Since congress has apportioned $150,000 for river improvement between Kansas City and Sioux City, it seems that our representatives in congress could be prevailed upon to see that a small portion of it was used to protect the river bank in this locality.

Who's Who?

From Sioux City Weekly Pioneer, 20th.
I'm quite afraid to tackle it. I find it hard to start, a "Who's Who" rhyme about him, for he's so full of the art of weaving wordy wonders, both in poetry and prose, that lines like these compare about, as rag-weeds to the rose. Who's some "nifty" advertiser, with his slogans short and bright: "Just GOOD Banking—" "Round the Corner—" "Bank that ALWAYS treats you RIGHT." Who's Chief of our Exchequer, (and just now it's quite a pile), rich with blarney, from Killarney, Kd. T. Kearney, see him smile.

Items of Interest

From our Exchanges

Wynot Tribune: Merrett Smith was a business visitor at Jackson last Friday.

Martinsburg Items in Ponca Journal: Mr Pettit, wife and daughter, spent Friday in the city.

Emerson Enterprise: Tom Ashford and W H Ryan, of Homer, were in this part of the county Sunday.

Wayne Democrat: Meadames F A and Fred H Berry and little son went to Sioux City last Saturday afternoon.

Lyons Mirror: Misses Lora Preuss and Hattie Eggehardt, of Bancroft, were guests of Mr and Mrs M Warner Tuesday afternoon.

Waterbury Items in Ponca Journal: J Barry, of Jackson, was in town one day last week. W Kennelley, of Jackson, spent Sunday with N Caulk.

Waterbury Items in Emerson Enterprise: Victor McGonigal, of Jackson, was a caller Friday. Bill Sundt and family were over from Jackson Sunday visiting at the Murray and Minouche homes.

Winslow Items in Wayne Democrat: Clyde Hodgson and wife, of Ravenna, visited Mr Hodgson's parents at Winslow one day last week and then left for Rochester, Minn., where it was expected Mrs Hodgson would have to submit to an operation.

Allen News: Jack Cavanaugh returned to Jackson Friday after a few days visit here. Miss Beatrice Nordyke and Miss Long were in the city on business Monday. Col E F Rasmussen, the Goodwin auctioneer, was in town Saturday and left us a new ad and also placed his name on our list of readers.

Omaha Druggist: J W Turabill, of Sioux City, and who has been with O E Pollock & Co. Columbus, Neb, for some little time past, has been obliged to resign his position there on account of his health and will probably spend some time at Hot Springs, Ark, where he hopes to receive a great deal of benefit. Should he do so he will probably remain in the south indefinitely.

Oakland Independent: An explosion last week in the Fremont gas works, which wrecked the purifier tanks and meter house, is thought to visit with the Louis Rockwell family and other relatives. Garrett Mason left on Tuesday for parts in California where he will look after some mining interests for his father. Mr and Mrs Lande Thacker, accompanied by Mrs Feltz returned the latter part of last week after a short visit at Waterbury, Neb. Tom Christopherson, from the central part of Iowa, will come to Homer in the near future and take up his residence here and work at his trade carpentering. Eugene Loomis experienced a painful accident last Monday when his hand came in contact with a buzz saw, and now is carrying it all bandaged. One of his fingers on his right hand was nearly cut off.

Sioux City News, 24th: Mae Burke, formerly proprietor of one of Sioux City's resorts is under arrest at Dakota City. Under arrest with her are a big Sioux named Provost who was found in her South Sioux City home Saturday when Marshal Hazelgrove called, and a young woman who was living in the Burke home. The marshal suspected that all was not right at the Burke residence. He called there about midnight and Miss Burke came to the door. The marshal said he wanted in. Miss Burke told him he could not get in without papers. He went in anyway. A big Indian who was in the house undertook to put the marshal out and tore some buttons from his coat. The Indian was arrested for resisting an officer and Miss Burke and the girl were arrested for disorderly conduct. Miss Burke gave bonds but the girl and the Indian remained in jail at Dakota City. Miss Burke contends that the officer exceeded his authority and insists that no evidence of improper conduct was secured. She will maintain that the officer had no right to forcibly enter her premises without a warrant.

Sioux City Tribune, 24th: Undesirable citizens of South Sioux City will be unable to make their homes in Sioux City if the police have their say about things. E Doughett was the first one to feel the "long arm," when today he was arraigned in police court on a charge of selling liquor. He waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the grand jury, with his bond fixed at $500. Doughett will not wait for the grand jury to convene March 17, but will immediately plead guilty in the district court. He was unable to furnish bond. It was in a shed in the rear of Doughett's house in South Sioux City that a large amount of loot, identified as that taken in burglaries in nearby Nebraska towns, was found. Authorities of that place forced the man to change his residence and he came across the river. Detectives have been watching the place at 8 West Third street for some time, thinking that he might be a fence for thieves. A raid was made Saturday evening by W W Wisnand. Wisnand expected to find some stolen property, but instead he found a large amount of liquor. Several other persons driven out of South Sioux City have been seen in this city and are under the surveillance of the police. Doughett is a cripple.

