

THE IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS.

Weak kidneys fail to remove poisons from the blood and are the cause of backache, headache, urinary troubles and dizzy spells.

To insure good health keep the kidneys well. Doan's Kidney Pills remove all kidney ills. Read what a physician says: Dr. H. Green, 215 N. 9th St., No. Yakima, Wash., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills in my practice for years and have given satisfaction. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills personally and pronounce them the best remedy I have prescribed in my long career as a physician and surgeon."

Remember the name—Doan's. For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

It Was the Other Way.
"Mr. Jones," said the senior partner in the wholesale dry goods house to the drummer who stood before him in the private office, "you have been with us for the past ten years."
"Yes, sir."
"And you ought to know the rules of the house. One of them is that no man of ours shall take a side line."
"But I have none, sir."
"But you have lately got married."
"Yes; but can you call that a side line, Mr. Jones?"
"Technically, it may not be."
"You needn't fear that having a wife is going to bring me in off a trip any sooner."
"Oh, I don't. It is the fear that having a wife at home you'll want to stay out on the road, altogether!"

Seeking Comfort.
"I've got a long way to go and I'm not used to travel," said the applicant at the railway ticket office. "I want to be just as comfortable as I can, regardless of expense."
"Parlor car?"
"No, I don't care for parlor fixings."
"Sleeper?"
"No, I want to stay awake and watch the scenery."
"Then what do you want?"
"Well, if it wouldn't be too much trouble, I wish you'd put me up in one of those refrigerator cars I've read so much about."

What They Did With Them.
An American who spends much of his time in England tells of a cockney who went to a dealer in dogs and thus described what he wanted. "I'll want a kind of dog about so high as 'so long. It's a kind of gr'y'ound, an' yet it ain't a gr'y'ound, because 'is tyle is shorter nor any of those 'ere gr'y'ounds, an' 'is nose is shorter, an' 'e ain't so slim round the body. But still 'e's a kind of 'gr'y'ound. Do you keep such dogs?" "We do not," said the dog man. "We drown 'em."

His Busy Season.
"How's business?"
"Brisk," answered the druggist. "I've bought tickets for two picnics and four excursions this morning, and donated goods for several indoor affairs."

Playing the Market.
"Curbroke never pays for his meat until a month afterward."
"So I hear. Prices in the meantime go up, and he feels as though he'd made something."—Puck.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take. Do not gripe.

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS' SHORTSTOP MUST FORGET YOURSELF

JACK BARRY.

FRANK PFEFFER, Cub pitcher, probably has the most thankless job that a ball player could have. Every afternoon Frank gets on the slab. But no thousands cheer him and the ball game does not hinge upon whether the batter gets a single or is fanned. For it is the time of the batting practice. It's a thankless job, when you come to think of it—this pitching to batters during the practice. For 15 minutes you stand out there pitching the best you have. One after another your pals walk up to the plate, take a swing at the ball, and the next man comes up. No interest, no excitement. Just the monotony of serving balls to brighten the batting eyes of the regulars. Pfeffer, although he joined the teams in the spring, has not started a game this year. He has finished several, but only after they had been hopelessly lost. The Cub regulars have an idea that if Pfeffer has ever the opportunity that he could start and win his own game. That's the opinion of the fellows who bat against him in the practice every day. And, maybe, some time Frank will have that opportunity. He's waiting for it. Meanwhile, if there is any man who works without pay it is the pitcher who does nothing but pitch in the preliminary batting practice. It's work for him without any of the excitement, without any of the applause that is given to the pitcher out there fighting to win a game for his team. Pfeffer was a University of Illinois man once, but signed with the Cubs, and then was traded to Boston, only to be taken back later. He is the style of man and baseball player that Chance admires.

