There is a sowing time and a time to reap. The wise man said: "Bring a child up in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." So it is with the boys of today who are allowed to run on the streets till nine or ten o'clock at night. This does not mean our town alone, as most all towns are similarly afflicted—for an affliction it surely proves to be to many families in the after life of the boys. Parents, see after your boys, and the company they keep. It will be worth more than gold to you and them in the years to come.

A recent issue of The Iowa Homestead contained an illustrated article on the subject of "Common-Sense Treatment of Dairy Cows," that should be printed in pamphlet form and distributed among the farmers. The facts given will enable any farmer to double the net profit on the number of cows usually kept on the farm. Every farmer should read The Iowa Homestead and receive the benefit of the practical articles that appear in its columns weekly. We are glad to club it with our paper at the low rate of $1.25 per year for both papers.

Mrs. Nora Hayes Called Home

Died—At her home near Hubbard, Neb, Friday, April 4, 1913, Mrs Nora Hayes, widow of George R Hayes, who preceded her in death some eighteen months ago. The funeral was held from St Mary's church in Hubbard Monday morning, with burial in the Hubbard cemetery.

In the death of Mrs Hayes Dakota county has lost one of those splendid types of womanhood that stand for everything noble and good. As a wife and mother she did her duty fearlessly, faithfully and well, as the family of five boys and four girls, all at home, eloquently attest.

She was born in County Tipperary, Ireland, in 1855; was married to Mr Hayes at Chicago in 1875, coming to Dakota county in 1877.

Always a faithful and loving helpmeet, she and her husband accumulated a fortune, owning many acres of Dakota county's best land.

Besides her nine children she leaves two sisters to mourn her death, Mrs Michael Green and Mrs Joseph P Hagan, as also one brother, John Green, in Ireland. Since the death of her husband Mrs Hayes has rapidly failed, being unable to control her grief for the good husband who was all the world to her. Everything that loving hands and care could do for her, was done and she died as she had lived, with all her children about her, fortified by all the rights of her church.

Mrs Hayes will be long remembered and mourned by those who knew her best, for the nobility of her life and character is a landmark and an example to all true womanhood. Quiet, home lives like hers preach more eloquently than words, of the true mission of true womanly life, the home, the fireside, the rearing of a large family of boys and girls who would do credit to any mother in all the world. She has gone from our midst, never to return, but the memory of her good deeds, her loving, christian character, will ever remain as a comfort and solace to all who knew and—knowing—loved her.

God's grandest handiwork still stands,
The noble Wife and Mother,
Who gives her life, her strength, her all,
As ne'er can give another.

Dear Mother true, who dwells on high,
Look down with pitying eyes
And know thy children sadly mourn,
Thy Memory dearly prize.

SLAVES SET FREE RETURN TO BONDS

Still Greater Freedom With Kingly Honors Thereby Secured.

Pastor Russell's Discourse the Third and Last of a Series Upon the Texts Which Embellish the Famous Union Station of Washington City.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Washington, D. C., January 19.—Pastor Russell preached at Washington Temple today his third sermon on our Union Depot texts. Today's text was: "The Truth shall make you free." (John 8:32.) He said:

Truth is the great Emancipator. All enslavers oppose the Truth, knowing its power on the minds of their victims. The taskmasters of today would fain hide the truth from wage-slaves, but find it impossible—so great is the power of the press—and there are publishers who have not sold their moral sense for sordid gain. When chattel slavery prevailed, the master found it advantageous to educate his slaves and thus increase their value, but disadvantageous to instruct them along the lines of human rights. The feudatory lords were very willing that the common people consider them demigods, not subject to law as others.

The same principle apparently prompted the emperors to proclaim themselves, "pontifex maximus," and to encourage their people to worship them. The natural selfishness of man ever prompts him to take advantage of others; and ignorance has been the chain which has bound the masses.

The Bible has been the great Emancipator of slaves—mental, moral and physical. It is the Torch of Liberty, lighted by Divine Providence. The Bible alone tells us that all humanity are of one blood, creatures of the same God, amenable to Him. While the Bible instructs that kings and all in authority should be recognized, it also tells that the king is amenable to exactly the same laws as his most menial slave, and that if he violates these laws he is as sure to be punished.

Moreover, the Bible points out that the present is related to the future life as cause to effect. It shows that every act, word and thought bears upon character-development, and prepares us for higher things in the life to come or gives us more difficulty in reaching perfection and everlasting life.

"Hope Thou In God."

Looking into the past, we see Israel, sodden with fear of their Egyptian taskmasters, not daring to take steps for liberty. But after the Exodus, after God's Covenant with them at Sinai, they were a changed people. The hopes inspired by the Scriptures preserved them as a nation when contemporaneous civilization perished.

The Jews undoubtedly destroyed their own nationality. The Romans merely performed the funeral rites in destroying Jerusalem, A. D. 70. The Emperor evidently claimed that the Jewish religion must necessarily be at the foundation of their ungovernable character. Their liberty, used contrary to Divine instruction, led to discontent and anarchy.

Christ's Followers Set Free.

The Message of Jesus and the Apostles attracted some "Israelites indeed," anxious to serve God. The early Christians courageously suffered persecution and carried the Gospel everywhere. The Roman emperors, Nero and Diocletian, perceived that Christians had a courage which they feared would be infectious, and persecuted them horribly. But the Master had freed them from fear of death.

Then came a long period of darkness, when the Scriptures were forgotten, and only the words of bishops were heard—words misunderstood to be of Divine authority through Apostolic Succession. Next came centuries under control of creeds and church councils. Darkness, ignorance and superstition prevailed, although God had His witnesses throughout that long period.

Finally the Bible again emerged, when printing came into use. God's time had come for the Bible again to be the Torch of Liberty, and independence proportionately came forward. Today Britain, Germany, Scandinavia and America lead the world, because of the light from the Word of God.

Danger Now, as to the Jews.

The danger that the Jews encountered in the end of their Age confronts us. Not all receive the Truth in the love of it. Not all, therefore, are sanctified by it. Few have turned to the Lord, to become followers of Jesus. Hence we are on the threshold of a great disintegration. Liberty is about to turn to license—anarchy; our civilization is about to be ruined, as was the Jewish polity, by liberty unrestrained by the Spirit of the Lord.

St. Paul declared that the Gospel had set him free from all other bondages; but that he surrendered his liberty to Christ, to do, not his own will, but the will of his Redeemer. Forcefully he states that in so doing he became a bond-slave to Christ.

Blessed is the condition of those who gladly surrender all to become followers of the Lord! Such can rejoice, because they know that all things work together for their good, to prepare them for the Heavenly glories.

Straight at It.

There is no use of our "beating around the bush." We might as well out with it first as last. We want you to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the next time you have a cough or cold. There is no reason so far as we can see why you should not do so. This preparation by its remarkable cures has gained a world wide reputation, and people everywhere speak of it in the highest terms of praise. It is for sale by all dealers.—Adv.
