Why Drinking Men Can't Make Good

Their Systems are Storehouses of Alcoholic Poison
The Neal Treatment Removes This Poison in Three Days.
Every month has its full quota of business failures.
The basic cause of a large percentage of these failures is due to the inattention of employers and employees caused by alcoholism.
No man can fill himself full of liquor and properly attend to his business duties. He is handicapped in the discharge of duty at every angle. He loses personal influence and prestige, the confidence of his friends in particular, and the public in general. Ruin is certain, but not necessarily so.
Any drinking man can easily and immediately ward off threatening disaster by giving three days of his time to the Neal Three Day Treatment. It will prove to be a fine investment.
Excessive drinkers who simply rely on will power to end their folly find their resolutions overruled by craving and desire for liquor which soon drags them back to the old ways in spite of themselves. These men are to be pitied rather than blamed. They can't help it. They need medical help as badly as does the victim of fever. What people call "liquor appetite" is really the result of accumulated alcoholic poisoning. The hard drinker's system is impregnated with alcoholic poison which has been taken on too fast for nature to expel it. It is this stored up poison which causes the intense craving and desire which more liquor only temporarily satisfies. The Neal Treatment in three days' time neutralizes and eliminates the accumulated poison, whenupon the slave of drink immediately becomes master of himself. He returns to his home, resumes his business duties with nerves restored, faculties brightened and all desire for liquor completely removed.
The Neal Treatment consists of the administration by regular physicians who are in constant attendance, of a perfectly harmless vegetable remedy taken internally, with positively no hypodermic injections.
While undergoing treatment the patient enjoys all the privacy and comforts of home, club or hotel. Names are never divulged and all correspondence is held in strictest confidence. Home treatment can be arranged for those who prefer it. If you have a relative or friend who ought to rid himself of the drink habit don't delay a day. Call, write or phone the

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Men are born with two eyes, but with one tongue, that they may see twice as much as they say.—Cotton.
Owing to eye trouble Mabel Bierman is forced to quit school for the remainder of the year. She will spend the summer with her parents in Tripp, S D, and will return next fall to again take up her school work. Mabel is one of the leaders in her grade.
Eva Graham completed the 8th grade examination satisfactorily in one trial and Marg Schriever has but one grade to raise. These two girls should make strong high school students.

The basket ball girls have purchased a few new suits and are now practicing for matched games. No parent should object to their daughter playing in either practice or matched games but should encourage them. Our girls need physical development and basket ball does not aid to do only that but also teaches the girls to be true ladies under firm discipline. All games will be under supervision of the school.

A compound microscope and several other articles have been purchased for the school laboratory.
Do not forget that you are interested in a new school site and that you are to aid in its selection May 6th.

Farmers' Tribune Becomes Farmer and Breeder.
The Herald is in receipt of an announcement of the change of name of Farmers' Tribune to Farmer and Breeder. Farmers' Tribune was established in 1878 and has been published in Sioux City, Iowa, since 1904. The publishers, Farmer and Breeder company, emphasize the fact that the change is in name only, as the men who have so successfully conducted the business since it was brought to Sioux City will continue in charge. Farmer and Breeder is owned, edited and published by northwesterner farmers and breeder, H G McMillan, is president and general manager and John Thompson, editor. Both of these men are highly successful farmers and stockmen and own and operate farms in connection with their newspaper work. Farmer and Breeder is a most appropriate name for that publication. Its scope fully covers the live stock industry and the grain farmer is fully as well served by the publication as the breeder. We are advised, however, that it is the intention of the publishers to devote more attention to live stock and breeding features in the future. We believe this is a good move, because the future of this great agricultural territory depends upon how much live stock our farms produce. A liberal production of live stock in this country will solve the greatest problem of conserving our natural resources—a retention of the fertility of our soil.
