Mother of Eighteen Children.

"I am the mother of eighteen children and have the praise of doing more work than any young woman in my town," writes Mrs. C. J. Martin, Boone Mill, Va. "I suffered for five years with stomach trouble and could not eat as much as a biscuit without suffering. I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 168 pounds. I can eat anything I want to as much as I want and feel better than I have at any time in ten years. I refer to anyone in Boone Mill or vicinity who will vouch for what I say. Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by all dealers."

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Items reproduced in the Sioux City Journal from files of twenty years ago, September 19, 1892:

Frank Hunt says that the talk of South Sioux City people about securing the removal of the Omaha shops from this city to the other side of the river is sheer nonsense. He says that the Omaha company was assessed $150,000 in Dakota county on its bridge property and that a representative of the company came there and got the assessment cut down to $100,000 by intimating the shops might be removed.

Information Concerning the Horse Plague.

The Edwards & Bradford Lbr. Co. have been in touch with dozens of towns in Kansas during the past week, trying to get authentic information as to the best method of fighting the horse plague which is now spreading over northeast Nebraska. They are mailing out letters to about 3,000 farmers this week and have asked their managers to give the information to the newspapers and to spread it all over their territory, because it is information that is reliable. The prescription given in their letter has been tried around Larned, Kansas, as recently as September 13 and the report is that this prescription gives the best results of any cure that has yet been tried. We give below the letter which the Edwards & Bradford Lbr Co. is sending out all over northeast Nebraska:

Dear Sir:—We understand that the horse disease which has killed nearly 20,000 horses in Kansas and a large number of hogs, has spread over the South Platte territory in Nebraska and has worked its way up into northeastern Nebraska. We give below points of information gathered from the experience of men who have been fighting the disease in Kansas and a prescription, which will be mentioned later in this letter. The information given below is valuable, because it comes from men who have made a careful study of the disease in Kansas.

1. In Kansas only horses that have been on pasture feed sick. No horse that has been kept off pasture has died. Not a single town horse has been sick or died in Larned, Kas.

2. The horses on pasture apparently contract the disease from eating the fungus on plants which have developed since the recent rains. Apparently horses fed on old hay and grain have not been affected.

3. Keep horses and mules off the pastures and give them clean feed and water and administer a laxative—RAW linsed oil and turpentine being about the best. This dose is best administered to a horse from a bottle, mixing two or three tablespoons full of turpentine with the RAW linsed oil, and feeding it into the horse's mouth from the bottle, the horse's head being held high so he will swallow it, and rubbing the throat on the outside to help it down. We would advise against trying to put this into the horse's nostrils, as it has better effect by feeding into the mouth.

4. Disinfect stables with a good disinfectant, such as formaldehyde, or carbolic acid, or some other good disinfectant. The farmer might better spend $5 to $10 in disinfecting his premises, than lose a few horses worth from $200 to $250 each.

5. Bleeding a horse in the early stages of the disease seems to do a lot of good. Some horses get wild, and others very quiet during the ravages, and this is due, the veterinarians say, to the clot of blood that forms on the brain settling on different nerve centers in the brain and causing the different actions of the horse. Ice packed around the head and neck of the wild ones, gives relief and in some cases cures. Feeding the horses milk in some cases does a lot of good.

6. Don't forget that flies are causing as much trouble with sick horses as anything else. Clean up around the barns and lots and disinfect the premises thoroughly, as suggested above. When a sick horse is discovered, he should be isolated from the well ones, and he should be covered up or sprayed with some anti fly dope so that he won't have to spend all his vitality in keeping the flies from eating him up. The horse should be made comfortable, and kept free from flies, as this gives the horse and the medicine a chance.

7. What seems to be a cure for the horse disease is now being tried around Larned, Kas. It is being used systematically, certain doses at certain hours, temperature being taken regularly, and the effects being noted regularly. Horses that do not eat, or can not eat or drink, are being fed and watered through the rectum, so they do not die of thirst or starvation. Flies are being kept away from the sick horses.

