Lutheran Church Notes

DAKOTA CITY-SALEM LOST—Almost all the parents of the boys and girls last Sunday morning from Sunday school. When you teach your boy to plow you go to the field with him, you work along with him to show and to help him when he needs it.

The mother washes dishes along with her daughter till she knows how. But how different it is in teaching the child to live right. "Just run along to Sunday school and come home from church if you wish, get all you can out of it and it will be all right."

One told me not so long ago he would not hinder his children from being christians, but he did not care to lead them into the way by going ahead of them. But when it comes to taking care of the calves he will direct him, show him, and see that the boy does the work right until he can depend on the son to go ahead.

Parents, are your calves worth more than the character of your children? Never. Some day when it is past the time you may be willing to give all you have if you could blot out some deed of an ill-going life. But you can't. You may wish you had paid more attention to the training in the way you would have him go.

You don't let the weeds choke the corn before you plow, but you get them early. It is easier then. In the same way cultivate the child and for the same reason while it is early. Don't let the devil get the first chance, he will be on the job and strong enough soon enough.

The best corn you raised last summer with all your work, may test too low to be fit for planting but Satan's seed has the old reliable 100% test right along. Come and bring the children, we have a place for you.

It is a source of much gratification to have the children at the church service. Parents, let them stay. Tell them to stay, urge it. Last Sunday we thought there was a good deal of heaviness in the sermon. So we asked some of the boys, six to ten years old, if they understood what was being said thru the discourse. From what they said they got a surprising amount of it.

If you understand an audience and are where you can observe, you can tell how much they are getting and how they like what is being said. You should see the boys and girls drink it in. They will retain more than you may think. The water runs thru the mill-wheel but once, but if you keep the supply running and the headgate open, the mill will run night and day. Keep up the work of Word and you will get a good life in the end the you get but a little at a time. Lives as well as seeds have to have time and good conditions to grow.

A week from next Sunday we will take occasion to preach a sermon for the children in appreciation of their staying to church. Subject, "The Young Fox and the Buried Chain." We always try to have something for them, and try to be simple and plain so they can understand. We lay no claim to profundity, but we do know something about the bible and its doctrines.

A good lay last Sunday and an appreciative congregation and hearing of the discussion of the two interesting questions announced.

REV. C. R. LOWE.

M. E. Church Notes.

Services on Sunday as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m. Epworth League at 7 p. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

The benevolences apportioned to this church are practically the same as last year. While we did very well last year, the fact remains that we did not do what we were asked to do. If you will examine the report that will be in your hands in a few days you will find that the amount subscribed was spread over a very few members. The majority gave nothing. May we presume that that was their estimate of what God expected. If the members who did not subscribe had given but fifty cents each we would have met our apportionment in full. Let us see to it that Dakota City meets its obligations this year.

Epworth League social and cabinet meeting on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Cabinet meets half an hour earlier.

Epworth League leader on Sunday next, Mrs. Cain. Subject, "The Urgency of a Great Task."

The pastor will preach Sunday, at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.
