Grace Hamilton, who is holding down a claim in Rock county, was compelled to return to her home here last week by reason of the shack on her claim being destroyed by fire. The fire is supposed to have caught in the grass in the door yard, and before it could be whittled out the house caught, and was consumed with all the contents. She will erect another house, and again take up her residence on her claim.

Allen P Kennet was found guilty of bigamy Wednesday in the district court in Sioux City. The penalty is five years in the penitentiary. Kennet was married to Laverne E Rathbun at Mason City, Iowa, February 21, 1910, but claimed the marriage was not legal, and on October 17, 1910 was married in Sioux City to Linnie F Rockwell, of Homer. The jury decided that the first marriage was legal and brought in a conviction.

An enthusiastic mass meeting of the citizens of Dakota City and vicinity was held at the court house Wednesday night to discuss the matter of a site for the new school building. Of the three town squares available for school purposes the one south of the S W Foltz house seemed to be in favor, with the block south of the elevator second choice. It was also suggested that the district purchase the block west of Wm Bierman residence, which would make a desirable location. The matter of voting on a site will be presented to the voters at an election to be called later.

HOMEMAKERS' CLUB MEETING

An interesting meeting of the Dakota County Homemakers' Club was held Saturday afternoon of last week in the court room.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman and the minutes of the two previous meetings read by the secretary and approved.

The financial report of the Club was read.

The discussion "Preparing Meat for Summer Use," led by Mrs Geo Miller, brought out different methods and several choice recipes were given.

"Spring Work in and Around the Home" was the subject of a general discussion by the Club.

"Sweet Pea Culture," by Mrs J J Viets, was a very interesting paper, followed by a general discussion.

For select reading, "Wonderful Men," read by Mrs C H Maxwell, "Mrs Mulligan's Recipe for Cakes," an Irish dialect selection by Mrs J F Sides and "The Hobble Skirt," a parody on the "Song of the Shirt," read by Mrs E W Nordyke, were all much enjoyed.

A description of the "Fireless Cooker," its uses and many advantages, was given by Mrs Geo Bates.

The papers "Springtime Suggestions," by Mrs H J Rooney, and "Women of the Present," by Mrs W L Ross, were very instructive and entertaining.

A very interesting description of St Augustine, Florida, and the surrounding country was given by Mrs R E Evans—a description of its churches, the most modern and the old mission church over 300 years old, its dungeons, slave market, hotels, and the customs and habits of the people were given.

Miss Ruby Dierking gave a very pleasing recitation, "The Little Quaker Singer."

The book review, "Ramona," given by Mrs W H Bradford was a good description of the book and its characters and was well enjoyed by the audience.

Mrs M B Slocum read a very practical paper, "The Woman in Business." It was written in a humorous style and held the attention of the audience.

The vocal duet by Vera and Frankie Brown with Mrs Harry Rowan accompanied in singing "Sense Me Today," was exceptionally fine.

At the close of the program the annual election of officers was held. The officers elected for the year were: President, Mrs A J Kramer; Vice-President, Mrs Geo Bates; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs S A Stinson; Executive committee, Mrs C H Bryant, Mrs Geo Miller, Mrs Elmer Blessing, Mrs J W Winebrenner and Mrs Elizabeth Haase.

Those attending from neighboring towns were, Mesdames W H Bradford, M B Slocum, Herman Fouts, Martha Shabe, W H Mason, J W Winebrenner, T F Monahan, H J Rooney, James Tobin, J Sivill and Miss Mary Monahan, South Sioux City; Mrs Roy Armour Homer and Mrs E W Nordyke, Sioux City. Over 50 were present and several new members joined the Club.

NEW INTERURBAN ROAD PROJECTED

The first real interurban railroad in the state of Nebraska, embracing 284 miles of track and bringing Sioux City, Iowa; Elk City, Decatur, Norfolk and many other populous cities and towns into close communion with Omaha, is shortly to be a reality, according to the plans announced yesterday by the Baker construction company of this city.

The name of the company is the Nebraska Transportation company and actual work of construction is about to begin, as fully sixty miles of right-of-way has been secured.

The contract for building the road has been awarded to the Baker Construction company, with offices at 314 Range building, Omaha.

