ONE OF WORST WEED PESTS

Horse Nettle Ranks with Canada Thistle and Quack Grass—One Method for Eradication.

We are again in receipt of our old friend, the horse nettle. This time it is a central Iowa correspondent who sends us the prickly-leaved, potato-blossomed weed, says Wallace's Farmer. He says that in the locality there is only one patch, and it is but sixty feet square. He wishes to know how to get rid of the weed.

As all of our older readers know, horse nettle ranks with Canada thistle and quack grass as one of the worst of the weed pests. It is degenerate relative of the potato and tomato, which spreads not only by abundant seeds, but by strong underground rootstocks. The only way to deal with such a pest is continually to prevent the leaves from spreading themselves out in the sunshine. Everything considered, probably the best method for our correspondent would be to take a sharp hoe and go over the patch every ten days, cutting off every horse nettle plant just below the surface of the ground. This treatment is troublesome, but with such a small patch it probably is the safest and best.

CAUTIONS FOR CEMENT USERS

Among Other Things Do Not Allow Material to Freeze Before It Is Properly Hardened.

Never expose freshly made concrete to the hot summer sun. Avoid too rapid drying out, says the American Cultivator.

Do not allow it to freeze before it is properly hardened. Do not use soft sand or brick except for filler in large work, and even then with discretion.

Do not apply fresh cement to old and hardened surfaces without first thoroughly soaking with water and backing a rough surface on it. Cleanse thoroughly and then apply a very thin, neat cement wash.

Do not attempt to retemper and use concrete that has stood too long in the mixing board and attained its set. Use a uniform Portland cement and give attention to uniform methods of working and the results will be uniform.

Use a finely ground cement. The finer the cement the greater covering properties it possesses and the more sand it can carry. An excess of cement is unnecessary, as a thin, even coating is all that is required.

Be sure to mix thoroughly. Many faulty jobs are due to poor mixing. Do not be afraid of overdoing it, as longer mixing permits of using less cement.

REMOVING A HEAVY HAY RACK

Excellent Method Is Described and Illustrated for Performing Job Without Much Hard Work.

In order to remove a heavy hay rack from the wagon and to reload again without any lifting, take two 2x6 pieces, eighteen feet long, two short and two longer posts. Set the posts about four feet apart and spike on long pieces as shown in the illustration. The lower ends of the pieces should be just high enough to come under the crosspieces of the hay rack, says the Iowa Homestead. To unload the rack drive between these two pieces and the rack will slip along on top of the planks as shown in the illustration. The rack can be loaded by reversing the operation.

Selecting Proper Fertilizers. Thousands of dollars are wasted in commercial fertilizers every year, not because the fertilizer is not all right but because we do not know whether the kind we use is the kind our land needs. It is a great study and one that we must make for ourselves.

Make some simple experiment this year. Put in a strip with fertilizer you have been in the habit of using, and just beside it another without it. This will be worth a great deal more to you than the opinion of some interested agents.

CAREFUL DRIVER OF HORSES

Some Men Can Get More Out of Animals in One Round With Plow Than Another Will in Two.

How many acres of tillable farm land will one horse work? This, of course, depends on the kind of farming done, on the kind of machinery used and on the efficiency of the man who works the horses. It would not be difficult to find 100 acres of tillable land worked in one case with two good horses and from this on up to six work horses. Probably more depends on the ability of the driver to handle his horses than any other one thing. Some drivers will take more out of their horses at one round with the plow than another will in two rounds. In one case the plowing is done in a haphazard sort of way, the horses are tangled at the ends, are backed and turned unnecessarily, are jerked viciously when out of line, and possibly the harnesses do not fit properly. In the other case the horses are given a steady, true gait which is kept up, the turns are smooth and without yelling and jerking and the driver watches the working of his plow and fit of his harnesses all day long. No team should be worked over an hour at hard pulling before the harnesses are looked over to see that all parts set properly. To some this carefulness comes naturally; to others it never will come. Efficiency in the driver means efficiency in the team, and it is a pleasure to see horses worked well.

