

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

JUSTIN S. BACON.....Republican [X]

Be sure and place an X in the [] following my name like the above when you vote on election day, and make it count for Bacon.

I will furnish my own bond without cost to the county. Polls open at 8:00 o'clock a. m. and close at 6:00 o'clock p. m. November 3, 1914.

system, but experience has shown that our primary law can be improved by amendment. One of the important changes should be the elimination of the primary of a number of minor offices, largely clerical in their nature, and making a much shorter ballot.

Notwithstanding statements to the contrary, I favor farmers' co-operative organizations and the encouragement of boys' agricultural experiments and domestic science for girls, and that the state should lend reasonable aid in this direction. In response to many inquiries as to my attitude on the question of university removal, I do not regard that I am rightfully in position to commit myself. The decision of the question has been referred to the voters and it seems to me clear the duty of one who would be their representative to be guided in a large measure by decision of his district in the election, until so determined, I positively refuse to align myself, except for the purpose of my own vote in the election.

In general, it shall be my endeavor, if elected to legislature, to ascertain, so far as possible, the will of my constituents on important questions and to represent them faithfully and to the best of my ability; to give my support to the enactment of wholesome laws that will conserve and encourage the welfare, morals and prosperity of the people of Nebraska. On this basis I cordially solicit your support and pledge myself to a faithful discharge of my duties.

A. M. CHAMBERS.

Ponca Journal: Mrs King, of Hubbard, was in Ponca Wednesday to attend the funeral of Miss Harriet Pomeroy.

Osmond Republican: Mrs B S Leonard, who has been visiting at Osmond for the past two weeks, has returned to her home at Gordon.

Salix Items in Sloan, Ia, Star: Mrs Sam Cone visited at Sergeant Kluff Saturday. Miss Brosia, a hitchhiker visited several days last week with relatives in Bronson.

Wynot Tribune: E J Morin and brother left Tuesday for a few days visit with their mother at Omaha. Miss Opal Albrey returned Friday after a two months visit with her sister in Minneapolis.

Winnepago Chiefstain: Malcolm Smith was in town Thursday. Fred Schneider, of Homer, was in town Thursday afternoon on business. Tilden Harris and wife went to Hubbard last Friday visiting Mr Harris' brother. Misses Ruth, Doolittle and Margaret Niebuhr were visiting Miss Helen Neibuhr Sunday.

Lyons Mirror: M M Warner and wife visited the latter's sister, Mrs Florence Nixon, at Homer on Friday until Sunday. We visited the Taylor cemetery, where sleep Mrs Warner's grandfather and grandmother Taylor and mother, Mrs Wm Taylor, and other relatives; we saw a number of the pioneers of old and the scenes of long ago; memory lifted the veil of the fleeting years and the past came back to us again and we were once more in our younger days. It was just a vision—that's all.

Sioux City Journal, 26: Reports of the work of thieves comes from the Nebraska side of the river. Three men rapped on the door of the house of Henry Kleindiedt, some distance above South Sioux City, late Saturday night and asked for food. Mrs Kleindiedt, who was home alone, slammed the door in their faces. The men then forced their way into the house and took a ham, two loaves of bread and a can of coffee. Other persons living near the river have missed chickens and household provisions the last few days. Died—in Sioux City, Ia, Saturday, October 24, 1914, Mrs Maggie O'Hanlon, 54 years old, of Waterbury, Neb., in a hospital, from complications. Mrs O'Hanlon was born in Clinton, Ia, February 15, 1861. Surviving are her husband, G O'Hanlon, and five children, G Chester, of St Paul, Minn; E T O'Hanlon, Daniel O'Hanlon and Rose O'Hanlon. Funeral services will be conducted this morning at 9 o'clock from the church of the Immaculate Conception in Morningside, Rev J L Kerby officiating. Burial will be in Mt Calvary cemetery.

Sioux City Journal, 25: Eugene B Gurnsey has started suit in the district court against the Sioux City Service company for $2,950 for personal injuries alleged to have been on August 29, 1914. Gurnsey bases his suit for damages on the allegations that a stock yard trolley car, while being carelessly operated, struck his automobile at Chambers and Chambers streets, knocking him to the ground. As a result of the accident, Gurnsey avers, he received a broken leg and permanent injuries. George Beck, father of Beulah Beck, 8 years old, who was killed by a railroad torpedo on the property of the Great Northern railroad, July 7, yesterday filed a new suit against the railroad company in the district court for $3,000 damages for the girl's death. The suit for $20,000 against the Great Northern road, which was filed by Beck's attorney, was dismissed in the federal court. The case was transferred to the federal court from the district court. The other suit against the Chicago, Milwaukee and St Paul railroad for $20,000 for his daughter's death, still is pending in the federal court. It was transferred from the district court with the suit against the Great Northern. The Milwaukee case will probably be heard at the May term of the federal court.

