 Official Paper of Dakota County

The first issue of the Nebraska Progressive, published at Lincoln, Neb., found its way to our desk last week. D. C. Van Dusen and Will S. Jay are its editors. It succeeds the Nebraska State Capital.

Sixteen years ago, says the Wayne Herald, the cost of living was too low, and everybody was hard up. Now the cost of living is too high, and everybody is prosperous. Sixteen years ago farm products were hardly worth hauling to market, and there were a half dozen men for every job at low wages. Now whatever a farmer raises he knows is marketable at profitable prices and every man, willing to work, is employed at good wages. There was a good deal of complaint sixteen years ago and there is a good deal of complaint now. What we demanded sixteen years ago we have got now. Does anybody really know what he is kicking about.

Horse Owners of the Missouri Valley Take Notice—Important!

At a meeting of the prominent veterinarians at Lincoln, called at the instance of Governor Adair, to investigate the disease commonly called Forage Poisoning or Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis, the following precautions were recommended:

1. All horses and mules should be removed from pastures and placed in barns or dry lots which are entirely free from vegetation.
2. Last year's or an early cutting of this year's hay should be fed. Old grain should be used in preference to new or recently threshed grain. Add a small quantity of flaxseed meal to the feed morning and night and continue until a laxative effect is produced.
3. Water with a bucket directly from the well. Where tanks must be used, scrub and rinse the water tanks thoroughly. When dry give a coat of lime whitewash. Wash the tank every week as long as the disease exists in the neighborhood.
4. When once the disease attacks an animal the power to swallow is more or less impaired and owners should exercise due caution in administering any medicine in the form of a drench. So far, medical treatment is unsatisfactory. In the light of present information more good can be accomplished along the line of prevention.
5. We recommend that all horses and mules dying from this disease should be buried or buried six feet under ground and one bushel of lime used on each and every carcass.
6. We also recommend that animals dying from this disease should not be skinned since transportation of such skins may spread the disease.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriole, Pa. That is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. For sale by all dealers.

try sprained his ankle very badly last week in getting down from a hay stack which he had been helping to put up. Cecil Demme and Walter McLaughlin were offered a free auto ride to Sioux City last Friday and were too greedy to let the chance slip by. The benevolent person was a stranger from Sioux City who drove an old heavy "Ramblor." The war engine painted its last three miles on the other side of Nacora and the boys walked back to the junction where they caught the train to Emerson that day.

Gibson, P. B. Harding, J. A. Duffly, Henry Aaron, colored, and Hugh Graham, of Dakota City, Neb. Running without the proper lights or number plates were the offenses. Graham was the driver of the car which struck T. W. Jordan, 1215 Nebraska street, yesterday afternoon. R. C. Reick, who was accused of driving on the wrong side of the street, forfeited a cash bond.

Sioux City Journal, 13th: Failing to find in Sioux City the doctor whom he wished to consult, W. H. George, 69 years old, returned to his home in South Sioux City and within a few hours died of a heart attack. Mrs. George and two of the children were in the room at the time. Her husband was sitting in a chair and had complained about his heart. A physician was called after he was stricken, but Mr. George died before he arrived. Mr. George had been a resident of South Sioux City for twenty-two years. He was born in Richwood county, Ohio, coming to Iowa in 1856, but returned to Ohio in 1861 and enlisted in the army. He returned to Iowa at the close of the war, settling near Waverly. In 1890 Mr. George married Miss Libbie Rock. Mrs. George and five children survive him. They are Earl George, Ralph George, Glenn George, Gladys George and Mirra George.

Lincoln State Journal, 15th: Miss Cora E. Sinclair, of this city and Geo. Wilkins, of Dakota City, Neb., were married at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 2845 Starr street. The pretty home wedding was carried out with taste and dignity. The sister of the bride, Miss Sadie E. Sinclair, played the "Lohengrin" wedding march as the bride descended the stairs. She was met at a bower of ferns and palms by the groom. The Rev. Charles Goman of the Epworth Methodist church officiated in the service. The bride was gowned in white crepe meteor, trimmed with pearls and bands of oriental lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The green and white decorations were carried out with ferns, palms and white carnations. Only relatives witnessed the ceremony. Immediately after the service a four course dinner was served. The decorations of the dining room were also in green and white. Miss Grace Fierce and Miss Sadie E. Sinclair assisted in the serving. Donoghue, of Chicago, were in Winnepago one day this week, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Banoroff. It would appear that real estate was on the more somewhat, as we notice the Beck-walter-Smith company, of Winnepago, recently closed one deal in Knox county for $30,000, and another in Omadi precinct, Dakota county, for $35,000. Besides these, Mr. Beck-walter, president of this company, handled the Nixon place, near Homer, for $45,000.

The funeral was held at the home of his parents Wednesday morning, Rev. J. L. Phillips, of South Sioux City, officiating, taking as his text John 14:6 "I am the way the truth and the life."
