Ponca Journal: George Bray, the ten year old son of Mr and Mrs Geo Bray, died Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St Joseph's hospital at Sioux City, from a species of blood poison, superinduced by a blow on the leg while playing shinny. His father, Rev Geo Bray, who has been in the west for some time, was telegraphed for, and arrived in Sioux City, Monday. Dr R E Bray, of Ponca, a brother, was with him at the hospital. Deceased was injured the early part of last week, and within a few days was taken to the hospital. The funeral took place Wednesday at 1 o'clock, from the Presbyterian church.

Sioux City Journal, 3rd: Announcement has been made by the Kruger Brewing company that the capacity of the plant it proposes to erect at South Sioux City will be 10,000. Plans of the plant are being drawn. Fred A Wood, of the special committee of the Crystal Lake Improvement association appointed to open the natural water ways leading into Crystal lake, yesterday said, this work, long delayed, surely would be started this week. The funeral services of Clyde Burdick, the only son of Mr and Mrs G E Burdick, 2107 Morningside avenue, will be held from the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev R Clifford Gully will officiate. Interment will be in Graceland cemetery.

Walthill Times: Jack Christopherson, of Crofton, a young man with excellent discrimination, was in Walthill a couple of days this week. Deputy U S Marshal Sides was in town Sunday and took Turner Strickland to Omaha on the afternoon train. Lonnie Priest, the Winnebago Indian who was sent to the penitentiary last winter for giving liquor to another Indian, was pardoned last week by Governor Aldrich. The pardon was recommended by Judge Guy T Graves, before whom he was tried. Priest is an ignorant man who does not speak English and probably did not realize his offense or comprehend the laws of the state, and his punishment has been ample, considering the circumstances.

Winnebago Chieftain: Miss Mary Herman went to Homer, Saturday evening. Miss Mollie Foltz is clerking in the C J O'Connor store in Winnebago. Sam Brown was here last week calling on some of his old Homer friends. Mrs T T Harris was in Walthill, Monday, to see her brother, Omar, and wife. Mr and Mrs Andrew Allaway were down from Homer, yesterday afternoon, accompanying Mr and Mrs M B Mansfield, via auto, to see the football game. Foot ball score for high school championship of northeast Nebraska, 1 to 0 in Winnebago's favor. Jackson for the game after 30 minutes of hard fighting. J J Scollard moved, this week, onto a 200-acre place, two miles west of Dakota City. Mr Scollard has worked 160 acres near the Agency for the past two years. Success to you, J J, in your new location. Those from this vicinity who attended the recent last Friday evening at the high school in Homer, were: Misses Clara and Tillie Holworth, E H Paugh and wife, Geo Van Houten, and Mrs Fannie Straight. The entertainment was very well rendered.

Homer Star: S W McKinley made a trip to Bassett the first of the week looking after business interests. A boy and a girl, twins, were born to Mr and Mrs Ross Polly, Tuesday night. They only lived a short time however. The 5-month-old child of A Collison living northeast of Homer, died Tuesday morning and was buried in the Taylor cemetery yesterday afternoon. Mr and Mrs Geo W Ashford spent Saturday and Sunday at Lincoln. George took in the foot ball game between Michigan and Nebraska university teams. Hugh Carney, the other member of Caney Bros, liverymen, was quietly married at Sturgis, S D, last Thursday, according to reports received by our fellow townsman. Mr Carney expects his brother and bride in Homer shortly. Constable Goodsell was called to the Swingle place on upper Fiddler creek, Sunday, to put a stop to a family row that was in progress. The mixup was between Charles Freney and his wife who are working at the above mentioned place and we are informed that axes and other deadly weapons were taken away from the combatants by neighbors. It seems that the dove of peace hovered over their domestic troubles again for they quit their job and shipped their household effects from Homer yesterday. George Harris sold to Tim O'Connor, Tuesday afternoon, a Poland China sow that tipped the beam at 842 pounds. This is the largest porker that was ever marketed in Homer. The price paid for this nearly half a ton of pork was $50 per hundred and brought $48.85. It is too bad Mr Harris did not have this sow on the market when less than two years ago the buyers in Homer were paying ten cents a pound for hogs. She would have brought $84.20. Mr Harris is noted for raising heavy Poland-China hogs and seldom markets any that will not average around 450 pounds.

Sioux City Journal, 5th: Representatives of the commercial clubs of Sioux City and South Sioux City and of the business men of Dakota City failed to accomplish anything definite at their meeting yesterday at the Commercial club dining room regarding the proposition to secure a free wagonway across the combination bridge. Many plans were discussed, but definite action will not be taken before another meeting is held. An emblem bearing the initials "J. B. G." is being worn by Morningside college coeds rooming in Marion hall. The exact significance of the letters has been kept secret, although members do not hesitate to admit a society has been formed. Gentlemen callers at the hall have been informed that for every visit a certain fine is imposed on the entertaining girl, varying in severity according to the length of the visit. The object of the organization, it is said, is to discourage flirtations on the part of members. The hall has been noted in former years as a haunt of Dan Cupid. The girls who wear the new pin are: Anna Rieke, Lois Gilman, Esther Ross, Bethel Smith, Clara Crummer, Edna Rieke, Ruth Dunn, Lydia McCreary, Ruth Rieke, Minnie Nelson and Sarah Whitehouse. A lone burglar, described as "wearing fur carlaps and a Roman nose," boldly kicked a hole in the front window of the Horton store in South Sioux City about 1 a m yesterday, followed his foot into the building, and was sent scampering out by the brisk fire from the revolver of a night watchman, who has been sleeping in the store since recent raids by robbers on the bank and stores of the town. The watchman got rid of four bullets while the intruder was hotfooting it for safety, and thinks one of them found lodgment "just northeast of the burglar's hip pocket." A report of the affair was made to Chief of Police J B Richardson early yesterday by the South Sioux City marshal and by Sheriff J P Rockwell, of Dakota county. Officers have been scouring the country to find a man fitting the description given by the watchman, without success. He is thought to have crossed the combination bridge into Sioux City before daylight.

of her daughter, Mrs Oliver Smith, was learned that his right name was Robert Bowen. The sheriff at Hastings was communicated with by phone and the description tallied so closely with the man wanted that the Hastings sheriff came here Saturday, bringing another party to identify the prisoner. But it seems something happened in the meantime, and when the Iowa sheriff, who is a relative by marriage to the fugitive, arrived on the scene, he and the man who accompanied him decided it was the wrong party, and Sheriff Rockwell and Marshal Taylor now think that some one slipped over on them, and the hope of sharing in the $500 reward offered for the man now goes glimmering.