Sioux City Journal, 22nd: Robert Buchanan, a resident of Sioux City for forty-six years, died at his apartments 210 Wright building, at 10:15 o'clock last night following an illness of a week. Mr Buchanan was 80 years old. An acute attack of grip, contracted February 14, and other trouble incident to old age, caused the death. Mr Buchanan Thursday dictated a codicil to his will, because of the death of his only nephew. Two nieces, the only relatives he was known to have in this country, reside in Chicago. Several of his grandnieces are said to live in Switzerland. While his health failed rapidly during the last week, Mr Buchanan refused to confide himself to his bed, and spent a part of each day in his office across the hall from his apartments. He was in his office yesterday afternoon for a few minutes, but decided that he was too weak to stay up, and retired to his bed about 8:30 o'clock. Mrs E C Monahan and Ole T Naglestad were at the bedside at the time of death. Mr Buchanan was born near Belfast, Ireland, in 1838. He came to America with his uncle, Robert Buchanan, in 1856 and entered the mercantile business in New Orleans as a partner of his uncle. With the late Col C C Orr, the elder Buchanan purchased several tracts of land in and near Sioux City. When the civil war broke out, as the trade of the Buchanan firm extended as far north as Louisiana, the partners returned to Ireland. After the war was over the nephew returned to America with power of attorney to settle the real estate holdings owned jointly between his uncle and the late Col Orr in Sioux City. The settlement was a friendly one and Mr Buchanan accepted several pieces of real estate as payment for his services. Settling in Sioux City in 1867, he went into the real estate business here. For 17 years he occupied a suite of rooms in the Marks Joy building, 515 Fifth street. Four years ago the Marks-Joy building was sold and, as the new owners wanted the suite, Mr Buchanan moved to 312 Wright building. Mr Buchanan was a bachelor. In his younger days he was a social favorite, and no light natured event was complete without him. He was a lover of music and for many years played the violin at social functions. For years he was a member of choirs of the Presbyterian and Episcopal churches.

Sioux City Journal, 25th: Fred Edwards, of Dakota City, and Mrs Julia Nixon, of Homer, yesterday were united in marriage by Rev J L Howie, of the Third Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed in the office of the clerk of courts. Edward Douthett, arrested on a charge of bootlegging, yesterday afternoon appeared before Judge John F Oliver in district court and was fined $100 and costs. Douthett was arraigned in police court yesterday, and by Judge H F Sims was bound over to the grand jury. A special indictment was issued by Chris N Ippson, county attorney, and the case settled by bringing the prisoner up in district court.

Pender Republic: E J Smith, of Homer, transacted legal business in Pender last Saturday. On Sunday afternoon, February 16, at 1 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage in Homer, Rev L R Kockler spoke the words that made Alex E Magnuson, of Crofton, and Miss Gladys Foxwood, of Pender, husband and wife. The bride is the only daughter of Mr and Mrs Chris Toxwo-J, south of town, and has lived here all her life and is well and favorably known. The groom has lived in and around Pender for some time and is an industrious young man of good habits and is now living on a farm near Crofton. After a brief wedding trip, they will go to housekeeping at Crofton where they will be at home to their friends. Their many acquaintances will unite in wishing them a long and prosperous voyage as they go through life together.

Sioux City Journal, 26th: Dan Hartnett, of Hubbard, Neb, an extensive stock feeder, was on the market with a load of hogs that averaged 1345 pounds, that were good enough to sell for $8.06. According to Mr Hartnett the cattle did exceptionally well while on feed. "Alfalfa does the work, and, together with a ration of corn, there is nothing that puts on the fat faster and better," he remarked. When asked if he had any loss in hogs, he replied that there were only two big operators, Frank Heeney and himself, that had been free from the disease, and he stated that he believed that it was through the care and the feed he had used. By using condition powders the hogs did well and showed no symptoms of the disease, while his neighbor, only about half a mile distant, lost nearly his whole drove.

Homer Star: Miss Lue Hirsch and Mrs Leon Beam were Wallhill visitors on Wednesday. Mrs Mary Rymil returned on Saturday from the coast after spending several months out there with relatives. Earnest Bruce, of Tokamah, arrived on Saturday to Old Age.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom, counsel. That is old age as it should be, but old age as it often means poor digestion, torpid bowels, a sluggish liver and a general feeling of ill health, despondency and misery. This in almost every instance is wholly unnecessary. One of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets taken immediately after supper will improve the digestion, tone up the liver and regulate the bowels. That feeling of despondency will give way to one of hope and good cheer. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.