HOW TO MAKE A CHEAP WELL

Wall Can Be Laid Five or Six Feet High, Arching It at Top With Large Stone for Covering.

It is impossible to drive a pipe for a well in some localities, and stones are scarce to lay a wall in a dug well, writes J. H. Andre of Wisconsin in the Farm and Home. In such cases the wall can be laid 5 or 6 feet high, arching it at the top with large stones to 15 or 18 inches in diameter, and cover it with a large flat stone, a with a hole in the center to admit a 6-inch pipe. Place a stone, b, in the bottom of the well 18 inches in diameter and 4 inches thick. Concrete is best. Make a concrete cone, c, 3 feet long, 16 inches in diameter, at the bottom, 3 inches thick and of a size to fit the bell end of an 8-inch sewer pipe at the top. The large end of the cone will need openings in the side to allow the water to enter freely when pumping. Place the large end of the cone on the stone.

The first length, d, of sewer pipe can be 8 inches. When the pipe, e, reaches above where the well is stoned it can be reduced to 6 inches a few lengths and then to 4 inches.

Making Cheap Well.

Four feet of the pipe at the top of the well should be iron to avoid breaking when handling the pump. Nearly all of the dirt can be placed back in the well which saves the expense of drawing it away. When placing the dirt back in the well keep a round stick in the pipe as large as the pipe will admit. This will keep the sewer pipe straight and it need not be put in place faster than the well is filled up.

More Profitable System. If the farmer would cultivate the garden better, and thus have some of the many dollars he spends for the provisions at the store—articles he could easily grow—his field products would come nearer being clear profits than under his present system.

Saving the Manure. Save all the manure and apply it where it will do the most good. One reason why there are so many poor farms is because there is so little manure to make the land richer. This also explains why there are so many poor farmers.

GARDEN and FARM NOTES

Buy your clover seed early. Sorghum makes very good silage. Soy beans are a coming crop in the middle west.

The output of broom corn is about $1,270,000 annually. After all, it isn't such a big job to save your seed corn early. Alfalfa fields and silos are landmarks of a progressive community. Celery grown in four-foot rows may be earthed up with the celery plow. Soil for soy beans should receive as thorough preparation as land for corn.

At present prices for seed, the soy bean is one of the most valuable farm crops. As a money crop broom corn is one of the most satisfactory that can be grown.

Rye makes a fair grade of silage and should be cut when the seeds are in the milk. Cabbage, sugar beets, oats, clover, and potatoes have been found a good five year rotation.

Good milling wheat must be free from all mustiness or bad odor and should be sound and dry.

Few crops respond more promptly to a thorough preparation of the soil than winter grain and especially wheat.

NIAGARA FALLS ONCE DRY

Occasion When Ice Was Too Much for Even the Vast Flood That Pours Over Ridge.

Only once in history has the roar of the mighty falls of Niagara been silenced. This startling phenomenon occurred on March 31, 1848. Early on that morning people living near the falls were surprised by a strange hush, as startling in effect as would be an unexpected and tremendous explosion in an ordinarily quiet community. Many persons thought they had been afflicted with deafness, and all were oppressed by a sensation of dread.

With the coming of light the amazed people comprehended the reason for the disquieting silence. Where they were used to see the great fall was a bare precipice down the face of which a few small and constantly diminishing streams trickled. Above the falls, instead of a rushing river, was only a naked channel, with insignificant brooks splashing among the rocks. All day long this astounding condition continued, and persons walked, drenched, from the Canadian sign that proves the home, always the bulwark of civilization, is growing still nearer to the hearts of the people. It is the surest indication of the stability of our institutions. Even the summer tourist who travels the country over in search of pleasure and visits all the resorts, when he comes to analyze his feelings, comes to the conclusion that the greatest pleasure he has in going away from home is the pleasure he has of returning to it. We do not know how much we love home till we have been away from it.

