Mary Spencer Claimed By Death

Word came by telegram to friends here last Thursday that Miss Mary Spencer had passed away at the home of her mother, Mrs Etta M. Spencer, near Hoyt, Colo., on Wednesday, December 23, 1914. For the past six years she had been a sufferer Prof A B Rich and family of Til-den. Nebr, spent their holiday vaca-with tuberculosis, and even when knowing that a cure was hopeless, not a murmer or word of complaint

The deceased was born in Dakota City, Nebr., January 3, 1883, and had lived here all her life until stricken with the fatal disease, when she took up her residence in Denver, Colo., in hopes that the change might effect a cure. Her condition grew gradually worse, and three years ago her mother moved from James Spencer, and took her daughter there to care for her. The final alden returned Monday from a summons came, and with the same at the Albert Schumacher home fortitude that marked her years of suffering, she passed peacefully on to that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

The deceased is survived by her mother, Mrs Etta M. Spencer, three brothers—James, of Hoyt, Colo.; Craig L., of Seattle, Wash., and John, of Chihuahua, Mexico; and four sisters-Mrs. Helen Cunningham, and Mrs. Claire Carlson, of Seattle, Wash; Mildred Spencer, of Hoyt, Col., and Mrs. Margaret Josiansen, of Arizona.

The remains were shipped to not childhood home here for interment, accompanied by her mother, he brother Craig and sister Mildred The funeral services were held Sun day from the M. E. church in this place, of which she had been a member nearly all her life. Rev. C. F Luscher, of South Sioux City, conduced the services. Interment was made in the family lot in the Dakota City cemetery.

Death Claims Another Dakota County Pioneer | Items of Interest

RICHARD D. ROCKWELL,

After an illness of a year or more, D. Rockwell, a pioneer resident of this county, died at his home three miles southeast of Hubbard, Nebr. December 24, 1914. His death was due to hardening of the arteries. He had also been a sufferer with an aggravated attack of gangrene on his foot, caused by an injury although not confined to his bed.

Deceased was born in Dekalb county, Ind., January 21, 1851. He came to Dakota county first on August 17 1869, and later returned to Dekalb county when on the 8th day of October, 1873, he was married to Susan Meyers, A few years later they moved to Dakota county and made this their permanent home since.

Mr. Rockwell followed carpenting for a number of years, and later took up farming, having one of the finest improved farms in the vicinity of Hubbard, where he lived for the past forty-one years.

The deceased is survived by a wife Susan, and four children. They are, John D. Rockwell and Mrs. Mabel J. Twamley, of South Sioux City; Mrs. Laura E. Whitaker, of Wausa, Nebr., and Harry Rockwell, at home. One child, Charles E,, having preceded the father in death. Beside the family he is survived by three sisters-Mrs. John Welker of Homer, Nebr., Mrs. Rose Peterson, of Crookston, Nebr., and Mrs. Alice Walters, of Des Moines, Ia., and two brothers -Stephen M. Rockwell, of Homer, and Jefferson P. Rockwell, of Hub-

Mr. Rockwell always took an ac tive part in the welfare of the county, and on several occasions had filled the office of assessor for his precinct with credit. His life was as an open book and his word was as good 121 cents per hundred 10 at the Ed- as his bond. He was a member of wards & Bradford yards, South the M. B. A. order, in which he carried a policy for $2,000.

The funeral services were held Sunday from the M. E. church in Homer, Rev. Keckler officiating. Interment was in the Hule cemetery near Homer.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our many relatives, friends and neighbors for kindness and sympathy shown during the sickness and death of our enough. beloved husband and father. Mrs. R. D, Rockwell and Children.

GRAIN SORGHUMS PROMISING Some of the talked of new crops which promise to have great value in western Nebrasks are the grain sorghome Some of the most promoting varieties of these are Katir, feterita. warf mile, and kaoliang. These crops are well known for the'r ability to withstand dry conditions. In fact they have been adopted as standard grain crops in large portions of western Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas, where they yield better than corn. One reason why they have not been inroduced more extensively in western Nebraska is because of a lack of suffictently early maturing varieties. The overcome by the selection and introculture and different experiment stations. The feeding value of the grain produced is practically equal to that

Farmers are advised by the Nebrrska Experiment Station to grow a small plant but not be too ready to grow large acreages of the new grain sorghams until experience has been had regarding their methods of culture and local adaptability. The department of experimental agronomy at the a tion would be glad to bear of the
