Official Paper of Dakota County

Mell Schmidt, editor of the Dakota County Eagle, piloted a party of Dakota county officials through the Interstate Fair yesterday.

Wonder if the above was intended for a "slam" on Dakota county's officials, or do some of them really need a "pilot."

Hugh Gallagher returned on Tuesday from Oswego, N Y, where he bought a farm. He thinks that nearly every farmer in New York state wants to sell, but want too much for their land. Miss Johanna McMahon returned to her home in St Paul last Saturday after a three weeks' visit with the Harris families and other relatives. Miss Johanna Harris accompanied her as far as Sioux City. John DeMeyer received word the first of the week that his father-in-law, E E Sullivan, had died at his home in Alberta, Canada. Mrs DeMeyer was at the bedside of her father at the time of his death, being called there several weeks ago. Claude J Woods, a well known resident of this locality, died very suddenly about 3 o'clock Monday morning at the James Foltz place six miles southwest of town. Mr Wood and wife retired the evening before in the best of health. About 3 o'clock the next morning, Mrs Wood was awakened by a loud groan from her husband. Calling him by name she received no reply, but found him to be dead. His death was due from heart trouble. Claude Joseph Wood was born in Crawford county, Wis, on July 13, 1878. The Wood family came to Sioux City when the deceased was but a small boy of five years, where he grew to young manhood. The last six years of his life was spent on the reservation, and previous to that time he lived near Sioux City for a number of years. He was married about sixteen years ago to Miss Gertrude Babcock, of Dixon county, Neb. To this union eight children were born, six of whom, all girls, survive the father.

Sioux City Journal, 21st: While playing "squirrel" yesterday afternoon in a tree near his home at South Sioux City Samuel Combs, 10 years old, fell from one of the upper branches to the ground and suffered a fracture of his right arm. The fracture, which is about three inches above the wrist, was set by Dr L Devore. Becoming unmanageable an automobile, in which Mr and Mrs Grant Smith, of Salix, were riding, crashed into the curbing at Ninth and Jennings streets yesterday afternoon and turned over, throwing Mrs Smith clear of the machine and pinning Mr Smith beneath the car. Smith, who is a farmer, had not driven a motor long. The control mechanism of the car refused to work and it raced down Jennings street, with Mrs Smith screaming and her husband vainly trying to stop the machine. Near Ninth and Jennings Smith turned his machine into the curbing. People who had been attracted to the scene by the cries of Mrs Smith liberated Smith, and he was hurried to the office of Dr J P Dougherty in another motor. Smith was severely bruised, and is believed to be injured internally. Dr E R Park is attending him. Mrs Smith was only slightly bruised. Smith worked for the Standard Oil company in Sioux City.

Sioux City Tribune, 18: Mr and Mrs A O Oaulk, of Allen, Neb, made a flying automobile trip here to spend the day at the fair. Mr Oaulk reports that he passed two machines just out of Jackson, Neb, which had a bad collision. One machine was turned completely over, but fortunately no one was hurt. Hundreds of auto parties from Northwestern Nebraska motored in to spend the day here, said Mr Oaulk. Sinus Jackson lake is not a lake but a part of the Missouri river, according to a decision of Justice Clements, of South Sioux City, in the case of S W Foltz and J W Clark tried yesterday for sealing in Jackson lake, the federal law regarding hunting as well as fishing will apply, and after this season the lake will be practically closed to all hunting. About six weeks ago, Foltz and Clark were arrested by Game Warden F O Gilbert for sealing in Jackson lake. The defense brought forth the argument that Jackson lake was in reality a part of the Missouri river and not a lake at all, and hence the laws of the state did not apply to it. Justice Clements took this view of the matter also and so rendered his decision. The question has now been raised by the residents of Dakota county in regard to the federal laws on hunting. The last congress passed what is known as the Weeks-McLean bill, which is intended to protect migratory birds and prohibits all hunting on government waters, except during the months of November and December, when migration is largely over. If the law holds in this respect, it will be a great blow to the hunters of Dakota county. The question has also been raised regarding the water of Crystal lake. The argument of the defense was that Jackson lake was fed by water from the Missouri river. The same argument holds in regard to Crystal lake, for water runs into it every spring at the time of high water. It seems probable that an appeal will be taken from Justice Clements' decision to the Sioux City Journal, 20th: That the condition of Evelyn Maynard, the 10-year-old South Sioux City girl, is the result of a severe case of typhoid fever and not from an attack that the father alleged was made on her a week ago last night by nine school children, is the opinion of Dr E De Vore, who yesterday afternoon attended the girl on request of the city authorities. The South Sioux City council held an informal meeting last night to consider the case. Dr De Vore told members of the council and the mayor that the girl had but small chances of recovery if she was left in the house where she is at the present time. According to Dr De Vore it is very insanitary. Chief of Police A L Mathwig has notified the owner of the property that he will condemn it if the house and premises are not cleaned up immediately. Members of the council and Mayor W A Morgan stated that they would immediately make an investigation, and do all in their power to place the girl where she can be properly cared for. The city authorities declared that the case was not reported to them until Thursday afternoon. Chief Mathwig said that Thursday afternoon he indirectly heard that the little girl was in a serious condition, and immediately visited the home. The chief of police doubts the father's story that the girl's condition is due directly to an assault made by other children. The South Sioux City police and city authorities will make an extensive investigation of the report that her condition is due to an attack. Dr Devore believes that the girl had been coming down with typhoid fever for some time, and if, as the father contends, was attacked by other children, it only served to make the case more serious. The girl has been in a semiconscious state since a week ago last night. Maynard Thursday night asserted to a reporter from the Journal that the South Sioux City authorities had taken no action to apprehend the children who had attacked her daughter. Chief Mathwig and Mayor Morgan last night declared that they did not know anything of the reported attack until after Maynard's statement. They count the father's version that the girl was beaten seriously enough to bring on the present condition. The attack was made while the girl was returning home from the school. According to the father they accused her of telling "stories" about them. The other children had made threats to "get" little Evelyn, the Maynard family said, and Friday set upon her in a secluded spot on the way from the schoolhouse to the Maynard home. The Maynard family formerly lived in Sioux City. They moved to South Sioux City about a year ago. The little girl is unusually small for her age. The parents are heartbroken. The Maynards have a large family. Mrs Maynard takes in washing to help support them. During the last week she has been compelled to be almost constantly at the bedside of her daughter.
