1916 NATIONAL PARK SUMMER

You can cover the West's magnificent Rockies in one grand tour on the $35 Glacier Park excursion ticket from Eastern and Central Nebraska going one way via Denver. Our new Denver-Billings Central Wyoming main line takes you alongside Rock Mountain National Estes Park, alongside Yellowstone Park.

A 700 MILE MOUNTAIN PANORAMA, from Colorado to the Yellowstone along the Eastern slope of continuous mountain chains. On this circuit you can, by detours, make the tour through Estes Park or through Yellowstone via Cody, the automobile scenic entrance.

Our through service routes to Denver, Billings, Cody, Gardiner or Glacier and between Denver and the Yellowstone can be combined into a sweeping scenic mountain tour that embraces more grandeur at lower rates than any scenic tour on earth.

Let me help you plan a "See America" tour that you will remember all your life.

Items of Interest Gleaned from Our Exchanges

Bancroft Blade: C. L. Culler of Hartington visited relatives here last Friday.

Salix Items in Sloan, Ia., Star: Joe McElphree, of Sergeant Bluff, was a business caller in Salix Monday.

Wayne Democrat: Miss Fern Oman went to Dakota City Saturday morning to spend the week-end with her friend, Miss Helen Graham.

Dixon Tribune: R. Taylor, who has been assisting on the Journal for some time past, returned home to South Sioux City last Saturday.

Allen News: Clarence Hart went to Crystal Lake Saturday for a week's outing. Mrs. Hans Anderson and two children, of Homer, are guests at the Frank Hale home.

Wynot Tribune: Mrs. E. J. Morin was a passenger to her old home at Dakota City Monday. Mrs. H. A. McCormick returned Monday evening from a week's visit at South Sioux City.

Wakefield Republican: Mrs. H. J. Walden of Dakota City, has been visiting the past ten days at the home of Mrs. Julia Long. Her grandson, Kenneth Walden, was here a few days, going home Monday.

Winnepago Chieftain: Miss Georgia Mansfield of Homer was in town on Wednesday. Miss Helen Niebuhr went to Dakota City on Tuesday to visit relatives. E. W. Rossiter and family with W. C. Fritz and family picniced at Crystal Lake Sunday. Mr. Oscar Christensen and family with Tom Kemmie autoed to Crystal Lake Sunday.

Sioux City Journal, 23rd: A bathhouse to cost approximately $15,000 is to be erected at Crystal Lake by the Crystal Lake Hotel company, according to an announcement made yesterday by Ira Howard, manager of the company. An architect has been employed to draw the plans and the foundation for the structure probably will be put in this fall. The bathhouse will be erected at Crystal Lake, opposite the company's hotel. This year the lake has been visited by more persons than ever before in its history and the present bathhouse of the company was too small to take care of the bathers.

Tekamah Herald: The Herald editor, who was appointed one of a committee by the officers of the Pioneers and Old Settlers Association to secure a speaker for their annual reunion and picnic, is pleased to announce that ex U. S. Marshal Wm. P. Warner of Dakota County has kindly consented to address our people on that occasion. Mr. Warner is well known to many Burt County people, being a son of Gideon Warner, one of the early pioneers in Dakota County. He is a Nebraska product who has made good in every position which he has been called upon to fill and he will undoubtedly give an interesting talk on this occasion.

Ponca Journal: The Mahon Bros. of Dakota county were hauling corn to the Ponca market Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Clay Armbright, of Dakota City, spent Sunday at the Fred Rogosh home. Mr. and Mrs. Jack McQuillen and family and Jack Magierien spent Sunday at Crystal Lake. Wednesday our decrepid combination freight and passenger train ran off the track at Coburn while making the trip to Sioux City in the morning, causing some two hours delay, the accident was caused by spreading rails. While making the return trip in the evening dragging the special coach of Superintendent E. C. Blundell it was necessary to make three quarters hour stop again at Coburn for the purpose of replacing a brass contraption on one of the wheels under the tender. We only wished that the Superintendent's car had been on the morning train also and then possibly he would have a slight idea of the conditions under which passengers, on this line, travel so frequently.