Emerson Enterprise: Levi McEntaffer was helping out at the Enterprise this week while Joy Fausto was away on a wedding trip. Mrs Calvin Rockwell, of Homer, returned home last Saturday morning after a week's visit in Emerson with the family of her son, Chas Rockwell. William Dougherty went to South Sioux City Sunday morning, called there by the death of a cousin, "Jimmy" Dougherty. The deceased was an old timer in Northeast Nebraska and was well known in this section of the state. Our basket ball girls defeated the Dakota City team on Saturday last by the score of 13 to 8. The game was well played, clean and wholesome. The Dakota City girls are good hoosers and each is a lady. We invite them back again. A good crowd attended the game. Mr and Mrs Louie Rockwell, of Fiddler Creek, passed through Emerson with their daughter, Miss Helen, who is teaching school at Laurel, and their son Forest, who is attending the Normal at Wayne, and who had spent Saturday under the parental roof. Grandpa Rockwell came as far as Emerson with them and spent the day here with relatives. At 2:30 yesterday afternoon occurred the marriage of Joy R Fausto to Miss Grace Priest, Rev Lewis officiating. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of the groom's parents, Mr and Mrs Nelson Fausto, in Emerson, in the presence of immediate relatives. William Hanson was the best man and Miss Clara McEntaffer bridesmaid. The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs L E Priest living on Fiddler Creek between Homer and Emerson, where she was born and raised. She is a splendid young lady and has been reared along the lines that make good wives and life mates and the groom is indeed fortunate in securing so charming and beautiful young lady to go with him through life. The groom is the only son of Mr and Mrs Nelson Fausto and was born and reared in Emerson, where he is well and favorably known to all. Mr Fausto is the foreman of the Enterprise and will make the newspaper business his future work. The young people left for a short honeymoon at Omaha and other points south. They will be at home in Emerson December 1, in the house recently purchased from Dr Guy Bown. The Enterprise, with a host of other friends, extend congratulations and wish the happy couple many years of happy married life.

Nels Johnson, of Oakland, who filed as a republican candidate for state senator in this district and was defeated by H P Shumway in the primary, has now accepted the nomination on the democratic ticket, having received fourteen democratic votes in the primary.

Why the New War Tax?

Since the United States is not engaged in war the American people will scrutinize closely the war taxes which are about to be imposed by congress. There is no chance that the taxes will be approved by the people in a cloud of patriotism. Marching troops will not distract the attention of the voters. Bands will not be present to drown the protests of those who are pinched by the taxes.

The people will want to know why they are being taxed. They will want to know whether such taxes are necessary, and whether they might not have been avoided by the practice of a little economy since the democratic party came into power.

If there are any real issues which influence the election of the democrats, aside from the split in the republican party, they were the high cost of living and the pledge of economy.

The tariff for revenue only has provided a failure from a revenue-producing standpoint. Before the war began, imports had increased amazingly, but the revenue had fallen off.

If the new tariff cannot be defended as a revenue producer, its acceptance by any portion of the public is doubtful. Certainly it cannot be shown to have reduced the cost of living. Its effect on business and employment is already an issue in the congressional campaign.

By bringing forward a plan for war taxes, at a time when the United States is at peace, the democratic party deliberately focuses attention upon extravagance and the failure of the tariff for revenue only. It suggests an inquiry as to the reason why economies have not been practiced, and why the tariff for revenue.

Many of these issues might have been overlooked by the public if they had been left as abstract problems, but with a large proportion of the public feeling the pinch in the pocket-book some original thinking will be done at the polls.—Washington Post.

TO THE CITIZENS

Of the 13th Representative District of Nebraska.

As many of the voters of Thurston and Dakota counties have asked me from time to time how I stand on certain questions and it is right and proper that they know the attitude of a candidate for a legislative office toward important questions. I take this opportunity to state briefly my views on certain problems that may have some relation to the work of a legislator.

I most emphatically favor a strict economy of state expenditures and believe that substantial reductions may be made in a number of directions without impairing the desirable and necessary operations of the state department. I shall favor any reduction that can be made without a sacrifice of administrative efficiency and shall favor those appropriations which will give the largest and most important returns for the money expended.

An efficiency survey of the state's business should be carefully made by the legislature as a basis for appropriations and, so far as possible, provision should be made for the consolidation of offices and a material reduction in the number of minor employees.

There should be no reduction of expenditures for school and public instruction, for the encouragement and development of agriculture, nor for improvement of public highways. I favor giving counties greater latitude in road and bridge contracts that will put them less at the mercy of trust extortions and enable them to expend the funds of the county with greatest economy.

While I believe at the present time private ownership of most public utilities is preferable for efficiency and development, I favor strict control and regulation by laws that will secure to the people of the state fair treatment, reasonable charges and adequate service. One such utility that should be so regulated in the stockyards at South Omaha and a physical valuation of it should be made to determine what are reasonable charges. I am a firm believer in the primary
