BRYAN GETS REBEL GUARD

Has Consul Send Troops Ahead of United States Men Seeking Bodies Victime-Huerta's Men Slay American Millionaire.

Cumbre, Chihuahua, Feb. 10.-Many charred bones and several metal buttons and buckles from clothing were the only traces discovered of the bodies of the 40 passengers and crew of the train wrecked in the Cumbre tunnel of the Mexico & Northwestern railway Wednesday night,

A rescue party equipped with oxygen helmets to guard them against the effects of the smoke and fumes of the still smoldering wreckage made their way from the south portal of the tunnel, over the wreckage of the burned freight train to the locomotive and forward cars of the passenger train on Sunday. Nothing remained of the cars but the metal frames and trucks, and it is believed that the bodies of the imprisoned passengers must have been completely destroyed by the in-

The crew of the freight train escaped and placed the blame on Castillo's bandits.

Juarez, Feb. 10.-Nine Americans and 40 or more Mexicans, whose fate has been a mystery since the burning of the Cumbre tunnel by bandits, were suffocated. The tragedy is ascribed to Maximo Castillo, bandit leader. A special train carrying 20 Americans, led by W. J. Farragut, 50 coffins and a rescue outfit left Juares for the scene. The rescue train was prepared early in the evening, but was delayed a short time by a telegram from Secretary of State Bryan, who instructed Consul Edwards to see that a soldier guard preceded it so that the Americans aboard might be protected from pos-sible attack by Castillo, General Benavides provided 300 rebel troops and these were sent ahead of the rescue party on another train.

The exact number of persons aboard the passenger train is not known. First reports put the number at 35, but a request for 75 coffins was made by a searching party led by Dr. F. C. Herr Railroad men are furious at Castillo's act. Tuesday 22 of his men were captured and executed by rebels. The next day, apparently in revenge, he captured a freight train, ran it into the south end of the tunnel about 300 feet and set it on fire, but gave railway men no warning. The passenger train, whose crew was ignorant of danger. entered the death trap from the north while the tunnel was burning. When the engineer discovered the trap it was too late to save his train or passengers. The missing Americans, all employes of the railroad, were: M. J. Gilmartin, superintendent of the Chihuahua division; B. Schofield, superintendent of terminals at Juarez; Lee Williams. assistant manager of commissary; H. F. Marders, express agent; E. J. Mc-Cutcheon, engineer; J. E. Webster, conductor; Edward Morris, roadmastter; Thomas Kelly, conductor, and James Burgess

FORMER PRIEST, CONVICTED OF MURDER, IS UNCONCERNED.

Will Go to Electric Chair-Brutal Killing of Anna Aumuller, Was Committed on September 2.

New York, Feb. 7 .- Hans Schmidt, former priest, was found guilty of murder in the first degree Thursday for killing Anna Aumuller, a young woman he had married through a self-performed ceremony while acting as a priest at St. Joseph's church.

The penalty for the crime is death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison. He will be sentenced next Wednesday.

Schmidt, whose defense was insanity, laughed bitterly when the verdict was pronounced. He had steadfastly declared himself guilty and at his arraignment before being held for the supreme court pleaded that he be punished by death. Later he protested against the insanity defense advanced by his council, and said he would not assist them in any way if they prepared an appeal.

This was the second trial and the jury was out a few minutes less than five hours. At the first trial the jury disagreed. Alienists for the prosecution and defense supplied most of the testimony at both trials.

A. G. Koelble of Schmidt's counsel asserted after the verdict that owing to the former priest's persistent silence concerning the crime it had not been possible to place all the facts before the jury. He said Schmidt was not guilty of murder, but had shielded a physician after the woman's death. She was not murdered. the lawyer declared.

"Father Schmidt will never go to the electric chair," he added.

Howe.-C. L. Meek of Peru, who has been doing considerable excavating in ancient Nemaha county house ruins, has been here examining the ancient house sites on the Daugherty farm. Mr. Meek has made some important discoveries of ancient habitations near Peru and unearthed considerable material that directly connects the builders with those who at one time inhabited immense areas further north. The primitive towns near this place were at one time inhabited by a very superior race of farmers and gardeners, and in a cache in one of the ancient ruins more than a dozen garden tools were uncovered.

RUSSIAN BLOUSE SUIT FOR THE LITTLE FELLOW

C LOTHES for little boys-small and active youngsters from three to six NEWSFROM OVER THE STATE | years old—have not changed much in design for many years. This is because they have been cut and made to suit his needs, and it transpires that nothing could look better than the Russian blouse suits which protect and adorn the body of the most restless and frolicsome and daring of young animals.

Therefore suits for little boys are to be made in two pieces and of plain and durable materials. shrunk before they are cut. The best behaved young man will forget all about caring for his clothes and romp as freely in white linen as in khaki. Little boys are less conscious of their clothes than little girls, and much soap and water falls to the lot of their apparel. Therefore their clothes are to be made easy to wash and iron.

The problem that confronts the mother is that of teaching her son to wish to be clean and neat looking without interfering with his romping. There is only one way, it seems, and that is to provide him with plenty of plain, strong, well made suits like that shown here, in order to provide a fresh one with the resurrence of his need for it.

Very fittle material will make a suit. Plain box platts add to the strength of the blouse and also something of adornment. Collar, cuffs and belt are usually in a contrasting pattern. That is, a plaid blouse is finished with collar, cuffs and belt in a plain fabric. Or a plain blouse is finished with these accessories in plaid or figured material.

After all, it does not require a great deal of work to keep a little fellow presentable enough. Summer and winter he wears a union suit, a waist to support his stockings and parts, his shoes and a blouse. In cold weather he is protected from the cold when he is out (which should be a considerable part of the day) by heavy coat, cap, leggings and mittens. In midsummer he may shed all but his waist, pants and blouse; it is fine for him to run

All the standard pattern concerns provide suitable paper patterns for suits. In making a selection choose the plainest designs, for in the long run they look best.
