The name "John Bull" as applied to the English nation was made use of in a poem dated 1712.
ITCHED TWELVE YEARS.
Eczema Made Hands and Feet Swell, Peel and Get Raw—Arms Affected, Too—Gave Up All Hopes of Cure—Quickly Cured by Cuticura.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.
Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble.

FASHION HINTS

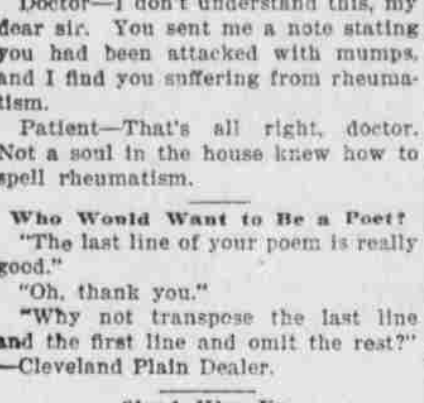

The attractive feature of this pongee gown is the embroidery done in daisy pattern, in silk to match the material. The waist and sleeve effect is also novel.

Every package of Post Toasties contains a little book—'Tid-Bits made with Toasties.' A couple of dozen recipes of fascinating dishes; A help in entertaining Home folks or company, Pgs. 10c and 15c—At grocers.

Smiles of the Day

In the Drug Store.
"You say you are a graduate of the school of pharmacy?"
"Oh, yes, madam."
"Are you registered under the rule?"
"Most certainly."
"Is that your diploma hanging yonder?"
"Yes, madam."
"Very well. Let me have a postage stamp."—Browning's Magazine.

Just in Time.
"I suppose," said the casual acquaintance, the day after the wedding, "it was hard to lose your daughter?"
"No," replied the bride's father. "It did seem as if it was going to be hard at one time, but she landed this fellow just as we were beginning to lose all hope."—Pittsburg Observer.

Unavoidable.
Doctor—I don't understand this, my dear sir. You sent me a note stating you had been attacked with mumps, and I find you suffering from rheumatism.

Who Would Want to Be a Poet?
"The last line of your poem is really good."
"Oh, thank you."
"Why not transcribe the last line and the first line and omit the rest?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Sized Him Up.
"I guess I know my own mind."
"That bears out what Miss Pert said about you last night."
"What did she say?"
"She said you didn't know much."—Houston Post.

From Missouri.
The following amusing incident occurred some years ago in northwestern Missouri.

Making the Tramps.
"Life," said the unsuspecting young man, "is what we make it."
"Then," rejoined the coy maid, "suppose you make it diamonds and I'll make it hearts."

Different Viewpoints.
Mabel—There goes that young doctor in his automobile. Isn't he just too killing for anything?
Helen—Oh, I don't know. They say he hasn't any practice to speak of.

Information Wanted.
Boody—I'd have you to know, sir, that I'm not the idiot you think I am.
Knox—Oh, I beg pardon. Which idiot are you?

No Obligation.
Mike—That have we got 't eat this mornin'!
Nora—We ain't got to eat nothin' if we don't want to.—Widow.

Originality.
Gunner—I dine at that little restaurant down in Bohemia.
Guyer—That so? Well, I hear the proprietor of that place has some original ideas everywhere.
Gunner—I should say so. He supplies a dream book with every order of welsch rarebit.—Exchange.

Applied to the Motor.
Teacher—What do you mean by the "quick and the dead?"
Boy—Well, the quick get out of the way of the motor cars and the dead don't.—Lippincott's.

The Troubles.
Friend—Don't worry because your sweetheart has turned you down since you lost your money. There are as good fish in the sea as ever were caught.
Jilted One—Yes, but I lost my bait.—Harper's Bazar.

None at All.
"A man hasn't any constitutional rights," observes Mr. Tauskaway, "when his wife does the cross-questioning."—Kansas City Times.

Right in Line.
"I see by this paper," said Mrs. Griggs, "that growing children require occasional change."
"Well, ours certainly get their share," replied Griggs. "They brace me three or four times a day for nickels and dimes."

Shut Her Off.
"Which would you rather see," began Mrs. Wiggins, "a woman—"
"As a matter of fact," interrupted Wiggins, without looking up from his paper, "I'd rather see a woman in the kitchen than on the lecture platform."

Told the Truth.
Knox—There goes young De Short in Jay Green's automobile.
Crox—Why, I thought De Short owned it? He told me not an hour ago that he had put all his money into it.
Knox—Well, he probably told the truth. He bought 50 cents' worth of gasoline before he started.

Keeps Busy.
Blox—Bixby claims that he always tells the truth.
Knox—Yes; he seems to have a mania for stirring up trouble.

One of the Symptoms.
"But," queried the sweet girl graduate, "how can I tell when I am in love?"
"Oh," replied the fair widow, "when you think you think as much of a young man as you think of yourself—that is love."

