Corn Oil for Cooking.

The discovery that oil made from corn can be used economically as a substitute for other oils in cooking has been made by Prof. L. E. Sayre of the school of pharmacy of the University of Kansas. Corn oil is a by-product from cereal manufacturing. It is comparatively cheap, selling at 50 cents a gallon for the refined grade. Olive oil sells at $3 a gallon, and cottonseed oil at 75 cents. Corn oil has a pale yellow color and a pleas- Later they lived happily ever after. ant taste similar to freshly ground cornmeal. Its properties, according to Professor Sayre are very similar to those of olive and cottonseed oils.

MAKES HARD WORK HARDER

A bad back makes a day's work twice as hard. Backache usually comes from weak kidneys, and if headaches, dizziness or urinary disorders are added don't wait-get help before the kidney disease takes a grip—before dropsy, grav-el or Bright's disease sets in. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought new life and new strength to thousands of working men and women. Used and recommended the world over.

A CALIFORNIA CASE

Louis C. Wardwell, 1550 Pacific St., San Bernardino, Cal., says: "I had so much pain in my back I could hardly get off and on the wagon. The jarring I got while riding brought on the trouble. The kidney secretions were filled with sediment. I tried many remedies, but Doan's Kidney Fills were the only one that cured me. They drove away all the pain and lameness and fixed my kidneys up in good shape."

Damsel Put Question of Little Nap or Silly Talk Up to Her Escort, and It Was a "Go."

He was taking her home from the theater. The car was crowded, but they had obtained a seat together, and they were in each other's exclusive company for 45 minutes.

"Are you thinking of going away this summer?" said he, trying to conceal a yawn.

"I guess so," she answered, making a lady-like motion with her muff. "I went away last summer," he continued, several blocks later. "Did you?" "I think we did," she said, "Say, may I ask you something?" "Anything."

"Now, listen, I'm having just as hard a time to stay awake as you are. If you'll just shut up until we get to my street, I can have a nice little nap. So can you. And you'll like me a lot better than if we'd try to converse, and I'd fairly love you. And maybe I'd invite you out to call. Is it a go?"

"Angel! It is!" It was with difficulty that he kept from embracing her. Girls like that are so rare.

Surprised Uncle Silas

A well-known railroad president once took occasion to visit a small town to enjoy the excellent fishing nearby. He carefully concealed his identity, and was consequently snubbed by a "leading citizen," with whom he attempted to strike up a conversation on the banks of the stream. When leaving he secured the services of an aged black to carry his things from the hotel to the depot. There the departing visitor caught sight of the man who had given him the cold shoulder. "Poor Smith," he said, smiling amusedly. "Suffering from an aggravated attack of egotism." "Dat so?" said Uncle Silas, in surprise, following his gaze. "He done lived heah more'n twenty yeahs an' Ah nevah knowed afore dat he wuz ailin'."

things happening every day, which seem almost miraculous. Some persons would not believe that a man could suffer from coffee drinking so severely as to cause spells of unconsciousness. And to find relief in changing from coffee to Postum is well worth recording. "I used to be a great coffee drinker, so much so that it was killing me by inches. My heart became so weak I would fall and lie unconscious for an hour at a time. "My friends, and even the doctor, told me it was drinking coffee that caused the trouble. I would not believe it, and still drank coffee until I could not leave my room. "Then my doctor, who drinks Postum himself, persuaded me to stop coffee and try Postum. After much hesitation I concluded to try it. That was eight months ago. Since then I have had but few of those spells, none for more than four months.

"I feel better, sleep better and am better every way. I now drink nothing but Postum and touch no coffee, and as I am seventy years of age all my friends think the improvement quite remarkable."

Declares That the Original Forests of This Timber Are Approaching Exhaustion-Trees Grow Rapidly and Are Easy to Manage.

Washington.-The growing of white pine, says the department of agriculture in a bulletin recently issued on the subject, is a profitable undertaking at six per cent. compound interest. To bring in these returns, the trees may be cut when no more than from 25 to 70 years old.

The original white forests are approaching exhaustion, according to the department, and with the growing scarcity of large-size, high-grade white pine lumber, lower grades now find a ready market. Besides this, the tree grows rapidly, has a heavy yield, and is easy to manage.

Second-growth white pine, fifty years old, on good soil, may yield as much as 49,000 feet of lumber per acre. On medium soil, stands of the same age 36,000 board feet, and even on poor soil, 24,000 feet. White pine boxboard lumber, one of the chief products of such stands, sells for from $12 to $18 a thousand board feet. Material for making matches, another product, sells for from $17 to $18 a thousand. Even larger material, suitable for sashes and blinds, some of which may be cut from a fifty-year-old Judge Scully and placed one dollar on stand, brings from $30 to $35 a thou- the judge's bench. The judge accepted sand feet. Second-growth white pine, the kind that is found on thousands honesty. of abandoned fields and pastures in New England, and that which has sprung up after lumbering in many places where the original white pine forests stood, has a value today, says the department, that makes it well worth the attention of the owner.

Too often, caution the forest officers, the farmer or other land owner sells second-growth white pine stumpage for less than it is worth because he does not know how much lumber the stand is actually capable of yielding. or else is ignorant of the price the Professor Earhart of Pittsburgh Urges Instruction Along This Line in Report Issued by U. S. Bureau of Education.

Washington,-"A strong course of study of great musical literature should be offered in the high school," says Prof. Will Earhart of Pittsburgh, in a preliminary report on music just issued by the United States bureau of education, "Musical appreciation is particularly appropriate for third and fourth year students. The course hould include the study of musical listory, lives of famous musicians, orms of musical composition, esthetcs of music, etc."

Professor Earbart further urges in his report that the instruction be based on a large number of selected compositions, ancient and modern; that all the different means of musical expression be considered flano, orchestra, chorus, solo singing, solo instrument, chamber music, etc., and that only the best and most characteristic works of the various composers be studied, whether song, sonata, rondo, opera, oratorio or cantata.

Professor Earhart and the members of the committee who are working with him to reorganize secondary education in music appear to have no objection to "canned music." In fact, the report urges that a course in musical appreciation is now much more practicable than formerly, bebeen made in the mechanical devices player, the talking machine and the or all of these," says Professor Ear- the fallen earth.

A Little Pepsin in a Mild Lawative Promptly Corrected a Bad Indigestion.

Fortunate is the one who can eat anything" without suffering the tortures of dyspepsia, but as few are so fortunate, care should be taken in the matter of diet. Eating slowly, masticating the food thoroughly and taking a short walk after the heavy meal of the day will do much towards assisting digestion. Any grown-up person ought to know the peculiar foods that do not agree, and these should be avoided.

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR ITCHING SCALPS, DANDRUFF AND FALLING HAIR

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following special treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair out straight all around, then begin at the side and make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura Ointment into the parting with a bit of soft flannel held over the end of the finger. Anoint additional partings about half an inch apart until the whole scalp has been treated, the purpose being to get the Cuticura Ointment on the scalp skin rather than on the hair. It is well to place a light covering over the hair to protect the pillow from possible stain. The next morning, shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Shampoos alone may be used as often as agreeable, but once or twice a month is generally sufficient for this special treatment for women's hair. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book, Address post-