Sioux City Journal, the 24th: In two raids Saturday night in South Sioux City, Nebr., Sheriff Geo. Cain and Deputy Sheriff John Hileman, of Dakota City, Nebr., and Chief of Police G. Patton, of South Sioux City, arrested fifteen persons and seized gambling devices and a quantity of beer.

The first place visited was that of the Owl club, over the Devore pool hall. Three and one-half cases of beer and some gambling material were taken. John Syble and W. M. Williams were arrested and charged with the sale of intoxicating liquor. Clifford Fause, Harry Phillips, Chas. Hermann, Chester Leary, C. H. Sherlock and William Mitchell were arrested for gambling. Bond was furnished in each case.

The Mabel Moore place in Main street, owned by Selzer Bros., gave up six and one-half cases of beer, a quantity of empty bottles and seven persons. Mrs. George King was arrested and charged with illegal sale of intoxicating liquor and with keeping a house of prostitution. George King, E. G. Saling, James Harring, R. T. Williams, L. B. Stone and Mrs. L. B. Stone were arrested and charged with disturbing the peace and drunkenness. Bond was furnished in each case.

At 10 o'clock this morning in the police court of South Sioux City, Nebr., the trials will be held.

Ponca Advocate: Miss Bell Klarman spent Sunday in South Sioux City with her parents. The Nate Taylor family moved to South Sioux City Monday to make their home. James King of Homer was here on business last Friday. Mr. King has just returned from California. Mrs. E. Brewer went to Jackson last Saturday to spend Sunday with Mr. Brewer who is working near there. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Auge and Kenneth are enjoying a week camping at Crystal Lake, going down last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartells and children from Hubbard visited at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Frank Wednesday evening. Miss Clara Cook attended a "house party" at the home of the Misses Eva and Helen Graham at Dakota City Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Outing parties at Crystal Lake formed part of the entertainment indulged in by the guests. The Misses Helen Newton, Freda Frank, Virginia Mikesell, Marion Hurley, Katherine McQuillen, Esther Schmidt, Mildred Barker, and Byrle Burke have been camping at Crystal Lake this week. The were chaperoned by Mrs. Chas. Auge. Geo. W. Sheibley of Sioux City and Wm. Sheibley of Ashfork, Arizona, brothers of the late Thos. J. Sheibley, visited here over Sunday at the home of Mrs. Sarah Sheibley and daughter. It lacked just one month of being fifty-one years since these two brothers had met, until they met here last week. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Boals of Dallas, Oregon, who have been visiting at the homes of Mrs. Emmett Heald, Mrs. L. M. Douthitt, and Mrs. M. DeWitt, who are sisters of Mrs. Boals, for some time, left for South Sioux City Thursday noon, to visit a few days after which they will start on their homeward journey. They have had a great trip, traveling from the coast since leaving home. They left New York City on May 7th for Nebraska. They visited a son in Pittsburg, and principal cities and places of interest enroute. The hottest weather was experienced in Nebraska.

Sioux City Journal, 25: A Cole eight touring car awaits an owner in a livery barn at South Sioux City, according to a report filed with the Sioux City police yesterday by Chief of Police G. Patton, of South Sioux City. The machine was left on the street Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the chief had it removed to a stable. The car carries an Iowa license tag. J. C. Stading, a farmer, living four miles west of Dakota City, Neb., notified the police that someone, two days ago, parked a Buick touring car in front of his place and had failed to call for it. The machine, he reported, carries an Iowa license tag. Since no one had called for it, Stading became convinced that the car had been stolen and abandoned. During the absence of the family Sunday afternoon, burglars entered the home of Mrs. S. B. Short, who lives two miles west of the railroad station at South Sioux City and got away with a small sum of money and several articles of jewelry, including a gold watch, rings and brooches. The Sioux City police have been asked to aid in the capture of the burglars. The partial rounding up of an organized gang of bicycle thieves which was accomplished yesterday by the police with the arrest of Charles Martin, 20 years old, of Sioux City, and Jess Keith, 17 years old, of South Sioux City, Neb., was the result of a tip by an unknown woman over the telephone. Late Saturday afternoon Capt. George Overmire heard a woman's voice over the wire when he answered a call. She informed him that she could furnish information that would lead to the arrest of the men who were stealing bicycles over the city. She said she knew of a dozen or more wheels that had been stolen by the gang. As a result of the information Martin was placed under arrest Sunday and in police court was found guilty of larceny and fined $100. He went to the county jail for thirty days in default of payment. Yesterday Keith

Forage in the Sand Hills

Alfalfa can be grown in most sections of the sand hills country, according to work done at the Valentine substation, and it is recommended that where possible it should be made to take the place of intertilled forage crops, because it would do away with the danger of soil blowing. It is also of more value than any other forage crop that can be grown. Experiments have shown that for that section of country alfalfa exceeds all clovers, including sweet clover, in its adaptability to the conditions found there, and that it is more valuable than any of them and costs less to seed.