Before and After.
"When you were courting me," said his wife, "you declared there wasn't another woman in the world like me."
"Yes," replied her husband, "and I'm glad of it—for the sake of other men."

Happy Thought.
Miss Askitt—When one sends a parcel by express why do they always ask the name and address of the sender?
Percy Pinkleigh—Why—er—er—so they'll know where to return it in case it is—er—lost or stolen, doncher know.

The Girl at the Game.
George—Why don't you watch the game, Evelyn?
Evelyn—What's the use? You told me the umpire man was paid to watch it. Let him look after it. I'm sure I don't want the job.

Diplomacy.
"Am I the only girl you ever made love to?"
"Now, if you were, how on earth could I know how far superior you are to all other girls by comparison?"—Baltimore American.

Lucky.
Rogers—Have you had good luck with your piano?
Randall—Splendid! It lasted until we got it paid for.—Life.

Successful Aid.
Several weeks ago a Kansas editor advertised the fact that he had lost his umbrella and requested the finder to keep it. He now reports "The finder has done so. It pays to advertise."—Kansas City Journal.

Covering Territory.
"My! What a wide sash you are wearing!"
"Yes; nobody seems to know just where the fashionable waistline should come, so I am trying to wear a sash wide enough to hit it wherever it should be."—Houston Post.

At Breakfast.
"You say you used to do light roles on the stage, my dear?"
"Yes, love."
"Then where did you learn to do these heavy roles; I can hardly lift them!"—Houston Post.

The Man Who Sings.
"Give me the man who sings at his work," remarked the gentle optimist.
"The remark," replied the opera manager, "proves that you never had an argument about salary with a tenor."—Washington Star.

Seeks the Man.
Tommy—Pop, what is the office that seeks the man?
Tommy's Pop—The tax office, my son.—Philadelphia Record.

Ready with the Answer.
Miss Baxter, feeling the effects of a torrid afternoon in June, was attempting to arouse the interest of her languid class by giving, as she supposed, an interesting talk on the obelisk. After speaking for half an hour she found that her efforts were wasted. Feeling utterly provoked, she cried: "Every word that I have said you have let in at one ear and out of the other. You"—pointing to a girl whom she noticed had been particularly inattentive throughout the entire lesson—"tell me, what is an obelisk?"
The pupil, grasping the teacher's last words, rose and promptly answered: "An obelisk is something that goes in one ear and out the other."—Success Magazine.

Those Withering Glances.
"I generally read the paper on the way to and from the office," said the importantly busy young man. "I used to, myself," said the old-timer, "before I got hardened to the looks of the girl straphangers."—Kansas City Times.

My Pretty Puss.
I love my pretty puss,
And she's so fond of me,
I often hold her in my arms,
Or nurse her on my knee.
I never will be rough or wild;
I'll never be a cruel child.

Lightning Housekeeping.
Devices That Almost Make It a Pleasure.
A peep over the hill toward whose great the housewives of the country are nearer than they imagine, brings to view the home of the fast-moving future. It has no chimney, for it is furnaceless, being electrically heated. In its basement is the switchboard from which the electric nerves run to all parts of the house. A box-like arrangement stands in the corner, and from it pipes lead to the floors above. This is the vacuum cleaning machine, its blower operated by an electric motor.

Intelligent Parrots.
Some parrots are silent, and cannot be induced to repeat any words, but will utter discordant shrieks and ear-piercing whistles.
On the other hand, there are parrots which have the power of imitating all kinds of sounds to an astonishing degree.
There was one, a very clever bird, which was often placed in its cage near an open window overlooking a road where a great deal of traffic was constantly passing, thus it had the opportunity of hearing various street cries and other noises. It would whistle to the dogs, call the cat, and was very fond of repeating phrases used by the passing cabman and omnibus conductors, such as "Blank! Blank! Liverpool street! Penny all the way!" etc.

Point of View.
I have visited many strange countries in my life, says a writer, but the one I am going to tell you about is perhaps the most remarkable. The dress of the natives is very striking. Many of them carry enormous ornaments on their heads; some made of flowers, others of feathers and I have even seen them made of fruits and vegetables. Some were so large I wondered how the poor people could carry them.

The Pink of Propriety.
When the strangled hand, hidden behind the rose and carnation screen in Mrs. Poole's dining-room, began to play an air from one of Meyerbeer's operas, the daughter of the house turned hopefully to the young and apparently dumb stranger who had been told off to take her in.
Here was a promising opening for conversation.
"Do you like Meyerbeer?" she asked.
"I never drank a glass of one of those lagers in my life," the young man replied, coldly.

