, from interfering with the operation of the saloons in Lincoln, Neb., by the Elks, Eagles and German Family society. This was the day set by the excise board for enforcing the order forbidding the dispensing of intoxicants in club houses to members. The case will be tried on its merits July 5. The injunction was not only of much importance to Mr. Gray, but also to land owners in the vicinity of the Gray premises.

GOVERNOR MUST PAY.

Nebraska Board Refuses to Approve Bills for Maintenance.

Gov. Shallenberger is at odds with the state board of public lands and buildings. Republican state officials compose the latter board and the democratic executive is nettled at the refusal of the officers to approve the bills for the maintenance of the executive mansion. The postmasters of the state will be the guests of the executive within a few days and Gov. Shallenberger will have to pay for music, refreshments and flowers. A recent entertainment for the governor and his family cost $150. Under the Sheldon administration the state paid the bills for all public functions.

SIX YEARS FOR TWO RIOTERS.

Men Who Shot Up Saloon at Veching Cleared at Front.

In the district court at Fremont Judge Hollenbeck sentenced Nicolo Galloro and Joseph Casmano to six years in the penitentiary on the charge of shooting with intent to kill. The two men had some trouble with the saloonkeeper of a saloon about two months ago. They came back a few minutes later armed with a shotgun and revolver, and proceeded to shoot up the place. Several men were wounded, but none seriously. They had expected a lighter sentence on account of their plea of guilty, and the order especially was surprised at his sentence.

Light Plant for Central City.

A petition has been circulated at Central City having for its object the selling of electric power, which is a hard issue for a municipal electric lighting plant will be voted upon. The cost of such a plant is estimated at $20,000, and in case of its installation it would also furnish power for the city water works system.

Trustee for a Co-Operative.

The people of Lyons were very much astonished Saturday by the rumor on the streets that the Farmers' Co-operative company, a large mercantile store there, was in financial trouble. A trustee took charge Saturday and a receiver will doubtless be appointed soon. The firm will doubtless pull through soon.

Embazzler Draws Five Years.

Joseph H. McCarthy was arraigned before District Judge Stewart at Lincoln Saturday afternoon, pleaded guilty to the charge of embazzling the funds of the Helen A. Horn estate and was sentenced to five years at hard labor in the penitentiary.

Smallpox Closes School.

The public schools of Bancroft have been closed by reason of the spread of an epidemic of smallpox. Two cases of which broke out in the school.

Steamboat Coming to Omaha.

Word has been received that the City of Peoria, a favorite steamboat on the Illinois river on its way to Omaha, a 1,000-mile trip, and will be used in excursion business on the Big Muddy.

West Point to Celebrate.

Independence day will be appropriately celebrated by the citizens of West Point and vicinity on Monday, July 5. A committee has been appointed to solicit funds and a big celebration is assured.

Editors to Stop Over.

Plans are being made by the Commercial club to entertain a trainload of newspaper men from eastern, southern and central states, who will be in Lincoln on July 15.

EX-CONVICT SUPPLIED DOPE.

August Miller, Trusty at Pen, Makes Affidavit to That Effect.

August Miller, a convict in the state penitentiary, caught by Warden Smith smuggling in morphine, made affidavit Saturday that he had received the dope from George Scharton, an ex-convict of Lincoln. County Attorney Tyrrell has sworn to a complaint against the last named. Nineteen ounces of morphine were taken from Miller.

Miller was a trusty under the late Warden Smith, and the latter told Warden Smith that he was reliable in every way. For some time Miller had been in charge of the hog barn, in which he slept enjoying practical freedom.

Warden Smith became suspicious some days ago and searched Miller for dope, but found none. Then the warden set a trap for his man and discovered where he had hid eleven ounces of the poison in the barn. Miller was then thrown in the dungeon with the statement that he would remain there until he told what drug store he got the dope. For several days the man refused to divulge the information, but Saturday morning he made his affidavit implicating Scharton.

According to the information received by the warden, Miller would sneak out of the barn at night and meet the ex-convict on the railroad track and pay him for the poison at the rate of 35 cents an ounce. He would then bring it to the prison and retail it to the other convicts.

Frank L. Dinsmore, who is steward of the hospital, was said to have bought five ounces from him at the rate of $1 an ounce. In turn Dinsmore retailed the dope at the rate of from $3 to $5 an ounce.

TWO MORE OF ALMA GANG.

Sheriff Carroll Finds Men Who Escaped from Minden.

Sheriff Carroll, of Alma, has returned from Julesburg, Colo., with Orin Galvin and Owen Dalley, who are believed to be implicated in the Republican City merchandise robbery. The young men were known around Minden and Claude Smith and Pat Crowe. It is also believed they are implicated in the Keene bank robbery and the Wilcox saloon holdup, as a search of their belongings revealed a kit of tools and masks. When young Able and O'Brien were arrested recently Galvin and Dalley left Minden, where they had been living, and they were not found until Sheriff Carroll located them at Julesburg.

Charles O'Brien was arrested a second time Wednesday upon the discovery of new evidence and put under $2,000 bonds.

SENSATION AT AGENCY.

Chief Clerk Benjamin Discharged and Asks Investigation.

Chief Clerk Benjamin, for J. M. Commons, superintendent at the Omaha Agency, has been discharged. It is claimed that Mr. Benjamin, in safeguarding the list of names of Indians who are applying for patents, was recently held up at the point of a gun by some land seekers, who forcibly entered the office and then his bed-room, demanding a list of names. Benjamin's friends claim it was upon certain misrepresentations by the land "grabbers" that he was discharged, and he has demanded an investigation.

Leg Shattered by Bullet.

Monday an old man named Eddy and a young man named Nanson, who live in Brunswick, got into an altercation in regard to the ownership of a wagon tongue which resulted in the old man shooting the other. The shot shattered the leg of Nanson, and below the knee. Eddy tried to escape, but was overtaken and now lies in jail at Brunswick.

Wetting Gets Good Job.

L. E. Wetting, of Lincoln, will be known hereafter, beginning June 1, as Nebraska's expert accountant, attached to the legal department of the state. Mr. Wetting has been appointed to this place by the attorney general, who will pay him $240 each month. When not employed by the legal department Mr. Wetting will assist the state railway commission, which will help to pay his salary.

Four Thugs Hold Up Twenty Customers, Collect $38 and Escape.

Four armed men invaded a restaurant at 447 7th avenue, New York, held up the twenty customers and after robbing two of them of $38 escaped. One of the robbers guarded the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his revolver, while the two others with revolvers proceeded to rob the customers. The robbers searched two of the men and took what money they had. After warning the victims to make no attempt to follow them on pain of death, the robbers disappeared the door, another covered the cashier with his