Eugene Doughett and wife, who were arrested last week charged with running a "fence" at South Sioux City, and at whose place about $1,500 worth of stolen goods were found by the South Sioux City authorities, will be given a hearing next Monday but was continued. They were unable to furnish bonds and are being held in jail.

James Cooley, who has served as mail messenger at this place for the past decade, resigned his job recently owing to the additional service put on by the department. Bids for the work were asked by the department and the contract was awarded to J F Hall as the lowest bidder. The change in messengers will be made December 1st. Mr Cooley has been a faithful employe, and in the eighteen years he served he missed but one mail—and that, he states, was not his fault.

Special HOMESEEEKERS EXCURSIONS

November 19th and December 3rd to Powell, Wyoming

Join me on one of these excursions and let me show you these rich farm lands irrigated by the government where you do not have to pay a profit to anyone, simply return to Uncle Sam during the next 12 years the actual cost of irrigation.

ALFALFA; Here you can see about 12,000 acres of alfalfa now in stack. It is a wonderful showing and tells you better than I can what you can do on your homestead.

HOMESTEADS CLOSE TO TOWN. You need not go more than three or four miles from Powell to get as good farms as any now growing bumper crops.

Write today for illustrated folder with map showing how conveniently these gifts of the Government are located.