Sweet clover has been found more adapted to hardpan lands than to sand hills lands.

Alfalfa and red clover, especially the former, are well adapted to wet valley meadow conditions, and when sown in with native grasses are valuable for increasing the protein element in native hay.

Slender wheat, brome, and western wheat grasses are the only grasses that succeed in making stands under dry soil conditions on cultivated ground at the substation. None of them made much hay, and it is questionable if it is profitable to attempt grass growing on any but wet valley bottoms under the prevailing was picked up by the detective department and will be arranged on a similar charge this morning. Keith was married a month ago at South Sioux City and his 16-year-old bride visited him at the police station yesterday afternoon. For nearly two hours yesterday attorneys for the members of the Owl club, of South Sioux City, who were arrested Saturday night by Chief of Police G. Patton, Sheriff George Cain and Deputy Sheriff John Hileman when the clubrooms over the Devore pool hall were raided, argued a motion for a change of venue to Dakota City before Justice of the Peace Martin Maloney. At noon the justice adjourned court announcing that he would announce his decision this morning. It is expected that a compromise will be reached by the attorneys, and that the case will be heard by Justice of the Peace D. O. Welch, of South Sioux City. The information charges John Syble and W. M. Williams with the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor, and Clifford Fause, Harry Phillips, Charles Hermann, Chester Leary, C. H. Sherlock and William Mitchell with gambling. In the raid, three and a half cases of beer and several gambling devices were seized. The officers allege that gambling was in progress when they entered the place. No prosecutions will be made in the case of Bertha Taylor, alias Mrs. B. King, and the men and women arrested when the raid was made were released today and given until 6 o'clock tonight to get out of South Sioux City.

Recipe for Canning Corn

Sweet corn should be canned the same day that it is picked. After removing the husk and silk, blanch the corn (before cutting from the cob) in boiling water from 5 to 15 minutes. Blanching is done by placing the corn in a wire basket or cheesecloth and plunging into hot water, or better still by steaming the corn. Blanching will make the texture more firm. Next plunge the corn quickly into cold water. Then cut the corn from the cob and pack tightly in jars until full. Add a level teaspoonful of salt to each quart and sufficient hot water to fill all crevices. Then put on the rubbers and tops and partially tighten the tops. Place the jars in a large wash boiler or kettle containing a false bottom. The water should come over the tops of the jars. Boil three hours. The false bottom may consist of wooden slats or any suitable material which will prevent the jars from coming in direct contact with the heated metal. After boiling, allow the water to cool partially, remove from the bath, tighten the lids, and invert to cool. If the wash boiler method is not used, boil 90 minutes in a water-seal outfit, 60 minutes under 5 pounds of steam, or 35 minutes under 20 pounds of steam.—Department of Home Economics, University of Nebraska.

Care of Tires

Buy a tire tester. It will cost about $1.

To prevent rim cutting and broken down fabric, keep tires inflated to the following pressure: 3 inch tire, 60 pounds; 3 1/2 inch, 70 pounds; 4 inch, 80 pounds; 4 1/2 inch, 90 pounds; 5 inch, 100 pounds.

Seal all cuts in rubber either with tire dough or by vulcanization. This is important to prevent moisture and sand from reaching the fabric.

When not in use keep tires in a cool dark place.

Do not start or stop the car suddenly.

Do not turn corners at a high rate of speed.

Be sure the front wheels are parallel.

Do not allow oil to get on the tires.

Do not use too much or too little talc in the tires. Too little causes the tubes to stick while too much causes a gradual accumulation into a solid lump which is a frequent cause of a puncture.

Do not put a tire on a rusted rim.—College of Agriculture.
