

Air Laws.
Whitbur Wright, at a tea in Dayton, said with a laugh:
"Already there are air laws, stringent as road laws. Without them we should soon be seeing advertisements like this:
"Two dollars reward will be paid by Mrs. John Doe for information leading to the identification of the aviator on a Wright motor car, while flying over my house yesterday afternoon, dropped a can of oil down my chimney and completely ruined a plum pudding I was cooking."

Another Duty.
"You are my wife's social secretary," he asks of the beautiful creature who is seated at the small desk in the study. "Yes, sir," she smiles. "I am supposed to take Mrs. Billrup's place in as many social details as possible."
"Well—er—she doesn't seem to be coming downstairs this morning and it has always been her custom to kiss me good-by when I start for the office."—Judge.

There never was a man as important as a bride expects her husband to be.

the city spread out before him. Daylight followed the movements of his three men as they drew together. Nathaniel Letton was at his office in the Mutual-Solander Building. Next arrived Guggenhammer. Dowsett was still in his own office. But at eleven came the word that he also had arrived, and several minutes later Daylight was in a hired motor-car and speeding for the Mutual-Solander Building.

CHAPTER IX.

Nathaniel Letton was talking when the door opened; he ceased, and with his two companions gazed with controlled perturbation at Burning Daylight striding into the room. The free, swinging movements of the trail-traveler were unconsciously exaggerated in that stride of his. In truth, it seemed to him that he felt the trail beneath his feet.

"Howdy, gentlemen, howdy," he remarked, ignoring the unnatural calm with which they greeted his entrance. He shook hands with them in turn, striding from one to another and gripping their hands so heartily that Nathaniel Letton could not forbear to wince. Daylight flung himself into a massive chair and sprawled lazily, with an appearance of fatigue. The leather grip he had brought into the room he dropped carelessly beside him on the floor.

"I've sure been going some," he sighed. "We sure trimmed them beautifully. It was real slick. And the beauty of the play never dawned on me till the very end. It was pure and simple knock down and drag out. And the way they fell it was amazing."

Letton made a dry sound in his throat. Dowsett sat quietly and waited, while Leon Guggenhammer struggled into articulation.

"You certainly have raised Cain," he said.

Daylight's black eyes flashed in a pleasant way.

"Didn't I, though!" he proclaimed, jubilantly. "And didn't we fool 'em! I was teetotally surprised. I never dreamed they would be that easy. And now," he went on, not permitting the pause to grow awkward, "we all might as well have an accounting. I'm pullin' West this afternoon on that blamed 'Twentieth Century.' He tugged at his grip, got it open, and dipped into it with both his hands. "But don't forget, boys, when you-all want me in horseable Wall Street another flutter, all you-all have to do is whisper the word. I'll sure be right there with the goods."

For a While Murder Ate at His Heart.

boiling under a false impression, and he should be set straight.

"I fear you are under a misapprehension, Mr. Harnish. There are no winnings to be divided with you. Now don't get excited, I beg of you. I have but to press this button..."

"I'll see you hanged," was Dowsett's retort.

"Not by a damned sight. When the fun starts, you're the first I plug. I'll hang all right, but you-all won't live to see it. You-all die here and now while I'll die subject to the law's delay—savee? Being dead, with grass growing out of your carcasses, you won't know when I hang, but I'll sure have the pleasure a long time of knowing you-all beat me to it."

"You surely won't kill us?" Letton asked in a queer, thin voice.

"It's sure too expensive. You-all ain't worth it. I'd sooner have my chips back. And I guess you-all'd sooner give us chips back than go to the dead-house."

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

The wonder of baking powders—Calumet. Wonderful in its raising powers—its uniformity, its never failing results, its purity. Wonderful in its economy. It costs less than the high-price trust brands, but it is worth as much. It costs a trifle more than the cheap and big can kinds—it is worth more. But proves its real economy in the baking. Use CALUMET—the Modern Baking Powder. At all Grocers.

Effete Briton.

Booth Tarkington, the American playwright and novelist, is a very early riser, and when the English playmaker and novelist, Arnold Bennett, visited him at his charming residence in Indianapolis, Mr. Tarkington said, the first evening at dinner: "I like in the simple life. I get up with the sun. Will you take a ten-mile walk with me at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning?" "Thank you, Mr. Tarkington," the Englishman answered, "but I don't walk in my sleep."

Kaiser as Writer.

The German emperor, had he been born a composer and chosen newspaper writer as a profession, would without doubt have become one of the most famous journalists of the day. He has written a great deal which has never seen the light, but which will doubtless be published in the future. Recently the emperor assisted in the preparation of an article entitled "How the Kaiser Works," for the Strand Magazine, the proof sheets which he read and corrected himself.

The Difference.

"After all, there isn't much difference between the editor and the office boy."

Signs of a Winner.

"Does your wife win at bridge?" "I don't know for sure," replied Mr. Meekton, "but I think so. The women all look as if they disliked her very much, but they keep on inviting her to play."

Foresighted.

Bobby—Mabel, I want you to marry me. Mabel—But we're only ten. Bobby—I know that, but I'm leaving my order in advance.

Talking No Chances.

"You say the elopement was sort of forced upon you?" "Yes, after she came down the rope ladder her father pulled it up."—Stray Stories.

Happy Future.

Appropos of the marriage at Reigate of Alfred Guyard, Viscount and Mrs. Hollis McKim, a New York man said on the Olympic: "I met Vanderbilt at the Metropole at Brighton a few days after the ceremony, and I said to him, by way of a joke: "Well, is the course of true love going to run smooth?" "Smooth and straight," said he. "There are banks on both sides, you know."

Sloan's Liniment is a great remedy for backache. It penetrates and relieves the pain instantly—no rubbing necessary—just lay it on lightly.

Here's Proof.

"I had my back hurt in the Boer War and in San Francisco two years ago. I was hit by a street car in the same place. I tried all kinds of drugs without success. A few weeks ago I saw your advertisement in a drug store and got a bottle to try. The first application brought me relief, and now except for a little stiffness, I am almost well."

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free of charge the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them. Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases. It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.