So this little cottage is shown here as a type of the homes that are being built. Some will call it a bungalow, and it will pass under that name with many. But the term "cottage" will be more familiar to the masses. You will notice that this cottage is in harmony with its surroundings. It sits in a large lot and on that account all its lines are effective and beautiful. Unfortunately, in many cases home builders are compelled to build on lots that are too small to display adequately the beauties of the structures side, along the very edge of the precipice, as far as Goat island, on the American side. Early in the morning of April 1, the familiar thunder of the great cataract was again heard, and has never since been silent, though similar conditions, with like results, might prevail any spring. The winter of 1847-48 was one of extreme severity, and ice of unprecedented thickness formed on Lake Erie. When the break-up came, toward the end of March, a strong southeast wind was blowing, and the ice was piled into banks as large as icebergs. Toward the night of March 30 the wind suddenly changed to the opposite direction, increased to a terrific gale, and drove the ice into the entrance of Niagara river with such force that a huge dam was formed, of such thickness and solidity as to be practically impenetrable, and strong enough to hold back the great mass of water pressing against it. At last, in the early morning of April 1, the ice dam gave way under the tremendous pressure of restrained water, and the falls were once again one of the scenic wonders of the world.

Date Worth Remembering. Naturalists the world over should regard July 18 as an anniversary worthy of commemoration, as it was on July 18, 1720, that Gilbert White was born. The "Natural History of Selborne," which did not appear until toward the end of his life—it was published in 1789, and he died four years later—is one of the few scientific books that have survived as a classic for well over a century, and is today still read for its literary value as much as for its interest to the naturalist. Like the "Compliment Angler" and Boswell's "Johnson" it is work that has no exact parallel in the literature of other countries.—London Globe.

Marriage License Twelve Years Old. Judge Martin of the municipal court married a couple whose license had been obtained twelve years ago. Christopher C. Owens obtained a license to marry Miss Emma Brandy from County Clerk Philip Knopf on August 13, 1900. "We had a quarrel," he told Judge Martin, "and we didn't see each other for about eleven years. Recently we patched up the trouble."—Chicago Tribune.

Prognostics. The Cinnamon Scimitar's financial editor writes: "The dental profession is looking down in the mouth. With the scavenger, however, everything is picking up. The steeplejack's business, if he is not careful, will be falling off. In the automobile and railroad line everything is running down. The sausage and scrapie trade is on the pig. With the astronomer, however, things are looking up."

Good Advice. "Value your friends, my boys; value your friends," remarked the moss-backed citizen. "Some men seem to think that people who are willing to be friendly with them can't amount to much."

Wiping Out Grease Stains. For grease stains on flat colors, benzine can be used. For dry paint stains, rub with equal parts of turpentine and alcohol.

MADE A CLEAN JOB OF IT

First Time Old Gentleman Had Eaten a Crab, and He Left Nothing on the Dish.

A jolly old boy from the Midlands entered into one of the hotels at the seaside, and, seeing on the slab on the right a crab dressed on the shell with legs, claws and parsley ranged round, said to the landlord: "What d'ye call that?" "Crab," was the answer. "Looks good. I'll have 'un; and give us a pint o' ale."

Bread and butter was added and the dinner left to his dinner. In about an hour the genial landlord entered the dining-room to see if his guest was getting on all right. He found him chewing up the last claw, the chawer red in the face, but beaming.

"Yes," he was capital. I never tasted one afore. But I think you baked 'em a little too long; the crust was hard. Let's have another pint."

He had eaten the lot—shell, claws and all complete.—London Tit-Bits.

JUDGE CURED, HEART TROUBLE.

I took about 6 boxes of Dodds Kidney Pills for Heart Trouble from which I had suffered for 5 years. I had dizzy spells, my eyes puffed, my breath was short and I had chills and backache. I took the pills about a year ago and have had no return of the palpitations. Am now 63 years old, able to do lots of manual labor, am well and hearty and weigh about 200 pounds. I feel very grateful that I found Dodds Kidney Pills and you may publish this letter if you wish. I am serving my third term as Probate Judge of Gray Co. Yours truly, PHILIP MILLER, Cimarron, Kan.

