If Judge Sullivan fails of an election to the supreme beach he may be able the corporation tax. The law in this state is the product of a democratic legislature. If he is able to undo what his democratic brethren have done in Nebraska it will be a strong recommendation for him in a larger suit attacking the corporation tax law just enacted by congress. Perhaps the voters will decite to leave him off the bench in order to give him free rein in behalf of the corporations.-Fre ment Tribune.

So far as the Record knows no one wants to go back to the old way The lights in the north part of town are not as yet in running shape but if the Service company's men keep up the gnit they have been working the past ew days, next week will see the entire tows lighted from the Omaha depot to the Combination bridge.

One of the old relics of bygone day in South Sioux City passed out of existance this week. For years at the for Omaha where she expects to visit home of C D Smiley the first street car ever used in this city reposed in his back yard. Until it became too old it was used by Miss Helen as a playhouse, but of late the Nebraska winds and rain bave been getting the best of it and the car moving to his new home this week Mr Smiley tore the car to pieces and will use the wood for kindeling purposes. There are many people in South Sioux City today who well remember when the car made its first trip up from what was then Covington. Horse power furnished the locamovive power. The car saw constant duty for five years before it was replaced be the present trolly system.
