Frank Hale, who with his wife is spending the winter in California, writes the Herald from Wallace, Cal, to send his paper there until further notice. He adds that it makes one appreciate his home paper to be so far away among strangers.

Mell A Schmidt returned from Lincoln Monday evening where he had been at the bedside of his daughter, Mrs D D Dryden, who is dangerously ill. Mrs Schmidt, who has been with her daughter for the past two weeks, will remain until she is out of danger.

Fred Rohriever came near losing an eye last Friday afternoon while doing some soldering in his workshop. Some acid he was using in his work blew into his eye from the hot soldering iron and caused him considerable pain until he could get to the drug store and get something to relieve it.

The Wm Flage case, in which Flage is being tried the third time for the alleged killing of his sister on their Dixon county farm two years ago, came up for hearing at Pender last week, states the Ponca Journal, but because of the fact that the officials of Thurston county had failed to call a jury it was found impossible to try the case and, therefore, it went over until the next term and will probably come up for hearing during the early part of next January. The defendant and his attorneys and the county attorney of Dixon county were present. The attorneys for the defense, so it is understood, have no objection to the case being tried in Pender, so more than likely next January will see that place the seat of another legal battle.

Tom Curtis and John Gill, the two highwaymen captured by L Mathews, city marshal of South Sioux City, Monday after they had robbed a companion named John R Vestal, of $85 while the trio were enroute to Crystal Lake, were bound over to the district court by Justice Clements at South Sioux City Tuesday. The holdup was pulled off near the half-way house where the three men had alighted from the street car to go to the lake. Chas Harnett, who happened to witness the holdup, notified Mathwig and the pair were run down and captured in a nearby cornfield. They are now languishing in the county jail awaiting the convening of district court in February. Sheriff Mahon in searching the prisoners found a twenty-dollar gold certificate under the inside of one of their shoes. The bill was about half torn in two, and answered the description of money taken from Vestal, Vestal gave his residence as Coffeyville, Kan.

Real estate loans. Geo Wilkins—Adv Fred Hughart and wife left Wednesday evening for Hartington where Mr Hughart will do the cooking in a hotel.