While you are talking about the star shortstops of the American league don't forget Jack Barry of the Athletics. In Philadelphia they say he is the best in either league. In Boston this is disputed. They say Wagner of the Speed Boys is the real thing. Detroit thinks Owen's Bush has it on either of them. But this fellow Barry goes along taking care of the hard ones, delivering hits when they are wanted and playing an all round sensational game. It's a great question, who's the best shortstop this year, but at any rate Barry will have to be figured in the running. Ever hear of a baseball game being forfeited twice in the same day and on each occasion to a different team? It sounds like a pipe dream from the winter Friesland league, but it actually happened last Fourth of July in Mobile, Ala. in the Southern league. Charlie Frank's New Orleans Pelicans were scheduled to play two games with Mobile on Independence day, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. It is a league rule that the two games on all holidays shall be played this way, and all the receipts are pooled and divided equally among the clubs. The Mobile management wanted to play a doubleheader in the afternoon, and thought that Manager Frank would agree to it, as it would mean more money. But they failed to get permission to do this from the league directors. It so happened that Frank needed games in the "won" column at that time more than he did a few extra strikeouts. So he told the Mobile management that he was going to play a morning and an afternoon game. But they laughed at him. At ten o'clock Frank and his Pelican flock rode out to the ball field with Empire Billy Carpenter in tow. Before they arrived there the Mobile club got wind of it and had the park closed. A deserted and locked park greeted the Pelicans on their arrival. But Frank ordered everyone to scale the 12-foot fence. How the Pelicans, and especially chabby Charlie Frank, got over the fence is a question, but they flew over all right. Empire Carpenter refused to participate in so undignified an affair. So the players opened one of the gates and let him in. Otto Hans pitched seven balls over the plate, and Carpenter forfeited the game to New Orleans. The team then went back to the hotel. The Mobile management had added a double-header and the game was crowded to the overflow in the afternoon. New Orleans won the game and then started to leave for home. The Mobile club officials had gotten next to the umpire and

"KITTY" BRANSFIELD, PHILLIES' FIRST BASEMAN, SAYS INDIVIDUAL PLAYING AND BRILLIANCY DON'T BRING VICTORIES.

By "KITTY" BRANSFIELD. (Copyright, 1910, by Joseph B. Bowles.) I used to think that baseball consisted mainly of individual playing, brilliancy and ability to hit and run and field. It took a long time for me to learn that there is little more to the game than working hard, studying hard and putting forth one's best effort to win games. Forgetting oneself and working for the team, making as many errors as it is possible to make if there is a chance to get one's hands on the ball, giving up base hits to get runs for the team, are what count. Also I think that a player who joins a club should first of all think how he can help his manager. No matter what he thinks of the team, the manager or the orders, the players should obey. I think learning to obey without questioning and then keeping one's mouth shut no matter how it turns out is the hardest thing a ball player has to learn. Some of us never learn it. Failure to learn this thing spoils many players. I would urge a young player just breaking in to do two things; first to think and study, and second, but even more important, to keep quiet, no matter what he thinks. A player should save all his conversation for the other team. As for playing first base, there are those who would consider me presumptuous to try to tell anyone how to play first, but also one may know a lot more about playing the position than he is able to show or even prove. I think I know a lot more that I can deliver, and I think, also, if I had known as much when I started as I do now I would have been a lot better ball player, so there is no conceit in trying to tell how I think it should be played.

Then the crowd swarmed down on the field and as a hornet, while Frank and his team folded their tents like the Arabs and silently stole away to the hotel and incidentally caught the first train out of town. Mention the New Orleans team to a Mobile fan and he will get purple with rage. But Frank's trick was successful, for the game which was twice forfeited was awarded to New Orleans by the league.

Here's a Sensational Play. Anderson, outfielder of the Deep Haven (Minn.) team, promises to eclipse in historic game Casey of Mudville. In a game with the Prince Realty team of Minneapolis on Excelsior diamond some time ago Anderson caught a fly, shutting off three runners. After a long run Anderson fell into the lake, turned on his back, and caught the fly, swam to shore, and Deep Haven won. This was in the eighth, and the score 9 to 4 in favor of Deep Haven. The umpire says he knew Anderson caught the ball, because he lives in Deep Haven and knows the fielder cannot dive. Knows the fielder cannot dive.

