

HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until They Almost Drop. How Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health:—

Frankfort, Ky.—“I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish.”—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 516 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice,—it will be confidential.

JUST THE CHILDREN MOURNED

None Came to Claim the Body of Old George, the Cornetist.

About us everywhere in the fogs of the human tide are drifting mysteries we accept without inquiry. There are such people in Sacramento as “Old George, the cornetist,” who recently fell dead in New York city.

Day after day he appeared at the same corner, offered his familiar tunes to the admiring children and the sometimes abjuring adults, and collected the pennies wherewith to buy food, clothing and shelter.

No one ever asked him his right name, but the children loved him. Then one morning, as Old George rained his horn to his lips, it clattered to the pavement, and the song he was planning to give the crowd rattled in his throat as he toppled over—dead.

The children mourned him for several days. No one came to claim his body.

The Cynical Inventor.

A young inventor exhibited a ring to a jeweler.

“A new type of engagement ring,” he said, “that I'm going to patent. It will make me a fortune.”

“Humph,” said the jeweler. “What is there patented about this?”

“It's adjustable,” said the inventor.

Concentrated Satisfaction

A great many former users of tea and coffee have learned that there is a pure food beverage made from wheat, which has a delightful flavor.

It never exacts of its users the tribute of sleeplessness, heart-flutter, headache and other ills often caused by the drug, caffeine, in coffee and tea.

Instant Postum

suggests the snappy flavor of mild java coffee, but is absolutely free from caffeine or any harmful ingredient. Instant Postum is in condensed, soluble form, and wonderfully convenient for the home—for the picnic—for travel—everywhere.

If tea or coffee interferes with comfort or success, as it does for many users, try a shift to Postum.

“There's a Reason”

WHERE WASHINGTON TEAM WILL FINISH

Dependable Washington Players.

Just where the Washington team will finish this year is a matter of conjecture. Some wise ones have named as low as sixth place for Griffith's outfit, but the team should do better than this, for it has been materially strengthened.

The Nationals' pitching staff, among the best in the American league, is stronger this season than last.

Foster is playing the best ball of his career and this is also true of Milan. Ray Morgan is in great condition and Griffith started with a team better, collectively, than he has ever had before.

MANAGER PICKS UP PLAYERS

Pat Moran Will Not Pay Fancy Prices for Ball Tossers—Halts on Expensive Stars.

Since Pat Moran has been in charge of the Phillies he has purchased only three players—Pitchers McQuillen and Karl Adams and Outfielder Good—and for each of these he paid the waiver price. He did not draft a man last fall, and he obtained the right to sign Outfielder Cooper for nothing.

Moran picked up Chief Bender and George Chalmers when they were free agents. He traded Doolin to Cincinnati for Niehoff and let Lobert go to the Manager Pat Moran.

Giants in exchange for Stock, Demaree and Jack Adams, catcher. He obtained Whitted from the Braves, together with Infielder Duguey, in a trade for Sherwood Magee. In other words, the building up of the champions has involved an outlay of not more than $5,000 for players' releases.

Moran does not believe in deals for expensive stars, and as a result the Philadelphia club is a moneymaker for the first time in a great many years.

GREAT TEAM OF “CAST OFFS”

Manager Lee Fohl Claims Strongest Collection of Discards Ever Put Together.

Lee Fohl of Cleveland says he has the greatest team of discards ever put together, not excepting the Boston Braves of 1914.

With a few exceptions every man on the Indian team has at one time or another worn the uniform of another major league team and been released for one reason or another, though it is hardly proper to call players like Speaker, Roth, Daly and Gandil “discards.”

PALMERO IS QUITE ACCURATE

Cuban Twirler Never Forgets What to Do With Ball When He Gets It—Resembles Wiltse.

Emilio Palmiero, the Cuban twirler of the Giants, whose splendid hurling against the Phillies in the first game of the recent series may win him a place on the regular pitching staff of the club, reminds one for all the world of George Wiltse in the field. He is accurate itself in handling the ball, and he never forgets what to do with the leather when he gets it. A bunt in him must be perfectly placed to advance a runner.

WHY YOUNGSTERS FAIL

Nervousness Sends Many Back to Minor Leagues.

Young Players Unable to Get Mind Off Huge Stands and Immense Crowds—Do Not Concentrate Their Minds on Game.

The greatest enemy of the young ball player is nervousness, according to St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Many a youngster of promise coming up from the minors ruins his chances by “aero-planing” when he finds himself lined up against players of experience and reputation.

He is likely to play far below his normal speed, and the impression produced on his manager is faulty. He may not have a chance to become fully accustomed to his surroundings or to get over his nervousness before he is railroaded back to the bushes.

The best way for a player to succeed is to try to forget that he is up in the big show and put his whole mind on the ball game. If he can fail to see the huge stands and the big crowd and just remember that he is playing a game of ball and trying to do his part toward winning it he will surely succeed if he has the ability. The player who is doing everything in his power to win the ball game is the lad who catches the eye of the foxy manager.

One serious fault with many young players is that they think too much of their base hits. This is a natural fault for every player, old or young, likes to wallop the ball to some far territory; but the real manager is looking beyond that. He sees the fellow who can hit with no one on and two out and does not care for his style. On the other hand, the man who has the nerve to come up with the smash in the pinch is the man who is retained, even if his batting average is many points below that of the other fellow.

BASEBALL STORIES

In “Jack” Smith the Cardinals have picked out a real ball player.

McGraw has three wicked right field batters in Doyle, Kauff and Robertson

No ballplayer ever improved his daily average by batting around at night.

Oh, yes, the quick Witt of Connie Mack often helps him out in tight places.

George Stallings has no doubt that Elmer Knetzer will make good under Herzog.

