Farmers in Adams county are taking advantage of the dry weather and hundreds are in the fields cutting one of the biggest crops ever harvested in that locality. Many idle men have been called to the fields to assist in

REVIVAL OF OLD PLAY

Years and years ago, "King" Kelly pulled a play where he followed Williamson right in to the plate on a play where it was apparent that the latter would be put out when the catcher would tag Williamson, who would slide in one direction. Kelly would slide the opposite way, and it was impossible for the catcher to get both men. It was a play worked time and again with one man out and a run needed to tle the score. Since that time the play did not come up until a few days ago, when two Lincoln runners came into the plate at the same time when a short fly fell at the feet of Outfielder Pownall of Wichita. Pownall threw the ball to Catcher Griffith as both men slid in at the same time. They made the mistake of sliding in the same direction and Catcher Griffith's shin guards proved mighty handy. He blocked the plate completely and both men were stopped a foot away from the plate. It was an easy matter to tag both and the umpire would not allow a claim of interference. In this manner an outfielder threw two men out at the plate on the same play. There is no record of this play ever having happened before. Of course, the play was not re-hearsed as Williamson and Kelly worked it, or the catcher could not have tagged both men.

STARS AT INITIAL SACK

The three leading first basemen in the majors, Saier, Chase and McInnis, are also hard hitters, speedy on the bases and exceptionally good fielders.

Schangs Making Great Name. The Schang family is making a great name for itself in baseball. There are four boys in the Schang family and all of them are clever ball players. Wally and Bobby are the stars of the outfit, both of them making good in the major leagues. Wally is the fine young catcher of Connie Mack's Athletics, while Bobby is playing with the Pirates behind the bat and is giving the fans the impression that he is another Wally. The Schangs

At San Francisco Manager Harry Wolverton of the San Francisco club suffered three fractured ribs, a broken clavicle, and possibly a critical injury to his lungs when his automobile verton cranked the machine and it started before he could get out of its path. His clothing was caught, and at the end of a block the car Normal Attendance. Says the New York Sun: "Attendances at the Giants' games at the polo grounds compare favorably with any recent year except 1913, which was baseball's biggest year. There has been no great difference one way or another between this year's patronage and that of 1911, 1912 and 1914." Fake Stories Circulated. One of the critics in Philadelphia has been circulating all kinds of fake reports about the workings of the former world's champions because he has never liked Connie Mack. The stories that the fans hissed Lajoie to protest the release of Collins were all
