WHERE WOMEN SELECT MATE

In New Guinea It is Considered Beneath the Dignity of Men to Take Time to Court.

So far as proposals of marriage are concerned, in New Guinea it is always leap-year, for in that island the men consider it beneath their dignity to notice women, much less to make overtures of marriage. Consequently, the proposing is left to the women to do.

When the ebony belle falls in love with a man she sends a piece of string to his sister, or, if he has no sister, to his mother, or another of his lady relatives.

Then the lady who receives the string tells the dusky brave that the particular damsel is in love with him. No courting follows, however, for it is considered beneath a New Guinea gentleman's dignity to waste time in such a pursuit.

If the man thinks he would like to wed the lady, he meets her alone, and they decide straight away whether to marry or drop the idea.

In the former case the betrothal is announced. The man is then branded on the back with charcoal, while it mark is cut into the woman's skin.

No breach-of-promise actions are possible in New Guinea, though if the lady is jilted her friends may hunt her lover up and "go" for him. On the other hand, if the dark damsel proved faithless, she is liable to be eaten by her betrothed if he catches her.

SOME FORMS OF HYPNOTISM

Many May Be Known to the Readers, While Others Have a Flavor That is New.

Hypnotizing a hen is a trick known to most country boys. It is an old experiment, first described by the Jesuit Father Athanasius Kircher, who laid a hen on the table, held it firmly for a little while, and drew a chalk-line in front of its eyes, with the result that it remained as if in catalepsy.

In India it is known that a cobra caught by the neck and gently pressed will soon become stiff and remain so for a considerable time, either coiled up or out straight.

A frog fastened to a board and turned suddenly upside down goes into a trance. Other animals are susceptible to this treatment, some more quickly than others.

If you pick up a crab and wave it in the air it becomes immobile, a female bending her legs over her abdomen, a male sticking them out almost straight. The same is true of the fresh-water crayfish, only this resists for a much longer time than the crab. Among the insects catalepsy—commonly known as "death feigning"—is common, and, according to Prof. Ernest Mangold, the learned naturalist, is often a means of saving the life of the insect.

Fellow Feeling.

Mr. Landry, a wealthy though miserly man, was one day relating to a Quaker a tale of deep distress and concluded by saying:
 "I could not but feel for him."
 "Verily, friend," replied the Quaker, "thou didst right in that thou didst feel for thy neighbor, but didst thou feel in the right place? Didst thou feel in thy pocket?"

JOHNSON IS ELECTED HARDEST MAN TO HIT

Walter Johnson's right to the title of king of pitchers has been confirmed, and by a vote of the batters who awarded him the palm, casting fifty-two votes in his favor as against fifty-one for Grover Alexander.

The balloting started during the off-season and has just been completed, each hitter picking the six best pitchers he ever faced. The total number of batters voting from both leagues was 114. With six votes each, the total was 684 cast. Seventy pitchers, old and young, figured in the voting, and here are twelve hurlers in each major league who received ten or more votes:

PLAYING BASEBALL AND GOLF

Novel Theoretical Comparison Made on Driving Gutta Percha Sphere and Hitting Ball.

Someone has started comparisons between golf and baseball. Ty Cobb, says a man who knows both golf and baseball, can knock a baseball 400 feet. Jerome Travers can drive a golf ball 350 yards, or 1,050 feet, about two and a half times as far. The fan proceeds theoretically to the conclusion that Ty Cobb would have to be twice his present size, were he to obtain the driving power to send a baseball from a bat as far as "Jerry" sends the gutta percha sphere. Cobb, continues the theorist, measures 5 feet 11 inches in height and weighs 180 pounds. To equal the golf drive he would have to be 14 feet 9 inches tall and weigh 450 pounds. He'd wear a 17 1/2 cap instead of a 7, a 20 shoe instead of an 8, and a 5 1/2-inch collar instead of a 15. He would also have to use a bat 8 feet 4 inches long and 6 1/4 inches thick.

WILHOIT IS IMPROVING FAST

RUTH IS MAINSTAY OF BOSTON PITCHERS

Southpaw Twirler Who is Keeping Red Sox Up in Race.

Babe Ruth's good left arm is doing its share to keep the crippled Boston Red Sox, holders of the world championship, from falling to pieces in the present flag campaign. The Babe rang up his third shut-out victory of the year when he tamed Fohl's Cleveland Indians, 5 to 0, the triumph giving him a record of 8 wins in 11 starts. In the 102 1-3 innings he worked the Boston sidewheeler allowed 68 hits and 24 runs.

Ruth started with a rush, copping four straight engagements, bowling over the Athletics twice and Washington and New York each once. Washington stopped him May 1 and Cleveland walloped him May 10, but Babe came back and won two straight from St. Louis and Detroit, then lost another to the Yanks.

COZY DOLAN'S LAST REQUEST

Frank Bancroft, Not Being a Fish, Was Unable to Comply With Wish of Drowning Player.

