Considerable alarm is being expressed by some that Crystal Lake would go dry and spoil the place as a fishing ground and summer resort. You can allay your fears on that score, for when hot weather comes and the booze begins to flow as it did in years passed by, the lake will assume its normal stage, and the fish stories will sound even better and bigger than before. So never fear, the water in Crystal Lake will never "vanish" as long as the locality is run on a "wet" basis.