Ball players who try to bait Hank O'Day these days are certain to get the hook.

An echo from the past. Marty O'Toole, of $25,000 fame, was sold to Omaha, Neb.

In one respect pennants and the Red Sox are alike. It takes an operation to cure them.

Inside baseball is a great thing providing the other fellows don't take the inside outside.

Dave Altizer is going back. Yes, running back, and robbing speed boys on impossible plays.

Klepper, one-time Yankee pitcher, is one of the main props of the rehabilitated Cleveland club.

The baseball shark who picked the Giants to finish one-two neglected to specify in which season.

It appears that Tyrus Cobb has a brother who resembles him in some respects, but not as a baseball player

If Pongo Cantillon wins five American association flags in a row maybe he will get credit for having a ball club.

We hate to think what would happen to National league batsmen if Alexander's “dead arm” ever came to life again.

Shorten, the Red Sox's new outfielder, has cut some nifty capers since opening day. He is especially long on hitting.

Miller Huggins, manager of the Cardinals, expects Lee Meadows to pitch more games than any other Card pitcher this year.

A leaky bucket, a punctured tire, and a pitcher without support are about the same in that they get about the same results.

Hugh Jennings still has faith in “Bill” James and believes the big pitcher will come through and prove a big help to the Tigers.

Wilbert Robinson hasn't played actively for more'n a decade, but he's the greatest ground coverer in the National league—when he sits down.

Cleveland is baseball mad. The fans of that city are certainly entitled to do some celebrating, for they have waited long enough for the opportunity.

Connie Mack says that the Athletics did not get good weather on the training trip and that his young pitchers could not get the right kind of a start.

TOLEDO FANS FICKE CONCERNING NICKNAME

“Iron Men” is the latest nickname for the Toledo baseball club. Two Toledo sport writers are using the name exclusively in referring to the club. Whether it will become popular is problematical.

Rajahs and Bessna Hens were two names that for a short time seemed to strike the popular fancy, but random decree that neither was suitable and returned to the old name of Mud Hens. Whether the new name will prove popular is hard to predict. One paragraph intimates that it would be a shame to let them drop behind and rust during the coming season.

FEET TROUBLED ART FROMME

When Former Giant Pitcher Began to Slip McGraw Recommended to dine on His Neck.

When Art Fromme was sent to the Giants by Cincinnati he had some sort of trouble with his feet. They became yellow and calloused, and every day, before going out on the diamond, Fromme would liberally paint his pedals with iodine. McGraw was after the lead of the league. He was up against it for pitchers, and as Fromme looked good in warming up, he asked Art what he thought of working that game.

“Me? Why, say, I'll hold these guys to two hits today,” replied Fromme.

Art Fromme.

The Giants were opposing the Pirates. Fromme went well for two innings and then began to slip. He issued two walks and struck a fellow, filling the bases. Then Wagner stepped to the plate and hit the first ball for a two-sacker. McGraw rushed frantically to the side lines and motioned Art to leave. As Fromme reached the bench McGraw turned sarcastically to him and remarked:

“So you paint your feet to keep them from getting yellow, do you? Say, go in the clubhouse and paint a ring of iodine around your neck.”

Value of Our Horses.

There are about one hundred and ninety-one million animals in the United States and they are worth, roughly, six billion dollars. Is it any wonder that science has become interested in animals. There are approximately twenty-one million horses in the country, representing an investment of two billion, three hundred million dollars. The despised mule may not be so despised when you consider that he represents five hundred and sixty million dollars of our total wealth and that his kind numbers about four million five hundred thousand.—Popular Science Monthly.

The Rule.

“You must never forget, my boy, that about one-third of all success is pure luck.”

“But how can you make sure of this luck?”

“Why, by being successful.”—Life.

The Net Result.

“Did you raise anything on your promise to pay?”

“Oh, yes; I raised a smile.”

A Will of Nineteen Words.

In one of the shortest wills on record, James H. Darling, who died on December 3, 1915, cuts off his sons with but $1 each and leaves all the rest of his estate to his daughter. The testament, which is dated February 10, 1910, was filed in the Orphans' court. It contains nineteen words, as follows:

“After death, I will my daughter, Annie C. Darling, all my money and belongings, except $1 to my sons.”—Baltimore News.

Simple Job and the Fancy Bill. “Your bill doesn't square with what you told me before I went to the hospital, doctor.”

“What's the matter?”

“You insisted that it was to be just a simple little operation and there was nothing at all to be alarmed at.”—Detroit Free Press.

Personally Considerate.

Kitty—Reggy Soft is continually patting himself on the back, isn't he?

Peggy—Yes; the dear boy is so kind to dumb animals.

Three Hundred Million Bushel Crop in 1915

Farmers pay for their land with one year's crop and prosperity was never so great.

Regarding Western Canada as a grain producer, a prominent business man says: “Canada's position today is sounder than ever. There is more wheat, more oats, more grain for feed, 20% more cattle than last year and more hogs. The war market in Europe needs our surplus. As for the wheat crop, it is marvelous and a monument of strength for business confidence to build upon, exceeding the most optimistic predictions.”

Wheat averaged in 1915 over 25 bushels per acre
Oats averaged in 1915 over 45 bushels per acre
Barley averaged in 1915 over 40 bushels per acre

Prices are high, markets convenient, excellent land, low in price either improved or otherwise, ranging from $12 to $30 per acre. Free homestead lands are plentiful and not far from railway lines and convenient to good schools and churches. The climate is healthful.

There is no war tax on land, nor is there any conscription. For complete information as to best locations for settlement, reduced railroad rates and descriptive illustrated pamphlet, address Superintendent Immigration, Ottawa, or