"What I think was the richest thing I ever heard," says Tom Clarke, "came off on a storm-tossed ship on the Pacific ocean, when Bancroft's all-star tourists were making a jump by boat last fall. It was right in the midst of danger and apparent tragedy, too, and yet it was so good that the whole crowd of us belloped with delight.

"A fearful storm, a regular typhoon, struck us far out at sea, and the situation grew decidedly serious. Tons of water were coming aboard every moment; the ship was wallowing and reeling, and the captain was ordering all hands to get the boats ready. The players were all clustered on the deck, and, just as the boat was bounding madly, Cozy Dolan managed to make his way to old Frank Bancroft.

"Banny, Banny," shrieked Dolan, through the roaring of the storm, 'this ship is sinking, sure! Listen to me, Banny—will you tell my folks at home that I died game?"

 "And Banny, clinging to a railing, whopped back: 'What? Me tell your folks you died game? What do you take me for—a fish?'"

Tough Game to Lose.

It was a tough game the White Sox lost to the Athletics on May 19. Eleven innings and not a run scored. Strunk was passed, McInnes sacrificed and then Lajoie was purposely passed, only to have Pick come through with a single. McInnes saved the game for Bush in the eleventh with a wonderful one-hand catch off Leibold when the Sox had two on bases and two out.

Barry Meets Honus Wagner.

Jack Barry never had met Hans Wagner until he arrived at Hot Springs this spring. He immediately asked to be introduced. "I consider him the greatest ball player the game has ever known, and consider it an honor to shake his hand," said the second baseman of the Red Sox.

Indians Thrill Fans.

Cleveland may not win a pennant for many dreary years to come, but the Indians have certainly given the fans of the Ohio metropolis a great thrill, and caused them, at least temporarily, to cherish a mighty hope.

Dauss in Record Class.

George Dauss, pitching his first game for Detroit on the team's eastern trip, managed to get in the record class along with other Tiger pitchers. He gave ten bases on balls, yet allowed but two runs.

DIAMOND NOTES

The wilder the pitcher the easier he's tamed.

As between Baker and a novice, Connie Mack took his pick.

When it comes to a showdown few ball players can show up an umpire.

Manager Joe Tinker wants a second baseman and doesn't care who knows it.

Manager Herzog of the Reds is anxious to get Joe Connolly, the Braves' outfielder.

A pitcher avoids walks to get out of a hole. A golfer walks to get from one to another.

The gent who undertakes to lengthen his nights usually succeeds in shortening his days.

Lehigh has a Yip who is anything but like the name. He is a Chinaman and the star of the team.

Dick Lawry, University of Maine second baseman, has been signed by Connie Mack for the Athletics.

Isn't it about time some major league magnate was giving Jack Knight a chance to make good?

Guy Morton's winning streak was broken by the White Sox after he had annexed eight straight victories.

Big league scouts are keeping close watch on Connie Mack's infield. It will soon be old enough to graduate.

Baseball scouts who find funds for their employers haven't got a thing on the umpires who later fine the funds.

Manager Griffith of Washington would take Fournier off Manager Rowland's hands provided he could make a deal.

Packard is proving one of the most consistent winners on the Cub staff. He will be better as the season advances.

A Little Rock grocer has been fined $50 for baiting a ball player. He ought to go into business with Ty Cobb's butcher.

The Brooklyn Robins are going to try out a pitcher named Wurm of St. Francis college. Another case of the early bird.

The fact that Ping Bodie is clouting .309 in the Pacific coast league isn't sensational. The thrill came when Ping stole a base.

Lakoff of Dayton is the Central league's winning pitcher and the Vets are sure to count another game won when he goes in the box.

Pitcher Guy Morton hails from Waterbury, but that doesn't account for his long wind-up. Right now he's the whole works for Cleveland.

Benny Kauff was caught off first base three times in a game the other day. Benny reminds us of Ty Cobb—when he's walking to the plate.

Jeff Tesreau rises to remark that the first time he ever saw a major league ball team was when the St. Louis Browns visited Fredericksburg, Mo. G'wan, Jeff, quit your kiddin'!

Job for Photographer.
 "I want yer to take a picture of our Joe here," said the fond parent to the country photographer.
 Joseph was requested to stand in a certain attitude and look towards the photographer. That gentleman's speciality was quick developing, and in a short space of time a negative was placed in the mother's hand. She looked at it very uneasily for some time, and then remarked:
 "I seen a notice in the window there to say you can do photos to customer's desire, so I'd be obliged to yer if you could put another face on Joe. You see, it's to be sent with an advertisement which said 'they wanted a boy, smart-looking and honest.'"

"DELICIOUS!"

A New Use For This Word

The New Post Toasties are truly entitled to the word "delicious."

They're distinguished by the tiny bubbles found on each flake and they carry the full, rich flavour of choice, white Indian corn—not found in corn flakes of the past.

And unlike common corn flakes, they are not "chaffy" in the package and don't grow mushy in milk or cream.

Note carefully the tiny bubbles—then try a hand-dry to test the flavour. In comparison, other corn flakes are as "chaffy."

New Post Toasties
 Sold by Grocers everywhere.