McGraw Buys Real Giant. Manager McGraw of the Giants has closed a deal for the purchase of Pitcher Tesserau of the Shreveport team of the Texas league. Tesserau is a big right hander, six feet three inches, and weighs 240. It is not known whether the Shreveport club charged for him by the pound, but if the man makes good he will cost the New York club $3,000. McGraw will pay one-third of that anyhow, just to give Tesserau a trial. Owner Kinisella of the Springfield (Ill.) team has offered McGraw the first chance to bid for an infielder named McLean.

Westerners to Invade Pittsburg. Again the story that western baseball men are negotiating for Luna park, a 13-acre site in the heart of the residence district of Pittsburg, has gained currency. J. A. Sharp, agent for the property, admits that the grounds have been surveyed at the expense of several westerners, who are negotiating for them, and says he "understands that the property is wanted for baseball purposes." The price of the property is $250,000.

Cubs-Giant Games Weird. There is something weird about the games played by the Cubs and Giants. Let McGraw's team go down the line wallowing in a cuffling the other outfits, but they are sure to come to grief in Chicago. But let them be trampled on by a tall-order like Boston and they rush into the Windy City as raging lions and claw the Cubs right and left. They did it last season and have been doing it again this year.

Would Let Them Play Ball. George Huff, athletic director of the University of Illinois and the chief scout of the Cubs during the scouting season, is of the firm conviction that the conference colleges ought to allow college men to play baseball during the summer months. There is nothing wrong about sanctioning a young fellow making an honest living to help him through school.

Stricklett Wants Pardon. Elmer Stricklett, the inventor of the spit ball, has been given his release at his own request by the Eureka (Cal.) club. He has asked to be reinstated by the national commission and he will wait for the verdict while resting at his ranch near San Jose.

Hurst Still At It. Umpire Tim Hurst is still calling them "as he sees them" in the Eastern league. The veteran Timothy has as a side partner Stafford, who was a member of the American league staff two years ago.

Gotch a Baseball Magnate. Frank Gotch, champion heavy-weight wrestler of the world, has broken into baseball by purchasing the Lake City team, a member of a brush league in Iowa. The team was transferred to Humboldt, the wrestler's home. It has been known for some time that Gotch has wanted to become a baseball magnate, having attempted to purchase the Des Moines team in the Western league.

Aggrieved Visitor Agrees With Man Who Spoke About the Better Part of Valor.

Bishop William M. McViekar of the Episcopal diocese of Rhode Island has hundreds of Boston friends who will be interested in a story they are telling down in Providence about him. The bishop is as big physically as he is mentally. On a certain occasion some years ago he preached a sermon on the need for missionary work in the back towns of his state, and especially mentioned the town of Foster, which certainly deserved as much as he said about it. There are a good many fighters in Foster, and the worst of the lot announced to all who cared to hear that when he went to Providence he would make it his business to chastise the bishop. He didn't happen to visit the city until a month or so ago. On his return he joined the crowd about the stove in the village post-office. "Well, hi," said one of the gray-beards. "Did ye lick this here Parson Vickyar when ye was down to Providence?" "Hi spat deliberately before he replied. "Lick him!" he said. "Say, he's eight foot tall and four foot broad. Lick him? I 'saw' him!"—Boston Traveler.

Wonder Why. Said the proprietor of the big drug store with a soda fountain annex, to his white-jacketed dispenser: "Jimmy, you will have to cut out that new drink of yours; I notice that every man who comes in and tries it immediately begins to feel around for the brass rail with his foot."

The machine was restored after legal formalities.

The Tenderfoot Farmer
It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations. It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness. To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use. Is the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."
