STATE SCHOOL LAND One of Important - Recommendations to be Brought Before Coming

Legislature. OTHER NEBRASKA MATTERS

One of the important recommendations which will be brought to the notice of the coming session of the legislature is a proposition to sell the state school lands now under lease. This recommendation has been incorporated in the reports of two state officers. State Treasurer George and Land Commissioner Cowles. Both officials contend that a sale of the school lands of the state will bring into the state more money than is received at the present time from the lease of the lands. Commissioner Cowles contends that the larger portions of the school lands unsold are of a poor class, many sections not being worth 50 cents per acre and consequently the rental is so small as hardly to pay for the trouble of keeping track of it.

Treasurer George sets out the plea that if the lands are sold the state will derive a revenue from two sources. One of these is by taxation.

The other reason and the one which to Mr. George seems the more important is that if the land is sold and the money derived from the sale is invested in county, school district or municipal bonds that the interest on these bonds will bring into the state a revenue more satisfactory than is gained by the state holding the lands and leasing them.

Another proposition is that with the school lands disposed of there will be no need of a commissioner of public lands and buildings and therefore that department will be put out of business. This will make an annual saving to the state in salaries alone of over $10,000, hesides the cost of office expenses and traveling expenses

According to former Land Commissioner Henry M. Eaton, it will take an amendment to the constitution to bring about this reform.

Land Commissioner Cowles says the work of the office is steadily decreasing and he has recommended that the recorder's salary be cut from $1,500 to $1,200.

Implement Dealers Plan Exhibition. Douglas County.-The fourth annual convention of the Mid-West Implement Dealers' association, which will be held in Omaha, January 7 to 10, will be featured by one of the biggest shows that has ever been held in connection with the annual meeting

KING SENDS CONDOLENCES

United States Diplomat Succumbs Taft Pays High Tribute.

London, Dec. 17. - American ambassador to the court of St. James, Whitelaw Reid, died at Dorchester house, his palatial London home, at ten minutes after noon Sunday. Only his wife and daughter, Hon. Mrs. John Hubert Ward, were at the bedside when the end came. His son, Ogden Mills Reid, has cailed from New York on the Kronprinzessin Ceceille, the ambassador's family not realizing the seriousness of Mr. Reid's condition until Friday, when they cabled Ogden to sail immediately for England. King George has inquired daily as to the ambassador's condition since came known. Hon. John Ward, who was at Dorchester house, telephoned Buckingham palace immediately when the death occurred, and within half an hour Sir John Legge, the queen's equerry, called to convey the condolence of the king and queen.

The following official statement was issued at Dorchester house by the attending physicians:

"A fortnight ago the ambassador had a return of the asthma from which he had previously suffered se verely at considerable intervals. Gradually bronchitis supervened and the asthmatic paroxysms became severe, leading to extrem exhaustion.

"Although with great difficulty the paroxysms of asthma were gotten under control, early Sunday, the exhaustion became extreme. Mr. Reid died of pulmonary oedema at ten minutes past 12 o'clock."

President Taft paid an unusual tribate to the late ambassador and expressed his grief in a cable reply to a message of sorrow from King George of Great Britain. The president also sent his sympathy to Mrs. Reid. Through his own personality, Mr. Reid, the president said, had drawn America and Great Britain in closer friend-

NO COAL COMBINE $50,000,000 IS TOLL

SUPREME COURT JUSTICES HOLD U. S. HAS FAILED TO PROVE AN ANTHRACITE TRUST.

IMPORTANT POINT IS WON

Decision Upholds Contention of the Government That "65 Per Cent." Contracts Are Illegal-Oil Case Ruling Repeated.

Washington, Dec. 18.-The Supreme court of the United States decided against the government Monday in its fight to have the anthracite coal carrying railroads and their affiliated coal companies declared to be in a general combination in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

It won a victory in getting the court to hold void the 65 per cent contracts whereby the "railroad coal companies" buy the output of "independent" mines. Justice Lurton, in announcing the opinion, said these contracts were plainly in violation of the law. The court also held that the railroads had violated the law by attempting to shut out of the anthracite region a competitive road through the control of the Temple Iron company. As to minor combinations of railroads and coal companies charged to be violating the law, the court dismissed the action without prejudice to future suits, because it held it not fair to require those groups to make a defense in an action primarily against a "general combination." In an opinion announced by Associate Justice Lurton the court says: "I. The general combination alleged by the government to exist between the defendant roads for an apportionment for total tonnage to the scaboard by an agreement in the nature of a pooling arrangement has not been established and, therefore, the relief sought by the government upon assumption of such combination is de-

"2. The court finds, however, that the principal defendants did combine, for the purpose of shutting out from the anthracite coal field a projected independent line of railroad, the New York, Wyoming and Western railroad, and to accomplish that purpose it is found that the stock of the Temple iron company and of the Simpson and F. W. ZEISS HELD UNDER $2,000 Watkin collieries was acquired for the purpose of and with the intent, not of normally and lawfully developing trade, but of restraining interstate commerce and competition in transportation, which would have presum ably come about through the construction and operation of the proposed competing line of railroad between the mines and tidewater. "3. The court holds that certain contracts made with producers, covering between 20 and 25 per cent, of the total annual supply of coal, known as the 65 per cent. contracts, by which such independent producers bound themselves to deliver the output of their mine or any other mine which they might acquire to the railroad companies for 65 per cent, of the average market price at tidewater, were also void, because in violation of the anti-trust act, as abnormal and illegal restraints upon interstate commerce. "4. The court reiterates the declaration in the Standard Oil case, that an act of congress does not 'forbid or restrain the power to mark normal and unusual contracts to further trade by resorting to all normal methods, whether by agreement or otherwise. to accomplish such purpose.' Nevertheless, it holds that the acts which it finds in this case to be illegal, the Temple Iron and 65 per cent, contracts, were not within such class, their character and directly tended to and were intended to illegally restrain trade and commerce and, therefore, came within the statute as illustrated by the rulings in St. Louis Terminal association and Swift and Co. vs. United States."