The road will run from Omaha to Elk City and will double track to that point. From Elk City the line will go in two directions, one running north to Sioux City, Ia, and will be ninety-eight miles in length, while the other line will run in a northwesterly direction from Elk City to Norfolk passing through a rich and populous section of the state, and will be about 100 miles in length.

Franchises in Fremont and Decatur have already been secured and work in obtaining them elsewhere is progressing rapidly. Other terminal arrangements have also been made.

The road will, in all probability, enter Omaha via Leavenworth street, thus giving interurban service direct to the large retail stores of this city.

The cost of this immense undertaking will be $8,000,000, and it is being franchised in Europe. The arrangements that have been made are entirely satisfactory to the officers of the company. C W Baker of the Baker Construction company returned a few days ago from New York City, where he was for five weeks conducting negotiations with European capital for the taking of the securities.

The details are now being disposed of as rapidly as possible and the construction company is getting ready to let sub contracts. It is anticipated that the road will be completed in about two and one-half years.

The construction company has secured the services of W E King, formerly with the Illinois Traction company, who has charge of the engineering work. No pains will be spared to rush the work of construction as rapidly as possible.

It will be the purpose of the management to give local interurban service between Omaha and Decatur every two hours, a distance of sixty-seven miles, and it is also expected that through service between Omaha and Sioux City will be had every two hours. In addition there will be local interurban service between Sioux City and West Point, Neb, every two hours. There will also be through service between Omaha and Norfolk, with Madison connections, every two hours.

An immense power plant, designed to generate enough electricity to operate the entire system, will be built on the Elkhorn river two miles west of Elk City and will generate 21,000-horse power. The shops of the road will also be located at that point, which is twenty-one miles from Omaha.

The line will be constructed of the best material throughout and the track laid of heavy steel. It is especially designed to handle special interurban business, as well as all classes of freight.

The construction of this road has been practically under cover for the last two years and up to the present time its promoters felt that it would not be wise to give too much publicity to their plans. But now that they are fully matured, financial arrangements completed to the entire satisfaction of the officers of the company they have consented to make known to the public their arrangements for the building of the road, which is destined to bring Omaha and its business interests into quick and direct communication with the city and its connections will pass.

Notice.

All persons having fenced streets within the last two years are hereby ordered to open same or they will be opened by the town marshal, by order of the town board. Those having fenced prior to two years ago must pay the rent on same at once or they will be opened.

JAMES FURSTEN, Town Marshal.

Farmers' Tribune Becomes Farmer and Breeder.

The Herald is in receipt of an announcement of the change of name of Farmers' Tribune to Farmer and Breeder. Farmers' Tribune was established in 1878 and has been published in Sioux City, Iowa, since 1904. The publishers, Farmer and Breeder company, emphasize the fact that the change is in name only, as the men who have so successfully conducted the business since it was brought to Sioux City will continue in charge. Farmer and Breeder is owned, edited and published by northwestern farmers and breeders. H G McMillan is president and general manager and John Thompson, editor. Both of these men are highly successful farmers and stockmen and own and operate farms in connection with their newspaper work. Farmer and Breeder is a most appropriate name for that publication. Its scope fully covers the live stock industry and the grain farmer is fully as well served by the publication as the breeder. We are advised, however, that it is the intention of the publishers to devote more attention to live stock and breeding features in the future. We believe this is a good move, because the future of this great agricultural territory depends upon how much live stock our farms produce. A liberal production of live stock in this country will solve the greatest problem of conserving our natural resources—a retention of the fertility of our soil.

"The Bank that ALWAYS treats you RIGHT"

WATCH YOUR SEED THIS YEAR—ESPECIALLY YOUR Seed Corn

Dakota County can add a few hundred thousand bushels of corn to its usual fine crop this year—IF EVERYBODY SELECTS GOOD SEED.

A little selfishness in this advice, for we wish every farmer to prosper this year, so he can be happy, pay his debts, and put a good sum at interest here in this good bank, that is "as safe as a Government Bond." When the farmer prospers—Everybody smiles and is happy. Plenty of money for good loans—all the time. Lowest rates.