RASH SPREAD TO ARMS. 759 Roach Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.—"At first I noticed small eruptions on my face. The trouble began as a rash. It looked like red pimples. In a few days they spread to my arms and back. They itched and burned so badly that I scratched them and of course the result was blood and matter. The eruptions festered, broke, opened and dried up, leaving the skin dry and scaly. I spent many sleepless nights, my back, arms and face burning and itching; sleep was purely and simply out of the question. The trouble also caused disfigurement. My clothing irritated the breaking out.

"By this time I had used several well-known remedies without success. The trouble continued. Then I began to use the sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Within seven or eight days I noticed gratifying results. I purchased a full-sized cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and in about eighteen or twenty days my cure was complete." (Signed) Miss Katherine McCallister, Apr. 12, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

Some Names Easily Remembered. "Now, children," asked the teacher, addressing the class in United States history, "who was it that shot Roosevelt?" "Why—er—ah!" hesitatingly answered the brightest pupil. "I think it was a crank by the name of Swank or Frank, or something like that."

"What surgeon attended the colonel, and—?" "Thereat, they all arose and exclaimed as with one voice: 'Scurry L. Terrell, M. D.!!'"

From this we should learn that an unforgettable name is rather to be chosen than great riches.

Speck on Their Black 'Scotchman. Mollie, a light-colored mulatto housemaid who has been in the employ of a South Side family for a number of years, recently gave up her position to get married, relates the Kansas City Star. A few days ago she returned and asked to have her old place back. The woman of the house was glad to have her return, but surprised that she came so soon after being married, and questioned her as to her reason for waiting to return. In reply the maid said: "My husband's folks is all jealous of me because I'm so light colored. You know my husband is very dark and all his folks is dark, too, and was mad because he married me. Why, one of his sisters told me, 'You's so bright you make a spot in our family.'"

Her Name Was Not Polly Ticks. During the late campaign an Illinois candidate for the legislature was driving through the country, seeking votes among the farmers, when he met a young man in farmer's garb, walking by the roadside.

Having in mind a prospective vote, he stopped his horse, and saluting him in a familiar manner, inquired: "Are you paying any attention to politics nowadays?"

The young man stopped, looked at him suspiciously, and drawled out: "No, stranger; that don't happen to be my gal's name, but if it was, I wouldn't think it was any of your durned business."

This ended the interview as well as the prospect.

Lot of Money Well Spent. Arthur Blanchard, who spends much of his time traveling over the country, for the government, was seated behind a bride and groom in a Pullman car one afternoon when the train went through a long tunnel. As it emerged into the light of day the bride was grabbing desperately at her hat and fighting three fast rounds with one or two hairpins which had become loosened.

In order to relieve the situation and inject some harmless conversation into the gap Blanchard remarked: "This tunnel cost $12,000,000."

"Well," said the bride judicially, "it was worth it."—Popular Magazine.

Calumet Ends "Bad Luck." Remember when you were a youngster, what a trial baking day was? If Mother was lucky, everything went finely—but if she had "bad luck" her cakes and her pies and her bread were failures. Her success in baking seemed to depend almost altogether on "luck."

"Nowadays there's no such thing as 'baking luck.' At least that's the claim of the up-to-date cooks. Simply because Calumet Baking Powder has simplified that old time idea. It has made baking a sure success. It has made inexperienced cooks able to bake perfectly, and day after day it is saving hundreds of dollars' worth of time and materials by doing away with costly failures. Calumet Baking Powder is the purest baking powder made—and guaranteed not only pure but also the best. It has CAN and in the BAKING. Calumet has twice been officially judged the BEST baking powder made—winning the highest awards at the World's Pure Food Expositions in Chicago (1907) and in Paris (1912). Adv.
