CLEAN THE SEPARATOR

No one should place any confidence in an agent's claim of separators being able to wash themselves by simply running water through them, says the dairy department of the Nebraska College of Agriculture, "Such claims are not made by men who have the dairymen's interest at heart. Washing a separator is not a very difficult task if done soon after separating. The water for washing should be warm, but not hot enough to cook the curd on any of the parts. If it is not convenient to wash the machine immediately after separating, the bowl at least should be taken apart and immersed in water. This will losen all the curd and make washing comparatively easy. If the parts are scalded with hot water
