Wm. P. Warner, republican candidate for congress, was present at a meeting of the Thurston county republican organization last week at Walthill, and the Times makes the following comments on his talk at the meeting:

"Mr. Warner was asked to talk to the meeting and did so informally, without making a speech, and reviewed somewhat the character of the sentiment he found over the district, referring less to his own candidacy for congress than to the general situation. Everywhere he has been he has found the republicans united and confident, even enthusiastic. Mr. Warner was very modest in reference to himself and refrained from any aspersions against his opponent, stating that he did not underestimate his strength in the district, his capacity for organizing and campaigning. He made no boasts further than to say that Mr. Stephens would not roll up such a majority in the district as he did two years ago. Mr. Warner did not give the impression that the reduction would be due to his strength as a vote getter, but from the fact that the present congressman has lost much of the confidence of the voters throughout the district.

Saco, Mont., on the Map

Washington, Aug. 1st.—Gangway please, and make a place on your Rand-McNally for a little town of Saco, Mont., with a population of two hundred, as per the 1910 census report.

Saco has thirty-two of its male citizens serving with Co. G, Second Montana Infantry, now on the border, and another stalwart son living at Peking, China, as a member of the United States Marine Corps.

"If New York, Chicago and Philadelphia could be induced to give their sons in the same proportion," writes W. D. Miller, editor of the Saco Independent to the Marine Corps officials in this city, "we'd have some real preparedness."

But in the meantime Saco wants to cast considerable shadow from its new place in the sun.

Women's Rural Short Course

A rural short course in home economics will be conducted by Miss Aurel Scott, of the University of Nebraska, at the Dakota City Salem church, beginning at 1:30 p. m. on Tuesday, August 15th, and closing on Friday afternoon of the same week. Owing to the busy season, the customary morning sessions will be dispensed with and the afternoon sessions will begin promptly at 1:30 and close at 5 o'clock.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend these meetings, which in all probability will be the only ones of this nature held in this county this year.

Miss Scott comes especially well qualified and just at the outset of the canning season, and this work will be of exceptional value to the housewives of the community.

This short course has been arranged to be a forerunner for a mixed short course in meat cutting and curing.

M. E. Church Notes.

Services will be held on Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The Pastor will preach at both services. A cordial invitation is given to all.

We are glad to announce that Rev. C. N. Martin will preach here on the evening of August 27th. Dr. Martin is the secretary of our hospital at Omaha. He does not come to solicit subscriptions, but to speak more particularly of the spiritual value of this work. We speak for him a good audience.

Will the members who have contributed to the hospital in the way of provisions kindly hand their receipts to the Pastor so that we may get proper credit at conference.

We have set aside Wednesday, August 23rd as our annual membership evening. An interesting program will be arranged. It is expected that every member will be present. The present program will be in your hands in due course.

F. J. AUCOCK, Pastor.