A SURE SIGN.
When It Appears Act at Once.
Trouble with the kidney secretions is a certain sign that your kidneys are deranged—that you should use Doan's Kidney Pills. They cure all irregularities and annoyances, remove back-ache and side pains and restore the kidneys to health. Mrs. John B. Whitaker, 303 Jefferson St., Madison, Ind., says: "Kidney trouble caused me to suffer terribly from headaches, backaches and extreme weakness. I had days of depression and languor and at times my ankles swelled. I was nervous and worn out. Doctors and kidney remedies failed to help until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. I am in better health now than I have been for years, thanks to them."

A Studied Explanation.
"Will you be able to explain your attitude on the tariff?"
"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "I'll have my explanation ready when the time comes. But I'll wait till my constituents are interested in other things and will carefully make it a little hard to understand."—Washington Star.

Due to Score Next Time.
"You refuse me, do you, proud girl?" he howled. "Well, you're not doing anything original. This is the third time I've been turned down!"
"So I'm the third sacker, am I?" merrily responded the girl, thrusting her tongue in her cheek in a well meant but only partially successful effort to look like Mr. Steinfield.

A Certain Method.
For curing eczema, dermatitis and dandruff it is by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. This medicine has been used for over 100 years. See, see, and see.

Badly Hurt.
Imagination has a good deal to do with troubles; it can both create and intensify them. A writer in the Kansas City Journal tells of an incident that occurred on a Kansas train some time ago. The rails spread, and the engine, tender and baggage car left the track, but the jar was not heard enough to disturb the sleepers in the rear Pullman.

Power will intoxicate the best hearts, as wine the strongest heads. No man is wise enough nor good enough to be trusted with unlimited power; for, whatever qualifications he may have evinced to entitle him to the possession of so dangerous a privilege, yet, when possessed, others can no longer answer for him, because he can no longer answer for himself.—Colton.

Wade Over by Quitting Coffee.
Coffee probably wrecks a greater percentage of Southerners than of Northern people for Southerners use it more freely.
The work it does is distressing enough in some instances; as an illustration, a woman of Richmond, Va., writes: "I was a coffee drinker for years and for about six years my health was completely shattered. I suffered fearfully with headaches and nervousness, also palpitation of the heart and loss of appetite."
"My sight gradually began to fail and finally I lost the sight of one eye altogether. The eye was operated upon and the sight partially restored, then I became totally blind in the other eye."
"My doctor used to urge me to give up coffee, but I was willful and continued to drink it until finally in a case of severe illness the doctor insisted that I must give up the coffee, so I began using Postum and in a month I felt like a new creature."
"I steadily gained in health and strength. About a month ago I began using Grape-Nuts food and the effect has been wonderful. I really feel like a new woman and have gained about 25 pounds."
"I am quite an elderly lady and before using Postum and Grape-Nuts I could not walk a square without exceeding fatigue, now I walk ten or twelve without feeling it. Formerly in reading I could remember but little but now my memory holds fast what I read."
"Several friends who have seen the remarkable effects of Postum and Grape-Nuts on me have urged that I give the facts to the public for the sake of suffering humanity, so, although I dislike publicity, you can publish this letter if you like."
Read "The Road to Wellville," in pgs. "There's a Reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

THE NEW WOMAN.
Bernie's New Railway Station.
The opening of the new Casino, set up at a cost of half a million dollars, marks an event which has much significance in local progress, says the New York Herald's Paris edition. It is long to another age. The milliners' windows in Bernie now display hats as large as those worn anywhere else.
The Casino is a magnificent building, provided with a beautiful concert room and a grand organ and also many other rooms for social purposes. During the summer there will be special entertainments and afternoon and evening concerts.
Herr Kraft, proprietor of the new Grand hotel and Bernierhof, tells me that with the annexation of the town of Brumplitz Bernie will have a population of 100,000 and that the city is growing in prosperity with great strides. All business men in Bernie as well as throughout Switzerland, are deeply interested in the national exhibition to be held here in 1913, and extensive preparations are now under way. The federal railway is to construct a new central station admitting twenty tracks at a cost of $2,400,000.

Alas! He Cannot Talk.
Opposition to scientific research is sure to end as soon as it is recognized that the end is good. Uncle Ezra's remark in the Washington Star is to the point on this subject.
"I don't see much use in de scientific folks studyin' monkey talk," he said, "but a study of hosa talk dat 'ud let de animal tell all about hissef' befo' a trade comes off 'ud save a heap o' hard feelings."

JUST TIME.
The Wonderful Part It Plays in the Earth's History.
Truly it is hard for us to realize what a part time has played in the earth's history—just time, duration—so slowly, oh, so slowly, have the great changes been brought about! The turning of mud and silt into rock in the bottom of the old seas seems to have been merely a question of time. Mud does not become rock in man's time nor vegetable matter become coal. These processes are too slow for us. The flexing and folding of the rocky strata, rifts deep, under an even pressure in only a question of time. Allow time enough and force enough and a