Now, we DO NOT give this prescription as a sure cure but recommend it as the best remedy that has yet been discovered. Most drug stores have in stock the ingredients of the formula.

Now, talk this matter over with your veterinarian and physician and in case the Hypo Injection is used for the first dose, it should be administered by a veterinarian or a doctor.

Remember, NEVER give more than one Hypo Injection and NEVER give more than one capsule a day. Give one capsule a day, twenty-four hours apart until temperature is normal 101 degrees. The Hypo Injection is to be used for the first dose ONLY and to be followed up with the capsules one day apart. A full course takes five days. If the horse's water or bowels are not working properly, these may be attended to every day. Clean up the premises, disinfect the stalls and mangers, as this disease is probably infectious and should be treated that way.

The prescriptions for the Hypo Injection and Capsule are given below:

Hypo Injection—
Quinine Bisulphate.....150 grains
Tartar Emetic.....1 grain
Styr. Sulphate.....1 grain
Salt solution (9%) to make 2 oz dosage.
Never give more than one Hypo Injection.

Capsule—
Quinine Sulphate.....150 grains
Calomel.....50 grains
Tartar Emetic.....1 grain
Styr. Sulphate.....1 grain
Bichloride of Mercury.....1 grain
Now we cannot give you much information as to handling the hogs, but would advise their being kept off the pastures, if the disease is in your vicinity, and that their quarters be disinfected as much as possible, and that they have plenty of clean water to drink.

If you have been fortunate enough not to have the disease strike your locality, would advise you to thoroughly disinfect your barns and stables as a first preventative.

We hope the above information will do you some good.

Yours very truly,
Edwards & Bradford Lbr. Co.

Select Your Seed Corn

THE WEEK OF
SEPT. 30th to OCT. 5th

Three Reasons Why

First—Corn in Nebraska is from one to three weeks late, due to the cool season. COOL SEASONS MEAN EARLY FROSTS.

Second—SEED CORN in Nebraska is scarce, due to the lack of good seed corn this spring.

Third—Early picked corn can be easily cured. Corn properly cured will not be injured by cold weather.

What it Means to You

By selecting SEED CORN early and properly caring for it, Nebraska will not face the serious condition it did this spring.

Well selected SEED CORN means an increase in yield from five to six bushels per acre.

Nebraska farmers will not be required to send out of the state for SEED CORN, thereby decreasing the yield.

Good Seed Means Bigger Yields

Nebraska, as well as the other states in the great corn belt suffered from a lack of seed corn this spring. Early frosts and heavy rains injured more than half the corn, that was to be used for seed. Fortunately, the condition was discovered in time to obviate great loss. That was accomplished by general testing.

You Can Get Good Seed

By an early selection of corn and proper care of it during the cold winter months, Nebraska will have plenty of good seed corn for 1913.

The Week of Sept. 30 to Oct. 5 has been designated as seed corn selection week.

Select Your Seed Corn During That Time. It Means DOLLARS to You.

Bulletins on the selection and care of Seed Corn prepared by Nebraska Experts will be furnished FREE OF COST, on application to either

Don't Burn Up Your New Dress

Scores of women will do it this winter, in some poor, old base burner; and they'll get very little warmth out of it, too.

Don't you think it would be a good idea to buy a First Class Favorite Base Burner, with Triple Exposed Flues, and save enough on your coal bills this winter to buy a new dress in the spring? It is a positive fact—the Favorite does burn less coal and throws out more heat than any other base burner made.

It took an organized body of stove experts nearly fifty years to perfect it. There is no other Base Burner like it, because the features that make it such a wonderful and economical heater are patented. • It is the most attractive and best made stove, too.

In the Triple exposed Flues you will find one reason why it will save fully one half on your coal bills. But there are many other reasons—too many to mention here. Come and see us, and we will show you that there is no other base burner that will compare with the Favorite.
