

WHY GRIP IS DANGEROUS.

It requires a good tonic laxative to keep the body of the patient as strong as possible to counteract the effect of the poisons created by the grip bacillus. An expectorant tonic with some laxative qualities is the safest remedy. Such is Peruna.

Mrs. Gentry Gates, 2219 First Ave., East Lake, Ala., writes: "I had a bad case of grip. I tried Peruna and it cured me. I can safely say it is a fine medicine."

Mr. George E. Law, 124 N. Franklin St., Brazil, Ind., writes: "I am satisfied that Peruna is a wonderful remedy for grip, and I do most heartily endorse and recommend it."

They who, continuing faithful to divine grace, however partially communicated, serve God with their whole lives, will never fall of that one reward, the greatest which even he has to bestow, the being made able to love him with their whole hearts.—Dora Greenwell.

LITTLE ROMANCE IN MEETING

It Was Their First and Only Time, and the Consequences Were Decidedly Tragical.

It was the first time they met. Save for a gray, overcast sky, and heavy rain or snow, the day was perfect.

He came along rapidly, as was his wont, looking neither to the right nor the left, but gawping at the sky like a rube.

Much more slowly she approached from the opposite direction, walking daintily, as usual.

She saw him. "How handsome he is!" she thought. "How big and bold and strong looking! How rapidly he moves!"

But if he saw her he gave no sign. A little bird hovered in the air far above.

"He seems in such a hurry!" she sighed. And really he was going some.

It was then, for the first and last time, they met.

New Mineral. In the course of recent microscopical study of a number of samples from the old Searles' deep well at Searles, San Bernardino county, California, several minerals were found which could not be determined optically. A chemical analysis of one of these showed it to be a hydrous borosilicate of sodium, and the name Searlesite is proposed for the new mineral, after John W. Searles, the pioneer, who put down the deep well from which the specimen came.

OLD DAD BING WAS RILED. Tells of Annoyance When Youthful Highwayman Made Play to "Hold Him Up."

"The other evening, as I was roaming in the gloaming," related old Dad Bing, "I met up with a young fellow with a yearling revolver fluttering in his shaking hand. He wobbled it around and chattered something about yearning for my money. I was feeling sorter ash-y, anyhow, and so I cracked down on him with my old forty-five, yanked his little gun from him and flipped it into the street. "A little more of that," says I, "and you'd have put out some of the windows around here, and got yourself disliked. And permit me to state that I'm getting devilish tired of being fooled with. Every time I'm yur in Kay See along comes some infant astraddle of a stick and wants me to stand still while he holds me up. Business is business and all that, but these yur amateurs make me weary. If they don't let up pretty soon blame if I don't organize a school of scientific highwaymanship, so that you triflers won't go on forever disgracing yourselves and the fair city that fosters you! Defunct now, before I get mad and slap you!"—Kansas City Star.

THE COLONEL'S GOLD MINE

Out in Gregory County, South Dakota, lives Colonel Johnson, the famed Alfalfa King of that great section. About thirty years ago he left Wisconsin for that domain. All he had was willing hands, a clear brain and a bright vision. Today he is the owner of thousands of acres, president of several banks.

He has found a veritable gold mine in his thousand-acre Alfalfa field, and what is of particular interest to you and me is that his first Alfalfa Seed, twenty-five years ago or more, was purchased from the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis. The Colonel says: "The best paying crop in hay, or grass, or pasture feed is Alfalfa. It outranks everything in money value. Salzer's Alfalfa is good on your own farm, for three to five tons of rich hay per acre, and with the aid of 'Stranger' (see my catalog) its growth is absolutely certain."

Troglodytes. "A. J. Drexel, one of the American volunteers in the British service, dined with me at the Ritz in London while on furlough," said a Cincinnati correspondent.

"Mr. Drexel told me that he habitually slept in France eight feet underground in a clay cave. His bed was a door. His roof was another door. The entrance was a two-foot square hole.

"Very luxurious—what you might call 'diggings,' laughed Mr. Drexel."

NATIONS WITH SMALL ARMIES. Three, at Least, Should Have Little Trouble in Disbanding Their Military Forces.

If ever the disarmament of the world occurs, there will be several countries that will not have much to do in that line, such as, for instance, Monaco, the army of which comprises 75 guards, 75 carabinieri and 20 firemen.

Another diminutive army is that of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, which numbers 135 gendarmes, 170 volunteers, and 30 musicians. The republic of San Marino can put in the field a total of nine companies consisting of 950 men and 38 officers, commanded by a marshal. The army on a peace footing consists of one company of 60 men.

The fighting force of the "Black republic," Liberia, is composed of 700 men and almost a million officers. Liberia, however, evidently considers its army a formidable one, since, upon the occasion of hostilities between any of the powers, it always issues a proclamation of neutrality.

NO BAKING POWDER MORE WHOLESOME THAN ALUM POWDERS.

Washington, D. C.—Alum baking powders are no more harmful to a person than any other baking powder. Such is the conclusion of the referee board of consulting scientific experts of the department of agriculture as the result of experiments to determine the influence of aluminum compounds on the nutrition and health of man. The report gives the results of three sets of extensive experiments on human subjects conducted independently by members of the board and was in response to questions put to it by the department of agriculture. The board's report was unanimous and was signed by Ira Remsen, president of Johns Hopkins University, Chairman; Russell H. Crittendon, professor of physiological chemistry in Yale University and director of the Sheffield Scientific school; John H. Long, professor of chemistry in Northwestern University; Alonzo E. Taylor, professor of physiological chemistry in the University of Pennsylvania; and Theobald Smith, professor of comparative pathology in Harvard.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. TILLMAN WATERS, 530 Mechanic Street, Camden, N. J.
