New Year's Greeting

(The following original poem was distributed by Rev. J. C. Gross to his congregation Sunday morning.)

We stand upon this little space,
Between the old and new;
And hail a moment in our race,
And take a backward view.
The year has come, the year has gone,
With all its hopes and fears,
With all its joy, with all its sorrow,
With all its signs and tears.
We stand upon its threshold now,
Our heart with gladness high;
We'd spend our lives with purpose true,
As all its golden days pass by.
But have we reached our highest aim,
And done each duty, one by one,
Or must we see with bitter pain,
Our year's work still undone?
What battles past the year has brought,
From field and plain and hill,
And from God's word with blessing fraught,
And from God's love with love and will.
Lord, we are here thy will to do,
Thy will to love and go,
And hope and peace without alloy,
And not a moment's doubt.
Or if the shadows of our life,
Are dark and deep and chill,
And hard the task and fierce the strife,
And steep and long the hill,
Help us to look beyond the joy,
Beyond the dark and chill,
Beyond the peace without alloy,
Beyond the long steep hill.
To where the plains of glory rise
And all the scenes of earth are past,
To that bright world above the skies,
Our home in heaven at last.
The years may come, the years may go,
But thou remainest still,
So help us, Lord, thy name to know,
And do thy holy will.
Until we hear thy welcome word,
Our strife is glad, our battle won,
The blissful shout of our Lord,
Thou faithful soul, "well done."

Dr and Mrs Ross and Mabel, with their guests from Lincoln, spent Christmas day at the home of L L Ream in Homer. Last Sunday evening, in Dakota City, occurred a happy wedding which is of interest to people of Walthill as one of the participants is a well known and highly respected citizen of the town. The bride was Mrs Jennie O'Pelt, of Oakland, Cal, and the groom was Mr Lewis Neals who has just fitted up a comfortable and modern home in the fourth filing. The ceremony was performed privately at 7 p. m., Sunday evening, December 22, 1912, by Rev Theodore Bliven, pastor of the Dakota City M E church, after which Mr and Mrs Neals went to Sioux City and came to Walthill Monday afternoon, where they will make their home. Though married late in life the acquaintanceship is one of long years covering far more than a half century. Both parties are well advanced in years, Mr Neals being well past eighty, but both are well preserved and in good health and no doubt will find the mutual companionship wholesome and happy during the years before them. Mrs Neals comes a stranger to Walthill. She appears to be a woman of unusual refinement and in every respect a worthy companion to her estimable husband, and no doubt will soon enjoy a circle of friends among those who attend hearty congratulations and wish the happy couple many years of health and happiness.

Saturday's Omaha Bee states that seven men of Walthill, Neb, were arraigned in federal court Thursday afternoon on an indictment charging them with attempting to traffic in Indian lands on the Omaha reservation in a way contrary to federal law. His Stomach Troubles Over.

Mr Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John Baker, of Battle Creek, Mich, is one of them. He says, "I was troubled with heart burn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, then my trouble was over. Sold by all dealers.—Adv."
