Items of Interest from our Exchanges

Hartington News: Mrs C L Culler spent Sunday with relatives at Dakota City.

Salix Items in Sloan, Ia. Star: Peter Madison, of South Sioux City, was in town the first of the week.

Ponca Journal: Judge Evans, of Dakota City, Attorney W E Gantt, of Elk Point, S D, and O E Martin, of Sioux City, were here Tuesday in connection with the settlement of the Murphy estate.

Winnebago Chief: A T Haase, of Dakota City, was calling on Sam Deering this week. Misses Charlotte Kelly and Lena Wilkins, of Homer, were guests of Mrs C F Nichols yesterday afternoon between trains.

Waterbury Items in Wayne Democrat: Mrs Dean Cornell, of Dakota City, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr and Mrs C W Long. Geo Kohlmeier received second prize offered by the Edwards & Bradford Lumber Co for collections during the month of December.

Omaha Bee, 19th: Big Bear is the latest Winnebago Indian to be brought to Omaha on a charge of introducing liquor into the reservation. Deputy United States Marshal Sides brought Big Bear down and lodged him in the Douglas County jail to await the grand jury.

Emerson Enterprise: Mr and Mrs Geo Haase and daughter visited at the home of Mr Haase in Dakota City Sunday. Misses Marie McEntaffer and Viola Huggenberger accompanied by Rudolph Johnson and Harry McEntaffer spent Sunday at the home of Mrs Wm Flagg in Sioux City.

Waterbury Items in Emerson Enterprise: M J Beacom and Evan Vay shipped cattle to the city the first of the week. Bill Kennelly and Raymond Hall, of Jackson, were Sunday visitors in Waterbury. Carl Tomason and McKinley Williams drove over to Hubbard Sunday to attend the football game.

Sioux City Journal, 17th: Several horses, which were conditioned at Woodland park by Harry Wilson, will be sold today in Chicago at the Annual auction sale of standard bred horses. Among the horses are Pat G, owned by E H Gribble, of Dakota City, Neb, which has raced here, and Look II, another race horse owned by Michael Beacom, of Hubbard, Neb.

Lyons Mirror: We agree with Editor Bancroft of the Winnebago Chief that there is too much boasting about the amount of crops raised by the Indians. All the reuter crops are figured in as raised by the Indians themselves. Yes, we can boast, too, and tell the truth. We were the government farmer at the Winnebago Agency in 1888 under the U S Indian agent, Col J F Warner, and we induced the Indians to break more prairie that single year than was ever broken before or since by the Indians.

Allen News: Frank Hill, of Sibley, Iowa, was in town a few days visiting his parents and friends. Arthur Minter, son of Monroe and Elizabeth Minter, was born near Hubbard, Neb, September 22, 1889, and lived in the vicinity of Allen and Dakota City until 15 years of age. Then he removed with his parents to Garrison, McClain county, N D, eight years ago next month. Since 14 years of age he has been a sufferer from tubercular trouble. When quite a young boy he united with the Methodist church, at Dakota City, Neb. Arthur made many friends and while in a new country during most of his young manhood, where church privileges were few, he daily held onto his faith, gladdening and blessing others about him with his courage and cheerfulness in spite of the fact that he was a constant sufferer. On Saturday, January 22, 1913, he was taken with an acute attack and died January 30, aged 23 years, 4 months and 8 days. The funeral services were held from the Allen Methodist church last Thursday afternoon. Rev J H Harl preached the sermon and burial was made in the Springbank cemetery. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of all in this sad affliction.

Dixon Tribune: W L Ross moved his family to the old home at Dakota City, Tuesday. The Rosses have taken an active part in all that has been for the good of the community at Dixon since coming here about a year ago. Dixon friends regret the change that takes them from the town. B E Hughes left Wednesday for Homer where he will have charge of the lumber business for the Edwards & Bradford company. Mr Hughes has been in Dixon for about three years and will be missed by his many friends here. The Homer yard is one of the best in the state and will offer him a good opportunity to do as well as he has in the Dixon yard. The new manager has been here all week.

Sioux City Tribune, 17th: Miss Mary Sullivan, whose recent publication, "Court Masques of James," has attracted so much attention, especially among Shakespearean critics, is a Dakota county girl. She is a cousin of Miss Kate Sullivan, of Sioux City, and has many friends here. She is at the head of the English department of the Omaha high school. Miss Sullivan spent a year and a half searching the records, along with Dr C M Wallace, a Nebraska professor of international fame, for facts regarding the court masques, or private theatricals, as they are now known, of the old English nobility. The fact that Shakespeare's company trained the nobility to present the plays, and the tremendous diplomatic importance of the masques, are brought out in Miss Sullivan's book for the first time. The book is dedicated to Prof A L Sherman, of the University of Nebraska, from which institute Miss Sullivan graduated with high honors. Miss Sullivan returned from Europe two years ago. Since then she has devoted her time to writing. The copy is already in the hands of her publishers, and advanced copies have been sent out.

Walthill Times: Geo Lamson, of Ainsworth, and Wm Lamson, of Crofton, were in Walthill Tuesday to attend the funeral of Caleb Lane. J H and C L Rockwell, Walter and Clyde Smith, and Mrs James Smith were down from Homer Tuesday afternoon to attend the Caleb Lane funeral. Caleb Lane, a well known resident of Walthill, died suddenly about 2:30 a m last Sunday, while engaged in a game of poker in a basement room under Harris' pool hall. As told by one of the players, the jack pot had grown to considerable size and Mr Lane discarded for a certain card which he drew, making him the winner. It was noticed that the cards fell from his fingers and he sank back into his chair unconscious. As related at the inquest, the story differs. At no time during the night was the play for large stakes. At the time he collapsed the pot was about three dollars. Mr Lane had passed and, being no longer in the play, had thrown his cards on the table. A moment later he sank back unconscious. A physician was hurriedly summoned but when he arrived Mr Lane was dead, his death being practically instantaneous. The body was carried to the pool hall above and Dr Reem was sent to the home to break the sad news to the family. On Monday afternoon the county coroner conducted a hearing at which the statements of a number of witnesses were taken. It was impossible for the physicians to say whether death was due to apoplexy or heart failure, but it is presumed to be the result of weakness of the heart as he was known to have suffered from that previously and he was not a rugged man. Among those participating in the game, as stated at the inquiry, were his sons, Ed, Frank and Albert Lane, J H Perkins, J M Worth, Chas Sheldon and John Lundy. The first named acting as operator. The funeral was held in the M E church Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock and was largely attended, a number of friends from out of town being in the congregation. Rev G M Pendell gave an appropriate discourse and a special choir rendered selections requested by members of the family. Interment followed in the village cemetery. Mr Lane was 65 years of age. He was born in Ohio in 1848 and moved to Dakota county in 1871. He was married the same year to Marion D Lamson and continued to live in Homer for a number of years. He has resided in this county for about twenty years and has lived in Walthill since the first year of the town, having built a comfortable home in the north part of the village. Seven of the eight children are living: Anna (Mrs J H Piper), Dora (Mrs J H Perkins), Edna, Frank, Dallas, Albert and May (Mrs Ab Ross). Mrs Lane survives her husband and all the members of the family were present at the funeral which was pathetic with the grief of the father whose kindly disposition kept him very close to the hearts of his wife and children. Mr Lane had a wide acquaintance and his easy going manner, his cheerful and amiable nature won for him the friendship and good will of all who knew him.
